

ENGLISH VICAR
WINNER OF V. C.

Braves German Shell-fire to Rescue Wounded
Tommy.

London, Nov. 8.—This is the tale of how Rev. Theodore Bailey Hardy, once a schoolmaster, and lately vicar of the country parish of Hutton Roof in the county of Westmorland, won the Victoria Cross. He was more than 50 years of age. Nevertheless, when the call came, he stepped down from his pulpit, and went out to minister to a greater need in France.

Here is the story in the words of a "sergeant":
"The Germans had been bombing us badly, and we had four wounded. We were obliged to withdraw some distance, but one of the men was so badly hurt that we had to leave him behind. He was lying about 10 yards on our side of a pill-box which we had taken in the morning, but which was now once more occupied by the enemy. Shortly after noon the padre came along, and asked me if I thought we could get the wounded men back. I told him that I thought we could; at the same time we would try. So we went to the spot where the man lay. He was too weak to stand up, but the padre gave him a drink of brandy, and this revived him a little. So that between us we were able to drag him to the trench where our men were. We had several tries before we could get him clear of the wood, as every 15 yards or so we had to rest him, he was so exhausted, and it was difficult to move him, his arm was so bad. I left him with the padre, and went back to my men in front.

Stays Under Fire.
"Later we were ordered to withdraw and when we came to our own trench the padre was still sitting where he had been, though the trench mortars were shelling the trench."
A little after 6 o'clock the padre returned to the regimental aid post, a mile behind Rosignol Wood, and asked for volunteers to bring the man back. There were four stretcher-bearers at the aid post, and they had been at work all day and were very tired. Their relief had arrived, but they volunteered as one man. At one of them put it: "We were glad to go, because the padre asked us." So the five of them went up to Rosignol Wood. They had work enough to reach the wood, but it was harder to come back, with that helpless burden on the stretcher, along a trench that was often waist-deep in mud and water. Three hours had passed, three anxious weary hours before their task was over.

LOCAL POSTAGE SALES
SHOW GREAT INCREASE
Postoffice Reports Advance Due to War Conditions.
The sales of stamped paper for October were 67 per cent more than in the corresponding month last year, officials of the City Postoffice announced in conference with the press today. These are in effect simple formal authorization of differentials which have been applied by the trade for several months. They will remain in effect until November 15, and may be continued even after the new basic prices are announced unless there is too great a change in these.

Meet to Adjust Prices
On Staple Cotton Cloth
Members of the war service committee of the cotton fabric industry are in conference with the price fixing committee of the War Industries Board to adjust the basic prices of staple cotton fabrics. The present prices expire November 13, and action must be had before that date.
Additional differentials for sheetings, twills, drills, carded cloth and combed cloths and pongees were announced by the price fixing committee today. These are in effect simple formal authorization of differentials which have been applied by the trade for several months. They will remain in effect until November 15, and may be continued even after the new basic prices are announced unless there is too great a change in these.

THEY'RE RAISING $170,500,000

Here's the campaign committee of the united war work campaign, which is raising $170,500,000 in a nation-wide drive for relief work among our troops in France. In the picture are, left to right, Archbishop Muldoon, representing the Knights of Columbus; Mrs. Henry P. Davidson, Y. W. C. A.; Dr. Frank T. Hill, American Library Association; Milton T. Herrick, War Camp Community Service; Commander Evangeline Booth, Salvation Army; Geo. W. Perkins, Y. M. C. A.; Mortimer L. Schiff, Jewish Welfare Board; Wm. P. Larkin, K. of C.

ALEXANDRIA

THE HERALD BUREAU,
178 King Street.

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 8.—Practically everything is in readiness for the big War Camp Community drive among the seven great agencies which will open Monday and be continued a week. Chaplains from Camp Humphreys, Va., will speak in a number of the churches Sunday in the interest of the big drive. The allotment for this city is $30,000.

The students of St. Mary's Academy, conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Cross, will take an active part in the campaign. Rev. Louis Smet, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, this morning addressed the students of that institution on the importance of raising the amount of money Alexandria is called upon for. About fifty girls, whose homes are in this city, organized the "Liberty Girls," each making a pledge to earn or contribute $5 before the end of the drive. Each "Liberty Girl" will place a flag in the window of her home to indicate that she is enlisted in the cause.

About half a carload of fruit stones have been collected here for the making of gas masks and are now stored in the basement of the rooms of the chamber of commerce. The collection was made under the direction of the Red Cross and is now stored in gunnysacks and boxes. Soon they will be turned over to the packed.

W. F. H. Finke and James Bayne, newly elected members of the city school board, appeared last night at the monthly meeting and took their seats.

