VICTIM OF ELECTRICITY

KEMMLER MUST DIE BY THE MYSTERIOUS CURRENT.

Interesting Decision of the United States Supreme Court--Chief Justice Fuller Delivers It--The Murderer's Last Hope Gone.

By a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States today, the last hope for life afforded William Kemmler, the New York murderer under sentence of death by electricity, was banished, and he will accordingly be executed in conformity with the new law governing executions in New York State.

The decision was on an application for a writ of error made by Roger M. Sherman of New York, counsel for Kemmler, argued last Tuesday. The Court was unanimous in denying the application. Chief Justice Fuller read the decision in full.

He reviewed the case and severely went over the points made by Kemmler's counsel, and ended by stating that the Court had no hesitation in saying that they could not, on the record, reverse the decision of the New York Court of Appeals.

The court in its decision first considered the question raised concerning cruel and unusual punishment. The first legal enactment in this regard, it was stated, was King Henry VIII, of Orange became King of England, and its purpose was to prevent the infliction of barbarous punishment on citizens.

The enactment of the State was within the legitimate sphere of the legislative power of a State, and the Legislature of the State of New York determined that electricity was not a cruel and unusual punishment and its courts had sustained that determination.

The Court then considered the question of the State's power to execute a person for a crime committed before the State's power was established.

The House then went into Committee on the River and Harbor Appropriation bill.

SYRACUSE, May 23.--Jeremiah Blair, a life-long resident of Erville, a little village on the Syracuse, Ontario and New York Railroad, in Madison County, died on April 4, and was buried on April 8. He was 65 years old, and had been sick about two weeks.

The trouble is said to have originated in the publication by Carpenter in his paper of the testimony produced at the various hearings in the divorce suit which is pending against Tullia A. Patterson. Patterson claimed that he had been misrepresented by Carpenter in his reports, and he had several times threatened the reporter with personal violence, but as the latter is something of an athlete the attack was postponed.

Patterson's counsel is John F. Hawkins. Carpenter is a prominent member of the Monmouth County Bar, in which the newspaper man had decidedly the worst of the encounter.

BUDGET FROM LONDON.

LIBERALS ARE ANXIOUS TO FORCE A GENERAL ELECTION.

They Believe the Present Discontent Would Involve a Victory for Their Party--Other News and Gossip From Across the Sea.

LONDON, May 23.--The Liberals are extremely anxious to force a general election at an early date as possible, owing to the discontent aroused among the British taxpayers by the land purchase bill and the belief that this discontent would involve a Liberal victory. In every speech made by the Gladstonians the cost of the land purchase scheme is kept prominently to the front, the figures being placed at 100,000,000 pounds. Instead of the Government estimate of 20,000,000 pounds, Lord Salisbury, however, shows no disposition to accept advice from his antagonists. He has a safe working majority in Parliament and a legal lease of official life for three years longer, unless a failure to support the ministry on some vital question should involve an appeal to the country.

Reports from Egypt represent the people as well satisfied with the presence of the British troops in that country and viewing with considerable favor the prospect of evacuation and abandonment of the country to the Khedive's authority. While there is no interference on the part of the British with the administration of justice among the natives themselves, yet the presence of the British is regarded as having a strong influence in preventing outrage and oppression which have usually attended native government in the East. Egyptian finances are in a more prosperous condition than for many years while the Khedive's treasury, the Sultan, is sunk in almost hopeless bankruptcy and unable to pay either his troops or his navy.

Sir Francis De Winton, Sir John Wroughton and Captain South and Williams will take their departure from London for Southeast Africa to-night in the interest of the British East African Company, and it is expected Kirby will resign his position when his arrival there. It is stated that exceptional powers have been granted by the government to Sir Francis, empowering authority to take any action that may seem to him best calculated to compass the interests of England in Africa, and at the same time extend her sphere of influence. It is an open secret that this step has been taken in deference to the recommendations and warnings of Mr. Stanley, who has consistently contended since his arrival here that Germany's activity was rapidly drawing to her the influence in Africa that England was losing by her apathy.

The German Government, through its representatives in the Anti-Slavery Conference in Brussels, is exerting a powerful influence in favor of the abolition of free trade in the Congo State, and it is understood that unless the Powers consent to the imposition duties upon imports, King Leopold will be compelled to sell the Congo country to England. The chief objection to the imposition of such duties is the fact that the Congo State is a highly-protected United States Government, which is contesting the competency of the conference to interfere with the proposed tariff.

The recent predictions as to the appointment to the vacant See of St. Albans have been upset by the elevation of Mr. Festing, the Prelate of St. Albans, to the Episcopal Chair, the appointment being a complete surprise, as it was made, it is understood, to avoid giving offense to the friends of the large number of active applicants for the place. Mr. Festing was not regarded as a possible appointee.

The government has granted an annual pension, during her lifetime, of 50 pounds to the widow of the famous British naturalist, Wood.

It is announced that Major Wissmann will arrive in that city about the end of June. Rumor alleges that his visit is at the instance of the government and with a view of obtaining the support of the British in the organization of an African campaign on an extended scale. This report is supported by the recruiting operations of Lieutenant Governor Graves.

MEN KISS EACH OTHER.

INTERESTING SCENES AT THE DUNKARDS' LOVE FEAST.

Males and Females Humbly Wash Each Other's Feet--A Quaint Custom Which Attracts Thousands--The Peculiar Meeting-House.

READING, May 23.--The peculiar religious denomination known as the Dunkards are holding their yearly love feasts in most of the German counties of Pennsylvania in the eastern part of the State. The meeting held last night at Ziegler's Meeting-House, near Hebersburg, was one of great interest. There were thousands of people in attendance and nearly all of them were Dunkards.

The service, held in the meeting-house, was a quaint one, and hundreds of women and children made the occasion before the opening of the meeting a lively one. The meeting-house is just as peculiar as the religion and the people. The floor slopes from both ends to the center. This makes it possible to look over the heads of those seated in the central portion of the church.

On the second floor are two large rooms. These were occupied last night by the brothers and sisters who came from a distance to attend the feasts, occupied by the men and the other by the women and children. These apartments are furnished with beds, blankets and cradles. The cooking is done in the basement. Some sixty men, women and children occupied these sleeping rooms last night. An ox weighing 500 pounds was slaughtered to-day for the meals.

After a sermon or two the interesting feet washing ceremony was held. When the Bishop had finished reading the biblical chapter, which describes Christ washing the feet of the Disciples, the Dunkards gave a very fair imitation of what the apostles did. One brother knelt down and washed both feet of three or four brothers sitting on a bench in a row, while another brother, girl with a tray followed and wiped the feet. The women, all of whom wore white lace caps, washed each other's feet in the same way while an appropriate hymn was being sung. Leaves of bread and hot water were placed on the table, all the members partook of the Lord's Supper. Every set of four brothers and every set of four sisters ate at one table, sitting on each side of a narrow table. The members arose after eating and embraced each other in a fervent manner. The salutation of the holy kiss followed. It was a touching scene. The women, all of whom wore white lace caps, washed each other's feet in the same way while an appropriate hymn was being sung. Leaves of bread and hot water were placed on the table, all the members partook of the Lord's Supper. Every set of four brothers and every set of four sisters ate at one table, sitting on each side of a narrow table. The members arose after eating and embraced each other in a fervent manner. The salutation of the holy kiss followed. It was a touching scene. One brother knelt down and washed both feet of three or four brothers sitting on a bench in a row, while another brother, girl with a tray followed and wiped the feet.
