

SIX GENERALS TO GET MEDALS

Black, Crowder, Goethals, Gorgas, Hines and Jervey Recommended.

Gen. March announced yesterday his recommendations for the award of the distinguished service medal to six major generals, now in Washington.

The names of the generals and their service for which the award is proposed are:

Maj. Gen. William V. Black, chief of engineers, U. S. A., for especially meritorious and conspicuous service in planning and administering the engineer and military railway service during the war.

Maj. Gen. Enoch H. Crowder, judge advocate general, U. S. A., for especially meritorious and conspicuous service as provost marshal general in the preparation and operation of the draft laws of the nation during the war.

Maj. Gen. George W. Goethals, U. S. A., retired, for especially meritorious and conspicuous service in organizing the Quartermaster Department and in organizing and administering the Division of Purchase, Storage and Traffic during the war.

Maj. Gen. William C. Gorgas, U. S. A., retired, for especially meritorious service as surgeon general of the army in organizing and administering the medical department during the war.

Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, U. S. A., for especially meritorious and conspicuous service as chief of embarkation in organizing and administering the embarkation service during the war.

Maj. Gen. Henry Jervey, U. S. A., for especially meritorious and conspicuous service as director of operations, general staff, and as assistant to the chief of staff in preparing and executing the plans involving the mobilization of personnel during the war.

Two Division's Casualties. Casualties of the Thirty-fifth and Eighty-ninth divisions were announced by Gen. March to be respectively, 171 officers and 1,085 men; 196 officers and 5,727 men.

Gen. March also disposed of the report that the French army was taking over a part of the American sector in occupied German territory. He said that no such official information had come to the War Department.

Plans stated for early discharge from American camps and overseas units now number 1,005,229. Actual discharges in United States camps now number 533,334 men and 35,409 officers.

STACK YOUR NEEDLES, IS RED CROSS ORDER

After Turning Out 10,000,000 Articles Women Stop Work.

Cease knitting! This order sent out from the Red

$50 CLUB AIDS JEWISH RELIEF FUND; $35,000 TOTAL REACHED

City Responds Generously to Appeals in Behalf of War Sufferers; Churches Will Join in Campaign Today.

Guarantee of how spontaneous interest in the local Jewish Relief drive to gain this city's $50,000 quota was evidenced at the Capitol yesterday afternoon when a number of Senators and Representatives informally formed a "contribution club" in this fund's interest.

It was all provoked by a casual remark of Gus Karger, former president of the National Press Club, who was talking to Representative Nicholas Longworth. Mr. Karger, who has proved an enthusiastic worker in behalf of the Jewish fund, happened to mention the progress of the drive which was opened here Thursday night by a mass meeting.

Form $50 Club. "Yes, I subscribed to the fund in my home town," Representative Longworth answered. "However, I believe the fund so worthy a one that I would like to subscribe another $50."

About this time Representative Madden, of Illinois, happened along the corridor. Learning of the topic of conversation he immediately subscribed $50 himself and suggested the formation of a $50 club.

Whereupon Senator Warren Harding, of Ohio, and Representatives McMillin, of Illinois, and Samuel E. Wainwright, of Massachusetts, also promptly joined. Then Senator William B. McKinley, of Illinois, joined the group and as the members refused to let him off with a contribution of $50 he promptly put his name down for $100.

With the ante raised to $100, Representative A. J. Sabath, of Chicago, came in making a total in this few minutes of $150 for the fund. Since the mass meeting Thursday night,

Cross headquarters yesterday to the 54 chapters of the organization and as a result thousands of women who have turned out millions of sweaters, socks, mufflers, helmets and wristlets for our soldiers and sailors will stack their needles. An inventory of the stocks of knitted articles in reserve at Red Cross division and camp warehouses shows there is a sufficient quantity on hand to meet the needs of America's fighting men in this country and Europe, and those of the Red Cross commissions engaged in civilian relief work abroad. Hence the order of the patriotic women of America to discontinue their knitting activities.

