

1,000 BELIEVED DEAD IN PATH OF HURRICANE IN TEXAS

First Division Forms Lines For March Up Avenue

THE VICTORY ARCH PHOTOGRAPHED AT NIGHT

MOORE WINNER BY 1,500 VOTES

Defeats Patterson in Race For Mayor of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 17.—Representative J. Hampton Moore was chosen Republican candidate for mayor of Philadelphia by a majority of from 1,000 to 1,500 votes over Judge John M. Patterson, yesterday, in the closest municipal election ever held in Philadelphia. At 1 o'clock this morning, with practically all the ballots counted, Representative Moore was leading his opponent on the official count. Representative Moore claims he was chosen by a majority of 5,000, while Judge Patterson asserts the final tally will show his election by 2,500 ballots.

WILLS 450 BARRELS OF ALCOHOL TO WIFE

New York, Sept. 16.—Whether or not the American Alcohol Company, Inc., will be forced, or even allowed to deliver 450 barrels of alcohol, valued at $5,000, as a part of a will must be decided by the Surrogate's Court, it was learned today. The alcohol was willed to Mrs. May Hausman by her husband.

SILESIA REPORT CHEERS GERMANY

Berlin, Sept. 16.—The interrelated report on the upper Silesian situation has been received with gratification by Germany. It is said that the report will have a reassuring effect, owing to its tone of impartiality, which allows Germany to await a plebiscite with greater confidence that it will be conducted fairly.

Soldier's Leg Fractured, Struck by Automobile

Private Joseph A. Dawab, of the Seventh Field Artillery, Camp Leach, received a fractured leg last night, when struck by an automobile driven by Millard Horn, 366 M street northwest, while crossing at Wisconsin avenue and Macomb street northwest. Dawab was taken to Emergency Hospital, where it was said his condition was not serious. The case will be presented to the corporation counsel when Dawab is able to appear, it was stated.

5,000 Soldiers Dance On East Plaza of the Capitol

More than 5,000 First Division regulars and other men in uniform danced last night with as many girls from the government departments on the east plaza of the Capitol, while several thousand mothers, fathers, and friends watched the unusual spectacle from the Capitol steps and the surrounding plaza.

The American Legion, under whose auspices the affair was given, arranged an excellent musical program, played by the Twenty-eighth Infantry band of the First Division and the Boy Scouts band. Red Cross girls of the First Division and Y. M. C. A. workers served punch and cakes to the boys, while girls from the Jewish Welfare Service furnished cigarettes and cigars. Stuart Walcott Post of the American Legion had 500 members present to look after the comfort of the soldiers. The dance was chaperoned by the War Camp Community Service, Donald Atwell and O. V. Kessler, members of the committee on arrangements, estimated that the War Risk Bureau alone was represented by 3,000 girls. The War and Navy Departments were also well represented.

Germany Clamps Bars On Frontier Influx

Berlin, Sept. 16.—The German government has announced that anyone crossing the border without properly issued passports will be subject to arrest and expulsion.

The reason officially given is the fact that Germany at present is over-run with foreigners who have no passports or proper visas, and that among them are numerous undesirable. This influx has been facilitated by the lack of formality and laxity in the passport supervision.

"The hole in the West," as the open frontier toward France and Belgium is called, is alleged to have frustrated the efforts of the German government to control the influx of strangers. Negotiations are now under way between Germany and the entente to close the West front entirely against uncontrolled passing of frontiers.

Separation From Austria Agreed to by Germany

Berlin, Sept. 16.—Germany will comply with the demand of the allied supreme council to declare null and void the objectionable paragraph in the German constitution looking to Austria's union with Germany and providing for Austrian representation in the German Reichsrath, or council of the realm, which may be compared to our Senate.

Denounces Britain's Policy in Ireland

Dublin, Sept. 16.—When Great Britain signed the armistice terms she agreed to President Wilson's principles, including the right of self-determination for small nations, but she did not agree to the application of that principle within the British empire. In this way, Ian MacPherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland, today explained the British attitude toward the Irish question.

400,000 ARE GATHERING FOR PARADE

Throngs Fill Streets on Eve Of First Division Day; Procession, Led by Gen. Pershing, to Move From Peace Monument at 1 P. M. Today.

28,000 TO MARCH IN LINE FIVE MILES LONG

Body Expected to Take Five Hours to Pass a Given Point; Airplanes Will Radio Parade's Progress Block by Block.

Today is First Division Day—from reveille to taps.

Gen. John J. Pershing and his Fighting First—the first across and the last to return—are the heroes of the hour. This afternoon they will form the greatest parade in the history of the city of parades.

Bedecked in her gayest, flags flying everywhere, Washington is ready for the spectacle—for the last glad welcome to the men who turned the tide of battle.

