

YOUNG AMERICA VISITS THE SPOT WHERE THE ARMISTICE WAS SIGNED. A dozen of the 300 Boy Scouts who recently toured the battlefields of the great war gathered about the tree where Posh signed the armistice. To furnish similar advantages in practical citizenship to as many as possible of the 150,000 unorganized boys of scout age in Greater New York is the purpose of the present campaign.

SOMETHING NEW IN PYROTECHNICS AND airplane illumination with spouting fireworks does some spectacular stunts over Ocean Park, California, as the camera records the above weird stunt.

ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S NATIONAL BIRDS, a year-old bald-headed eagle with a seven-foot wing spread, became careless recently and soared over the international line into Manitoba, with the result that he was clipped by an amateur shot, a florist of Winnipeg, who is shown in our picture proudly exhibiting his feathered prize.

Left—Mrs. LAMB—and her Girl Scout troop in Greater New York, splendidly engaged in a streamer campaign.

THOMAS A. EDISON, over seventy-two years young, America's foremost inventor snapped the other day in the wizard's laboratory, where he is now at work on a machine of supernatural portent, which, if successful, 'tis rumored will put ouija boards out of business.

SEYMOUR M. STONE, a Chicago artist, and a reproduction of the life size portrait he has just completed of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Stone has painted several members of the Cabinet and their families and his portraits have attracted more than usual attention. We will now take a rising vote of those in favor of the artist's taste in furs.

Left—TO CUBA VIA BIKE, Beverly Bayard and Lorline Davis, two pretty California maids, who recently walked across the U. S. A. to New York, are now hiking to Cuba by way of Florida astride bikes. Our photographer has snapped them at Independence Hall (true daughters of Independence they!) in Philadelphia.

Right—A LOVELY HALLOWEEN GHOST was Lela la Vine, a classic dancer, who, dressed as a lady of 1870, stepped from an old picture frame to welcome the newly arrived girls of many nationalities who are members of the Y. W. C. A.'s new home for its International Institute—the old Princeton Club in Gramercy Park.

JOHNNY HARVARD OUT FOR FALL CREW PRACTICE chasers are busily engaged in the Stadium keeping vast swarms of would-be members of next year's crews. Advantage of Boston's Indian summer.