Knitted articles now in process of construction are to be completed as rapidly as possible and turned in to the chapters, which have been instructed to issue no more yarn to workers. The woolen garments provided by the tireless fingers of America's women added materially to the comfort of the country's defenders, especially during the period following the mobilization of our fighting forces. Practically every man that went overseas, as well as those who remained in the country's training camps, was supplied with these comforts. More than 10,000,000 knitted articles were turned out by Red Cross workers in the seventeen months preceding the signing of the armistice.

Members of the Thirty-fifth and Eighty-ninth divisions were announced by Gen. March to be respectively, 171 officers and 1,085 men; 196 officers and 5,727 men.

Gen. March also disposed of the report that the French army was taking over a part of the American sector in occupied German territory. He said that no such official information had come to the War Department.

Plans stated for early discharge from American camps and overseas units now number 1,005,229. Actual discharges in United States camps now number 533,334 men and 35,409 officers.

STACK YOUR NEEDLES, IS RED CROSS ORDER

After Turning Out 10,000,000 Articles Women Stop Work.

Cease knitting! This order sent out from the Red

Cross headquarters yesterday to the 54 chapters of the organization and as a result thousands of women who have turned out millions of sweaters, socks, mufflers, helmets and wristlets for our soldiers and sailors will stack their needles. An inventory of the stocks of knitted articles in reserve at Red Cross division and camp warehouses shows there is a sufficient quantity on hand to meet the needs of America's fighting men in this country and Europe, and those of the Red Cross commissions engaged in civilian relief work abroad. Hence the order of the patriotic women of America to discontinue their knitting activities.

Knitted articles now in process of construction are to be completed as rapidly as possible and turned in to the chapters, which have been instructed to issue no more yarn to workers. The woolen garments provided by the tireless fingers of America's women added materially to the comfort of the country's defenders, especially during the period following the mobilization of our fighting forces. Practically every man that went overseas, as well as those who remained in the country's training camps, was supplied with these comforts. More than 10,000,000 knitted articles were turned out by Red Cross workers in the seventeen months preceding the signing of the armistice.

Members of the Thirty-fifth and Eighty-ninth divisions were announced by Gen. March to be respectively, 171 officers and 1,085 men; 196 officers and 5,727 men.

Gen. March also disposed of the report that the French army was taking over a part of the American sector in occupied German territory. He said that no such official information had come to the War Department.

Plans stated for early discharge from American camps and overseas units now number 1,005,229. Actual discharges in United States camps now number 533,334 men and 35,409 officers.

STACK YOUR NEEDLES, IS RED CROSS ORDER

After Turning Out 10,000,000 Articles Women Stop Work.

Cease knitting! This order sent out from the Red

Cross headquarters yesterday to the 54 chapters of the organization and as a result thousands of women who have turned out millions of sweaters, socks, mufflers, helmets and wristlets for our soldiers and sailors will stack their needles. An inventory of the stocks of knitted articles in reserve at Red Cross division and camp warehouses shows there is a sufficient quantity on hand to meet the needs of America's fighting men in this country and Europe, and those of the Red Cross commissions engaged in civilian relief work abroad. Hence the order of the patriotic women of America to discontinue their knitting activities.

Knitted articles now in process of construction are to be completed as rapidly as possible and turned in to the chapters, which have been instructed to issue no more yarn to workers. The woolen garments provided by the tireless fingers of America's women added materially to the comfort of the country's defenders, especially during the period following the mobilization of our fighting forces. Practically every man that went overseas, as well as those who remained in the country's training camps, was supplied with these comforts. More than 10,000,000 knitted articles were turned out by Red Cross workers in the seventeen months preceding the signing of the armistice.

Members of the Thirty-fifth and Eighty-ninth divisions were announced by Gen. March to be respectively, 171 officers and 1,085 men; 196 officers and 5,727 men.

