Nine Realty Men Pledge to Help Find Apartments for African Diplomats

By WILLIAM DUKE
Star Staff Writer

The pressure on the State Department to find adequate housing for African diplomats here was eased somewhat yesterday by pledges of co-operation from several of the city's leading real estate firms.

But the underlying problem of showing the foreign Negro official that the United States is really interested in the welfare of his nation can only be solved when racial prejudice is eliminated in the District. This, in substance, was the lesson learned yesterday when Government officials explained their problems to 56 realty men and apartment house owners at a special session in the State Department conference room.

The results came quickly. Three apartment house owners pledged immediate support in finding suitable apartments for high African officials.

Six others joined them in forming a committee which will seek the support of other property owners in the Northwest. Several of these operators said that they would take the next step and end discrimination against all Negroes in at least some of their apartment buildings.

President Concerned

The real estate men at the session were told that President Kennedy was deeply interested in solving the housing problems of African diplomats in Washington. Harris Wofford, special assistant to the President, told the meeting, "There is no subject on which the President feels more deeply than this one."

But despite the formation of the committee and the messages of urgency from State

Many Owners Won't Rent to Any Diplomat

Life on the diplomatic circuit isn't all caviar and champagne—especially if you're an apartment house manager. State Department officials were told yesterday.

The officials were trying to get Washington real estate men to help them solve the problem of finding adequate housing for African diplomats. A survey of apartment houses in the higher rent districts showed that many owners didn't want diplomats—African or otherwise—in their buildings.

One owner said, "We had one diplomat once... but afterwards had to scrub for weeks to get the apartment clean."

"We can't have diplomats," another said. "They entertain lavishly with caterers and orchestras until 2 a.m."

Capital Tradition

Angier Biddle Duke, State Department chief of protocol, explained, "This sort of attitude is traditional in all the capitals of the world. A few diplomats spoil it for the rest."

The problem? Tighe E. Woods, chairman of the diplomatic housing committee of the Washington Real Estate Board, answered: "Diplomatic immunity, and the custom of moving diplomats from post to post at frequent intervals."

Mr. Woods explained that apartment owners are unable to sue diplomats for breaking a lease or the living room sofa because they receive immunity from local laws. The same thing applies to American diplomats in foreign countries.

Another Reason

Another real estate man explained the second reason: "Diplomats move every 18 months, and we can't afford to redecorate that often."

Faced with these statements, Mr. Duke said, "We have to admit that securing proper housing for African diplomats is a problem not only of racial discrimination but of diplomat discrimination as well."

"We know this but at the same time," he added, "we don't want apartment house owners to use this as an excuse for not taking African officials into their buildings."

expected to say that this country is always ready to negotiate for a solution of the Berlin problem when some reasonable basis for negotiations can be developed.

The note is understood, however, to make no specific proposal for negotiation. Authorities here, it is said, see little to negotiate about in the present position of the Soviet government on Berlin.

Mr. Khrushchev has demanded that Western powers permit West Berlin to be designated a "free city" under some kind of international guarantees.

The Western powers have rejected this demand repeatedly and Mr. Khrushchev has threatened to wipe out their rights to be in West Berlin and to move supplies across East Germany by making a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

Khrushchev Stresses Red China Friendship

MOSCOW, July 7 (AP).—An ostentatious display of friendship between the Soviet Union and Red China was staged last night in the Kremlin.

Premier Khrushchev proposed a toast to friendship and then made a point of clinking glasses with Chen Yi, foreign minister of Red China, who is in Moscow on his way home from the Geneva conference on Laos. Mr. Chen Yi responded to Mr. Khrushchev's overture and both drank the toast.

This display took place against the background of speculation abroad that there is a deepening rift between the Soviet Union and Red China.

The occasion for the display was a formal reception for Premier Kim Il Sung of North Korea. A few hours earlier the Soviet Union and North Korea signed a military treaty under which the Soviet Union promised to come to the aid of North Korea in any emergency. The treaty was interpreted by some Westerners as a slap at

Integration Cleric Puts Issue Ahead Of World Crisis

America should clean its own back yard first and then concern itself with foreign affairs, a Southern integration leader said last night.

There is no point in clashing with Russia over Berlin, 4,000 miles away, while overlooking the fact that Mississippi "is setting itself up as a concentration camp for some Americans who ride through in dignity," said the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth of Birmingham, Ala.

Speaking at the closing session of the Fraternal Council of Churches meeting here, Mr. Shuttlesworth, who led the bus integration fight in Montgomery five years ago, said that only by making democracy work within its borders can America qualify to lead a world of free men.

Pact Surprise To South Korea

SEOUL, Korea, July 7 (AP).—Officials of South Korea's military government expressed surprise today at the new Soviet-North Korean mutual defense treaty. They said relations between the two Communist countries are such that "no military pact is needed."

One official who declined to be quoted by name said there must be some connection with the establishment of a new regime in South Korea. The same view was expressed by some Japanese officials in Tokyo.

The ruling junta said it would have no official comment until Moscow's announcement was studied carefully.

The newspaper Chosun Ilbo called for the government to "reappraise our anti-Communist position and improve and strengthen some weak points in the 1953 United States-Korea mutual security pact."

"At the same time," the paper said, "we must make efforts to establish as soon as possible a Northeast Asia collective security system."

(Official Washington, reported surprised by the announcement of the pact, studied it for the possibility that it reflected a deepening rift between Moscow and Red China, and also for indications of a possible bearing on Premier Khrushchev's maneuvers regarding Berlin.)

In Tokyo, Japanese Foreign Ministry officials interpreted the Communist pact as a sign of North Korea's promotion to full-fledged status in the Communist world.

Japanese officials were not surprised at the pact, pointing out that North Korea has backed Moscow in ideological wrangles with Peiping. They dismissed as a repetition of the Moscow line Premier Khrushchev's statement that the pact was partly a result of United States-Japan security treaty and that Japan "grovels before the imperialists of the United States."

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Appears Every Friday by L. P. Safford

To be sure, scientists have found the way to smash the Atom, but they have never found the simple truth of what holds the tiny particles of the Atom together. Once, while listening to Dr. Leo Chestnut delivering an address on the Atom, I was impressed by this lack of information. But this fine Christian lecturer was not stumped, he simply flashed Colossion Ch. 1 V 17 on the screen "By Him all things consist." The Word of God has the answer. Read this whole chapter for real soul enlightenment. This chapter sets forth so vividly that Christ is at the center of all creation, literally holding it together. We all need a closer walk with Him and a better knowledge of His plan for our life. He desires everyone to repent and be saved for eternity. (Luke 9 V 56 and John Ch. 3 V 17). Read both these wonderful chapters. Humbly seek Him as your Saviour if you haven't already done so! Pray the penitent prayer "God be merciful to me a sinner." Accept the power of His Blood for the remission of your sins. The Holy Spirit will come in and minister peace to your soul. There is no other way, do it today without delay! Read your Bible and have daily family prayer. Be an enthusiastic church member, but church membership alone is not enough. Christianity lived and practiced in our daily life is our strongest force against communism. A strong America will be a Christian America. Write me for free non-doctrinal Daily Bible Reading Record.