Four hundred thousand pairs of eyes are expected to follow the triumphal procession up Pennsylvania avenue.

Twenty-eight thousand men will be in the review. It will be five miles long and probably will require five hours to pass a given point. In it will be shown practically every important implement of warfare used in the greatest war in all history.

Today is a holiday throughout the city. Government departments are closed and practically all business has

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

"THE MAN ON HORSEBACK"

No character in history has presented a more admirable figure on horseback than Gen. Pershing on this charger which has been given him by a camp of War Veterans. Already an equestrian statue of the general by some prominent American sculptor has been suggested.

Police Seek Messenger Who Left With Bonds

New York, Sept. 16.—The police unsuccessfully searched throughout the city today for Elias Tieman, 36 employed as messenger by the brokerage firm of L. M. Prince & Co., following a report by his employers and the National Surety Company that he had disappeared while bearing $20,000 worth of bonds for delivery to various financial institutions. The police sent out a general alarm, and a large number of detectives sought the missing boy.

THOUSANDS NEAR DEATH, LACK FOOD AND SHELTER

Death List Will Grow Unless Relief Trains Can Reach Regions Made Desolate By Terrific Coastal Storm—Supplies Are Being Rushed to Scene.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 16.—Relief trains were rushed with supplies to the hurricane-devastated Texas Gulf Coast region to night and seven airplanes had been dispatched to search for victims marooned by the storm. It was believed the total dead may reach 1,000.

The most serious problem confronting relief workers tonight was how to save survivors, stranded in desolate regions, without the most common necessities of life.

In the district around Corpus Christi, the storm struck with its greatest force. Here bodies of the dead were collected and doctors worked at a score of ranch houses administering to the sick. Scores of persons who survived the storm unharmed have been reduced to starvation. Practically all foodstuffs in Corpus Christi and the immediate district were lost.

Raise Money for Relief

Scores of towns in Southern Texas were engaged in raising money, food and clothing to be sent to the storm-swept area. Gov. Hobby issued a second appeal to the people of the State to subscribe to a fund for the relief of the victims. The San Antonio Chamber of Commerce voted $10,000 and the city of Corpus Christi was told to draw on the city treasurer of San Antonio for the amount.

The entire resources of the Red Cross and its trained personnel were placed at the disposal of Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman, commander of the Southern Department, U. S. A. Red Cross relief workers were sent to the district from St. Louis tonight, according to word received at Southern headquarters here.

The first special relief train was dispatched to Corpus Christi last night by Gen. Dickman. It was under command of Lieut. Col. J. A. Porter, and carried 100,000 rations, 15,000 blankets, 10,000 cots and 1,000 tents, together with medical supplies.

A corps of physicians with supplies sufficient to treat 1,000 patients was on the train.

Train Service Broken

Brig. Gen. F. C. Marshall, of Brownsville, reported he had sent a relief train from that place. It was ordered to go as far as Sinton, where rail communication with Corpus Christi was broken. Wagons and automobiles were to be employed in reaching Corpus Christi. Still another trainload of supplies was sent from Laredo, Tex. Other towns reported having made progress toward raising money and supplies. Brig. Gen. Wolters, of the Texas

CONTINUED ON PAGE THREE

PARADE PROGRAM, THE LINE OF MARCH

The parade will extend from the Peace Monument along Pennsylvania avenue to Fifteenth street N. W., up Fifteenth street to Pennsylvania avenue, passing through the Triumphal Arch between Fifteenth street and Madison square, to Court of Honor reviewing stand, to Nineteenth street N. W., where the units will disband.