Gen. March also disposed of the report that the French army was taking over a part of the American sector in occupied German territory. He said that no such official information had come to the War Department.

Plans stated for early discharge from American camps and overseas units now number 1,005,229. Actual discharges in United States camps now number 533,334 men and 35,409 officers.

STACK YOUR NEEDLES, IS RED CROSS ORDER

After Turning Out 10,000,000 Articles Women Stop Work.

Cease knitting! This order sent out from the Red

cross headquarters yesterday to the 54 chapters of the organization and as a result thousands of women who have turned out millions of sweaters, socks, mufflers, helmets and wristlets for our soldiers and sailors will stack their needles. An inventory of the stocks of knitted articles in reserve at Red Cross division and camp warehouses shows there is a sufficient quantity on hand to meet the needs of America's fighting men in this country and Europe, and those of the Red Cross commissions engaged in civilian relief work abroad. Hence the order of the patriotic women of America to discontinue their knitting activities.

Knitted articles now in process of construction are to be completed as rapidly as possible and turned in to the chapters, which have been instructed to issue no more yarn to workers. The woolen garments provided by the tireless fingers of America's women added materially to the comfort of the country's defenders, especially during the period following the mobilization of our fighting forces. Practically every man that went overseas, as well as those who remained in the country's training camps, was supplied with these comforts. More than 10,000,000 knitted articles were turned out by Red Cross workers in the seventeen months preceding the signing of the armistice.

Members of the Thirty-fifth and Eighty-ninth divisions were announced by Gen. March to be respectively, 171 officers and 1,085 men; 196 officers and 5,727 men.

Gen. March also disposed of the report that the French army was taking over a part of the American sector in occupied German territory. He said that no such official information had come to the War Department.

Plans stated for early discharge from American camps and overseas units now number 1,005,229. Actual discharges in United States camps now number 533,334 men and 35,409 officers.

STACK YOUR NEEDLES, IS RED CROSS ORDER

After Turning Out 10,000,000 Articles Women Stop Work.

Cease knitting! This order sent out from the Red

Cross headquarters yesterday to the 54 chapters of the organization and as a result thousands of women who have turned out millions of sweaters, socks, mufflers, helmets and wristlets for our soldiers and sailors will stack their needles. An inventory of the stocks of knitted articles in reserve at Red Cross division and camp warehouses shows there is a sufficient quantity on hand to meet the needs of America's fighting men in this country and Europe, and those of the Red Cross commissions engaged in civilian relief work abroad. Hence the order of the patriotic women of America to discontinue their knitting activities.

Knitted articles now in process of construction are to be completed as rapidly as possible and turned in to the chapters, which have been instructed to issue no more yarn to workers. The woolen garments provided by the tireless fingers of America's women added materially to the comfort of the country's defenders, especially during the period following the mobilization of our fighting forces. Practically every man that went overseas, as well as those who remained in the country's training camps, was supplied with these comforts. More than 10,000,000 knitted articles were turned out by Red Cross workers in the seventeen months preceding the signing of the armistice.

Members of the Thirty-fifth and Eighty-ninth divisions were announced by Gen. March to be respectively, 171 officers and 1,085 men; 196 officers and 5,727 men.

Gen. March also disposed of the report that the French army was taking over a part of the American sector in occupied German territory. He said that no such official information had come to the War Department.

Plans stated for early discharge from American camps and overseas units now number 1,005,229. Actual discharges in United States camps now number 533,334 men and 35,409 officers.

STACK YOUR NEEDLES, IS RED CROSS ORDER

After Turning Out 10,000,000 Articles Women Stop Work.

