

OFFICERS ANSWER REVELLE CALL AT CAMP MEADE

CAMP MEADE, Md., Jan. 21.—Officers were all compelled to stand reveille this morning. It meant lining up full strength at 6:30 a. m., a frigid hour even on the days that are less arctic than the worst of the winter has produced.

Washingtonians May Soon See British Tanks on Streets

If you see a huge British tank playfully coveting about the streets of Washington, don't be alarmed. And if you see a sweet young thing driving it, don't try to flirt with her.

These sights soon may be common, according to Miss Florence King, Chicago's woman lawyer.

GERMAN INVENTOR MAY BE SENT TO DETENTION CAMP

Upon further investigation of the case of Claus J. Hoffmann, the German who came to Washington, January 11, from North Dakota, to offer to the Government free of charge his invention consisting of a new motive power, making coal, oil, gas, and electricity superfluous, Assistant District Attorney Arth decided to hold the foreigner until certain points have been cleared up.

A. L. THOMAS, D. C. MAN, GASSED IN FRANCE, RECOVERS

Aubrey L. Thomas, former newspaper man, who has been a resident of Washington for the last three years while not with the French forces as an ambulance driver, was gassed shortly after joining the American expeditionary forces.

In a vivid word picture of conditions under which the ambulance driver must work, Thomas tells how he was gassed in France.

Thomas was acting city editor of a newspaper in Atlantic City before the war. He is a Princeton man and was among the first of the Princeton men to go to France with the American Field Service Ambulance Corps.

DO NOT UNDERFEED CHILDREN, WARNS AGRICULTURE DEPT.

Realizing that many children throughout the country are suffering from undernourishment because of war diets, the Department of Agriculture is today sending a circular broadcast to the mothers of America, telling them to prevent improper nourishment during the war for the children.

Here are some of the suggestions sent out by the department: "Give your child clean, wholesome, simply cooked food, plenty of milk, cereals, vegetables, fruit, an egg, or some meat occasionally. Wrong food, too little, too much, or wrong kind hurts the child's chance of being the strong, healthy boy or girl you want.

BRITISH COMMANDER FOUND DEAD IN LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Gen. Sir Beauchamp Duff, who was commander-in-chief of the British forces in India between 1913 and 1916, and who was partly responsible for the result of the Mesopotamian campaign, in which Kut-el-Amara and General Townshend's forces were lost to the Turks, has been found dead in bed in a West End club.