ORDER OF MARCH

1. The First Division will parade under full combat transportation on Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1919, beginning at 1 p. m.
2. Order of March:
 1. Gen. Pershing and staff.
 - Gen. Pershing.
 - Color sergeants, carrying national standard and four-starred flag of a general.
 - Official staff, including Brig. Gen. Foxe Conner, chief of staff; Col. G. E. Marshall, Col. J. G. Quekemyer, Col. De Chambrun, Maj. J. C. Hughes, Col. A. Moreno, Lieut. Col. A. S. Kuegler and Lieut. Col. Lloyd Griseom.
 - Personal staff, including army chiefs, former army, corps and division commanders, as follows: Maj. Gen. J. W. McAndrews, Brig. Gen. R. C. Davis, Maj. Gen. A. W. Brewster, Brig. Gen. W. A. Bethel, Maj. Gen. H. L. Rogers, Maj. Gen. Merritt W. Ireland, Brig. Gen. Walker, Maj. Gen. Harry Taylor, Maj. Gen. C. C. Williams, Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, Brig. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulis, Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, Brig. Gen. Samuel D. Roekenback, Brig. Gen. Fries, Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, Maj. Gen. C. P. Summerrail, Maj. Gen. William G. Haan, Maj. Gen. William B. Wright, Maj. Gen. Hanson E. Ely, Maj. Gen. Mark L. Hersey, Maj. Gen. Weigel, Maj. Gen. Wittmeyer, Brig. Gen. Preston Brown, Maj. Gen. William L. Sibert, Maj. Gen. G. M. Duncan, Maj. Gen. William L. Lassiter, Maj. Gen. Charles T. Menoher, Brig. Gen. Mallin Craig, Brig. Gen. H. A. Smith and Brig. Gen. Dennis C. Nolan.
 - Composite Regiment, as personal escort, composed of officers and men of the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Divisions who have served under Gen. Pershing. (All Regulars.)
2. Division Headquarters.
 - Commanding General, Maj. Gen. Edwin F. McGlachin, jr. Chief of Staff, Col. Stephen O. Fuqua.
 - G-1 Lieut. Col. Paul Peabody.
 - G-2 Lieut. Col. W. R. Scott.
 - G-3 Lieut. Col. W. F. Hoey.
 - Adjutant, Lieut. Col. B. R. Legge.
 - Division Quartermaster, Lieut. Col. F. H. Lonax.
 - Division Ordnance Officer, Maj. J. A. Long.
 - Division Surgeon, Lieut. Col. E. O. Maynard.
 - Division Trains, Col. W. F. Stewart.
3. Headquarters Troop—Former officers and men of First Division, Capt. W. E. S. Williamson. Headquarters Detachment, and Miscellaneous Q. M. Units, Q. M. Hqrs. personnel, Bakery Company No. 7, Salvage Co. No. 22, Sales Commissary Unit 309, Laundry Unit 314, C. & B. Unit 319, D. & B. Unit 18, D. & B. Unit 23.
4. First Machine Gun Battalion. Maj. R. N. Youell.
5. Second Field Signal Battalion. Maj. H. F. Hill.
6. First Engineers and Engineer Train. Col. E. J. Atkinson.
7. First Infantry Brig. Hqrs. and Detachment. Brig. Gen. Frank Parker.
8. Sixteenth Infantry. Lieut. Col. C. R. Huebner.
9. Eighteenth Infantry. Col. C. A. Hunt.
10. Second Machine Gun Battalion. Maj. S. Warren.
11. Second Infantry Brig. Hqrs. and Detachment. Col. R. A. Brown.
12. Twenty-sixth Infantry. Lieut. Col. C. W. Ryder.
13. Twenty-eighth Infantry. Col. A. H. Huguet.
14. Third Machine Gun Battalion. Capt. C. Pickett.
15. First Field Artillery Brig. Hqrs. and Detachment. Brig. Gen. A. McIntyre.
16. Fifth Field Artillery. Lieut. Col. N. W. Folk.
17. Sixth Field Artillery. Lieut. Col. G. R. Molony.
18. Seventh Field Artillery. Col. F. A. Ruggles.
19. Train Headquarters. Col. W. F. Stewart.
20. Mobile Veterinary Unit.
21. Military Police. Capt. E. O. Hall.
22. Motorized Btl. First Amm. Train. M. O. R. S. Lieut. Col. H. Hervey. Horse Section Amm. Train.
23. First Supply Train. Lieut. B. G. McCaughn.
24. Sanitary Train. Lieut. Col. H. C. Wooley. Field Hospital Section, Medical Supply Unit, Mobile Surgical Unit No. 2, Ambulance Section.
25. M. T. C. Capt. Snodgrass. S. P. U. 695, S. P. U. 301, S. P. U. 378.
26. Army Nurses.
27. Special Engineers Equipment.
28. Tanks.
29. Representatives of Welfare Organizations.

WORK FIRST IS PERSHING PLAN

Declines to Visit Cities Until His Report Is Written.

Gen. John J. Pershing, tired and worn, after the strenuous days following his arrival in the land of his nativity, whose grateful citizens have acclaimed him as perhaps no conquering hero has ever before been greeted, has declined all invitations to visit the many cities throughout the land, who desire to express their gratitude in person to the famous warrior.

He will leave Washington within the next ten days and will go to some quiet country nook, where he will complete his official report of the A. E. F., plan the reorganization of that famous unit, and consider the future military program of the United States.

"There are many invitations which the general is very anxious to accept," said Maj. J. C. Hughes, the general's personal aide, last night, "but he is actually tired out. Official business demands his immediate attention, and practically every moment of his time is devoted to his work. When his final report and plans are made, he probably will visit some of the cities which have extended their cordial invitations to him, but there have not been any definite plans decided upon."