Cease knitting! This order sent out from the Red

Cross headquarters yesterday to the 54 chapters of the organization and as a result thousands of women who have turned out millions of sweaters, socks, mufflers, helmets and wristlets for our soldiers and sailors will stack their needles. An inventory of the stocks of knitted articles in reserve at Red Cross division and camp warehouses shows there is a sufficient quantity on hand to meet the needs of America's fighting men in this country and Europe, and those of the Red Cross commissions engaged in civilian relief work abroad. Hence the order of the patriotic women of America to discontinue their knitting activities.

Knitted articles now in process of construction are to be completed as rapidly as possible and turned in to the chapters, which have been instructed to issue no more yarn to workers. The woolen garments provided by the tireless fingers of America's women added materially to the comfort of the country's defenders, especially during the period following the mobilization of our fighting forces. Practically every man that went overseas, as well as those who remained in the country's training camps, was supplied with these comforts. More than 10,000,000 knitted articles were turned out by Red Cross workers in the seventeen months preceding the signing of the armistice.

Members of the Thirty-fifth and Eighty-ninth divisions were announced by Gen. March to be respectively, 171 officers and 1,085 men; 196 officers and 5,727 men.

Gen. March also disposed of the report that the French army was taking over a part of the American sector in occupied German territory. He said that no such official information had come to the War Department.

Plans stated for early discharge from American camps and overseas units now number 1,005,229. Actual discharges in United States camps now number 533,334 men and 35,409 officers.

STACK YOUR NEEDLES, IS RED CROSS ORDER

After Turning Out 10,000,000 Articles Women Stop Work.

Cease knitting! This order sent out from the Red

Cross headquarters yesterday to the 54 chapters of the organization and as a result thousands of women who have turned out millions of sweaters, socks, mufflers, helmets and wristlets for our soldiers and sailors will stack their needles. An inventory of the stocks of knitted articles in reserve at Red Cross division and camp warehouses shows there is a sufficient quantity on hand to meet the needs of America's fighting men in this country and Europe, and those of the Red Cross commissions engaged in civilian relief work abroad. Hence the order of the patriotic women of America to discontinue their knitting activities.

Knitted articles now in process of construction are to be completed as rapidly as possible and turned in to the chapters, which have been instructed to issue no more yarn to workers. The woolen garments provided by the tireless fingers of America's women added materially to the comfort of the country's defenders, especially during the period following the mobilization of our fighting forces. Practically every man that went overseas, as well as those who remained in the country's training camps, was supplied with these comforts. More than 10,000,000 knitted articles were turned out by Red Cross workers in the seventeen months preceding the signing of the armistice.

Members of the Thirty-fifth and Eighty-ninth divisions were announced by Gen. March to be respectively, 171 officers and 1,085 men; 196 officers and 5,727 men.

Gen. March also disposed of the report that the French army was taking over a part of the American sector in occupied German territory. He said that no such official information had come to the War Department.

Plans stated for early discharge from American camps and overseas units now number 1,005,229. Actual discharges in United States camps now number 533,334 men and 35,409 officers.

STACK YOUR NEEDLES, IS RED CROSS ORDER

After Turning Out 10,000,000 Articles Women Stop Work.

Cease knitting! This order sent out from the Red

CAPITOL GAMES DRAW CROWDS

Thousands Attend Celebration at Plaza; Athletic Contests on Program.

Athletic sports for men and women were held around the municipal Christmas tree at the Capitol plaza last night, which served as the rallying point for community activities with soldiers from various nearby posts and Washington residents and war workers in attendance. The guests of honor were the members of the Government Recreation League, with a membership of many thousands of men and women war workers. Col. George A. Ahren, secretary of the Army War College, originator and president of the league, was present.

The principal event was a tug-of-war between soldiers of Camp Humphreys, Va., and those on government detail in Washington. The Boy Scout band furnished the music. Soldiers from nearby camps participated in a 50-yard dash, medley relay race, volley-ball game, "Indian wrestling" match, "over and over" relay race, sack race and obstacle race.

