In the Magazine Section
Of the Sunday Herald

Tricks A First-run "Blue Ribbon" Story
By Louis Weitzenkorn

Faces are mirrors; they reflect what is before them, but you login didn't realize that until—

A Visit to Mme. Spinelli
Who Has Captivated Paris

By Kate Bus

Fairy blessed and endowed by genius, this daughter of the French theater-going public is again to invade America. This time she hopes to be "noticed a little" and she wants to use her native tongue.

Cassidy's Gold Mine

By Arthur Lucas

The wild and woolly West meets the effete East in the person of a gold-seeker, and there ensue complications, not to say adventures, of a varied and lurid kind.

Order Your Copy Today

The Washington Herald
The Capital's Morning Newspaper