Officers of the board re-elected are: P. M. Bradshaw, chairman; T. C. Howard, vice chairman; Gilbert Cox, clerk.

Serjt. Charles Urban Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carter H. Smith, returned home last night from overseas. He was in the battle of Chateau Thierry and in the battle on the Meuse river and escaped injury. Serjt. Smith was in a company commanded by Capt. James S. Douglas, Jr., of this city. He has been ordered to Camp Logan, Tex., as an instructor in intelligence observation work.

Worth E. Shoults, son of Mrs. Grace Shoults and the late Maj. Edward Shoults, has been made first sergeant and transferred to the officers training school, Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky. A month ago Serjt. Shoults entered Cornell University for training.

Mrs. William A. Briscoe, 55 years old, died Wednesday, and her body was brought to the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Dallas Peyton, 29 Duke street. She is survived by three daughters and a son.

Edgar Thompson, who for several months past has been in the training camp at Syracuse, N. Y., has been transferred to work at the War Department, Washington, D. C., and has returned to his home in this city.

The November term of the Circuit Court, Judge S. G. Brent presiding, ended its session today.

Capt. Leo P. Harlow has been assigned to duty at Camp Upton, N. Y.

War Contract Suspended.
Elizabeth N. J., Nov. 8.—Work on a contract calling for the expenditure of nearly $1,000,000 for building houses for laborers employed in the district has been suspended by an order from Washington. No explanation of the order was given.

New State Where Trouble Started
Here, at Sarajevo, where Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated and the pretext provided for the world war, a great Slav state has been proclaimed. It is to be composed of Serbia, Bosnia and Herzegovina. The national council at Sarajevo is sponsor for the new state and for the release of all persons imprisoned in connection with the killing of the archduke. Much of the city European in appearance, but the Turkish section (for this had been the seat of a Turkish government) is typically Oriental.

U. S. PLANS NEW DRIVE SYSTEM

Will Use Federal Reserve
Banks for Future Campaigns.

An entirely new plan of organization for handling not only future government bond issues, but war savings stamps and all government issues for popular subscription is under consideration by the Treasury Department as the result of a two-day session of governors of the Federal Reserve Banks, chairmen of liberty loan committees and representatives of the women's liberty loan committee.

While the details of the plan have not been finally determined, it was learned from authoritative sources yesterday after the adjournment of the conference that a practical agreement was reached by all represented and the plan in general contemplates twelve unified organizations with the governors of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks at their heads, these organizations reporting through the governors to the Treasury at Washington.

Governors to be Responsible.
Each governor, according to the present plan, is to be responsible for the form and results of the organization in his district. This would obviate, it is pointed out, the necessity of various State, women's and other independent organizations each reporting to Washington.
A definite form of organization under each bank governor, one which must follow, is not contemplated, but he is expected to be the responsible head of whatever form of organization he may choose to form in his district.
Another feature of the plan, it was learned, is to make a continuous selling organization throughout the country. The twelve district committees, or whatever their name shall be, are to be assigned quotas of war savings certificates and other government issues, to cover periods of three or six months. If at the approach of the end of any period it shall appear that the District is falling behind in its quota, special drives are to be organized but the idea is to keep the government issues constantly before the public and avoid as far as possible periodic drives.

Women Disapprove Plans.
Some discontent with this plan was expressed by members of the Women's National Liberty Loan Committee, it was learned, and an attempt was made by them to specify that upon each district organization a definite office should be assigned to some woman. This was regarded as impractical, however, and it is understood that the women acquiesced in the general plan with the understanding that their previous valuable services were to be recognized and that appropriate places in the new organizations should be assigned to women wherever practicable.
An official announcement of the new plan as soon as it has been reviewed carefully by Treasury officials is expected.

Air Flight Across Ocean Soon.
A French magazine, Les Lectures pour tous, predicts the early crossing of the Atlantic by airplane.
Three routes are suggested.
The first is between St. John's, Newfoundland, and Cork, Ireland, a distance of 1725 miles, to be made in eighteen hours, non-stop flight.
The second route, an estimated twenty-one-hour flight of 3000 miles, would connect St. John's with Lisbon, Portugal, with a stop at the Azore Islands.
A third route has also been suggested, a fifteen-hour non-stop flight between Pernambuco, Brazil, and Freetown, Sierra Leone, connecting South America and Africa.

Austrian Airmen Seldom Fly.
London.—A recently captured Austrian airman told the Italian examiners that no Austrian aviator is permitted to make any war flight without the specific consent of the army operations branch. He said that in six months at the front he had flown over the lines only five times. Fear of losing machines is responsible for the order requiring application for the "kolof" before making a flight.