For the first time there had been provided an "over and under" obstacle race, an "all up" obstacle race, volley ball game and captain ball game. The next festivities in connection with the tree are announced for Tuesday night. The feature on that occasion will be general street dancing, accompanied by a big military band. The first time such an event has been held in Washington.

Yesterday afternoon the smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

Yesterdays' smaller municipal tree toured the residential district distributing molasses candy among the youngsters.

AUBREY A. MAYO

Employee of Government Printing Office, who died at Camp Sheridan.

Aubrey Allen Mayo VICTIM OF INFLUENZA

Former Government Printing Office Binder Dies at Camp Sheridan.

The gold star in the bindery service flag at the Government Printing Office represents one of the first casualties from the contingent, Aubrey Allen Mayo, who left his double-decker in the ruling section to go into the military service. Private Mayo was born and raised in Newport News, Va., where he was prominent in athletic circles, and at one time was offered a berth in the Virginia League to play professional baseball, but declined in order to come to Washington to work for Uncle Sam.

He left his ruling machine when he received his call and went to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and from there to Camp Sheridan, Ala.

Aubrey Allen Mayo was a good workman, a thorough union man, and was well liked by all with whom he came in contact. He was a devoted son, and his parents and the bindery mourn the loss of a clean-minded, clean-living Christian boy.

He is survived by a mother, father and a younger sister, who still live at Newport News.

RAIL TRAFFIC BREAKS RECORD

335,000 Passengers Enter, 256,555 Leave City in Eight Days.

Hundreds of travelers entered, departed from and passed through the Washington Union Station during the eight days just before Christmas this year than ever before in a like period of time in the history of the city, according to the figures kept by the United States Railroad Administration.

A total of 256,555 persons arrived at the station and 335,000 departed, besides 22,621 persons who passed through the station en route for other destinations. The number stopping off in Washington for the holidays was 32,251 and the net exodus from Washington proper was 28,445, many of whom were war workers who will probably not return.

Baggage Increase Fifty Per Cent. The 111,889 tickets sold in Washington during this period have brought in a revenue of $71,928.23. The number of pieces of baggage handled was 69,000 and the number of parcels handled was 22,621, an increase of 50 per cent over a year ago.

One-third more meals were served in the restaurants than during the same period last year.

Due to careful preparation practically everyone who applied for sleeping car accommodations was accommodated. Extra baggage transfer forces were provided and Christmas day there was no delayed baggage left over in the station, as has generally been the case.

The smoothness with which the business was conducted this year, according to the railroad administration, is attributed to the fact that it was all directed by one authority which co-ordinated the work of all the departments of all the roads. Complete information as to all routes was obtainable at one office and there was no confusion, as is generally the case where a large number of roads and officials are working independently of each other, considering the needs of their own traffic rather than that of the entire volume of travel.

Boston Doctors to Wear Gripe Influenza Masks

Boston, Dec. 28.—Doctors, nurses, dentists and barbers are to be required to wear masks while at work in close proximity to influenza patients, it was announced today by Health Commissioner Woodward.

No general order is contemplated, he said, to compel the general public to wear masks on the streets. Charts received from Washington and Chicago where the masking order was effective, he said, indicated that the order was of little value in checking the spread of influenza.

Women Will Organize Own Union, Says Leader

Richmond, Va., Dec. 28.—Women's labor unions soon will be organized if the present labor organizations continue to oppose the entrance of women workers into industry, Miss Mary Van Kleeck, director of the Woman in Industry Service, told the American Association for Labor Legislation here tonight.

Criticizing the action of the labor union at Cleveland in forcing conductresses off the street car lines, Miss Van Kleeck said "the demand of the men's union for their discharge is a danger signal."

A national eight-hour law for women workers was urged.

11,601 MEN TO REACH U. S.

Four Army Transports Due at Newport News Within Next Few Days.

New York, Dec. 28.—Four United States army transports, bringing 11,601 troops from overseas, are scheduled to arrive at Newport News, Va., during the coming week, it was announced at the post of embarkation tonight.

