JOHNSTONS, 729, 731 7th St. SIX YEARS OVER A CENTURY To-day is the Anniversary of the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

Long List of Noted Divines Has Preceded Over It and Its Growth Has Been Marvelous. To-day is a great event among the Catholics of the Archdiocese of Baltimore. The see was founded 106 years ago today by Pope Pius VI, who selected a pastor of Montgomery county, Md., the Rev. John Carroll, as its first incumbent.

Father Carroll was an ex-Jesuit priest, the Society of Jesus having been temporarily suppressed by Pope Clement XIV. in 1773, a laicist of Upper Marlboro, Prince Georges' county, Md., who had been appointed ecclesiastical superior of the clergy in the United States during 1774, with the rank of vicar general, and who received consecration as bishop of Baltimore at Lyons, France, August 15, 1789.

He was the founder of Georgetown College, in this city, and raised the see of Baltimore until December 3, 1815, when he died at the advanced age of 80 years. In December, 1819, Rome gave him a coadjutor, or assistant, in the person of Rev. Leonard Neale, a native of Charles county, Md., who survived him two years; in December, 1821, Rome gave him a coadjutor, or assistant, in the person of Rev. Benedict Flaget, being consecrated by Archbishop Carroll in Baltimore during October and November, 1820.

The bishop appointed by Rome for New York, Rev. Luke Conner, of the Dominican Order, died at Naples, Italy, after receiving consecration at Rome, and never leaving the city. His successor, John Connolly, also a Dominican, was soon after elected, and is now in Italy, in reality, the first bishop of that diocese.

The present cardinal-archbishop of Baltimore, James Gibbons, was appointed archbishop by Pope Gregory XVI. on August 22, 1820, and succeeded him on his death, October 3, 1827. He became a cardinal in 1839, and died in New York City, October 3, 1877.

THEIR TROUBLES ENDED Wedding Crowns the Romance of Miss Hislop and Mr. White. WED IN SPITE OF OBSTACLES

Rev. Dr. Patch, of Gunton Temple Church, performed the ceremony and the young couple make their plans—Dr. Hislop Released on Bond to Appear in Court. Mr. J. K. White and Miss Gertrude Hislop were married yesterday.

After four years of repression, love triumphed in the end and the ceremony was solemnized in the midst of friends and flowers. Dr. William L. Hislop, a well known dentist and brother of Mrs. Dr. Margaret Hislop, of No. 313 M street northwest, was arrested at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister, Miss Gertrude, at No. 1132 Tenth street last night, the wedding being the sequel of the arrest of Dr. William L. Hislop, and the flight from home of Miss Gertrude Hislop, as published exclusively in The Evening Times of yesterday.

White says that during the time the brother was trying to prevent him from coming, Miss Gertrude, the sister, followed him about the streets, harassed him at his work, and even sat in the pew with him in church in order that he might not leave his sister. The sister, however, was active in spreading reports about him.

WOODEN POLES UNSIGHTLY Columbia Heights Citizens Want Trolley Masts Removed. Unimproved Streets and Garbage Disposal and Several New Members Elected at Their Meeting.

Columbia Heights Citizens' Association met last evening at St. Stephen's Parish Hall, Fourteenth street, above Columbia avenue. There was a large attendance and President Ballinger was in the chair.

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting being dispensed with, Dr. Staveley called the attention of the association to the bad condition of Tenth street in front of Garfield Hospital. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and alleys and Dr. Staveley asked to act in conjunction with the committee in its investigation of the case.

Resolved, That the executive of the association be authorized to use its best efforts with the honorable Commissioners and Congress to the end that the unsightly and dangerous wooden poles erected by the Brightwood Railway Company on each side of Kenyon street between Seventh and Fourteenth streets, Columbia Heights, may be removed without unnecessary delay and an underground system introduced for heat iron poles be erected in the middle of the street to take the places of the wooden poles.