The transports are the Aerolis, with 2,084 officers and men, due Tuesday; the Ryndam, with 2,368 officers and enlisted men, due Wednesday; the Princess Matoika, with 2,367, due Thursday, and the Antioch, with 2,902, due Saturday.

The Mauretania is scheduled to arrive at Newport on Monday with 2,902 army and 3 navy men. Of this number 312 are of the 37th Infantry, less Company H.

On the men's side, due at Newport News are 11 officers and 81 men of the Seventy-sixth Division cadre, composed of detachments from the 301st, 302d, 303d and 304th Machine Gun Battalion and the 301st Ammunition Train, all trained at Camp Devens. Fourteen hundred and fifty-eight are members of the Fifty-second Regiment, C. A. C., brigaded at Fort Adams.

Gotham Waiters Threaten to Spoil New Year Eve

New York, Dec. 28.—The New York Waiters' Union warned "White Light" patrons tonight against the reservation of tables for New Year Eve at hotels and restaurants which have not complied with the demands of the union.

The waiters warned that about 100 hotels, including most of the big ones, and 130 restaurants, will be unemployable, unless they comply with the union's demands.

The waiters say they will be able to tie up celebrations and service in all the leading restaurants and hotels on New Year Eve.

POLICE SEARCH FOR "BLUEBIRD"

Mysterious Individual May Have Killed Nicholas Cicchino Saturday.

Working on the theory that Nicholas Cicchino, employe of the Washington Steel and Ordnance Co., who disappeared after work last Saturday, has been murdered, police last night instituted search for a mysterious individual "nick-named" "Bluebird," thought to have been the man who owed Cicchino $20.

Cicchino is reported to have declared he would get the $20 owing to him or "get the man that owed it."

Find Bloody Shirt. One of the theories of the disappearance of Cicchino was that he had been murdered in the theories of the missing man's disappearance.

Detective Sergeant McDuffie, of the Eleventh Precinct, stated that this "Bluebird," of whom any knowledge is denied at the steel plant, left during the early part of this week.

Search for John Thomas, said to be a friend of the unknown "Bluebird," is also under way.

Result of Proof. One of the theories of the disappearance of Cicchino was that he had been murdered in the theories of the missing man's disappearance.

Stirling E. Purdy, general foreman of the section in which the missing man was employed, last night denied any knowledge of any fight or feud at the plant.

He said that Cicchino had worked through his trick on Saturday and left at 6 o'clock.

ARMY OFFICER IN RACE AGAINST VARDAMAN

Lieut. Arthur Johnson Enters Contest for gubernatorial Chair.

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 28.—When James K. Vardaman enters the Mississippi gubernatorial race he is going to find aligned against him one of the strongest combinations he has ever faced. Lieut. Arthur Johnson, of the United States Army Tank Corps, one of the most prominent Delta attorneys and one of the Senator's bitterest opponents, has announced his candidacy.

Already a trio of strong Vardaman men, Lieutenant Governor Lew M. Russell and H. E. Blakelee, former commissioner of agriculture, have thrown their hats in the ring. Professor W. H. Smith, president of the Mississippi A. and M. College, is the only other avowed candidate.

Vardaman's plans are still under cover but Mississippi politicians expect him to drop into line with his announcement within the next few days.

Seventh and Eye Streets House & Herrmann Seventh and Eye Streets

You Can Be Sure of Satisfaction Here

—because while it's our aim to be lowest in price—first of all we make sure that our qualities are reliable.

William and Mary Dining Suite Substantial Rocker

Four handsome pieces in Mahogany-finish; dustproof bottom to the cases—Buffet with mirror; latticed side panels in China Closet; drawer in Side Table; 48-inch Round-top Dining Table—extensible to 6 feet.

Special $143.50

Library Table Mahogany Chair and Rocker