The board declared a dividend of 5 per cent. for the six months ending September 30 on the stock of the Washington Branch, and a resolution was passed stating that it was deemed inexpedient to declare any dividend on the common stock, in view of the large expenditures which the company is making for important improvements and additional works.

Dr. Elmer B. Bingham of Caracas, Guayana, a son-in-law of General Barronia, was also in this city yesterday. He came here to consult with the State Department relative to his father-in-law's assassination, and thinks the result will be a suit for damages against the Guatemalan Government.

THE MILLS OF JUSTICE

THE DAILY GRIST GROUND OUT AT TWO PRECINCTS.

An Acquaintance With His Honor and What It Cost--First They Will Pay for Police Court Repairs.

"I don't know nothing," said Judge, the first witness called by the New Jersey avenue station this morning, was interrogated by the police.

"I know I do," said his Honor, "and in consequence of that acquaintance you can pay a fine of $5."

A DISORDERLY CROWD.

Mollie Bateson, Della Dowden, Wm. Lee, alias Taylor, Thomas Isaacs and John Studer were all required to pay a fine of $5 or serve fifteen days for disorderly conduct and profanity.

TWO MONTHS ON THE YARM.

"Twenty dollars or sixty days," were the sentences given Michael Lanhady, Jack Murphy, William Ross, Charles Kelly and Thomas MacFarlane by Judge Mills suspended sentence in the latter case, with the understanding that Marlow was to leave town at once.

FATHER H. SHEEHY and Noble Rush were both charged with keeping unlicensed bars. The former was continued until October 21. Mr. Cahill asked for the same continuance for Rush. District Attorney Dunson said that as far as Rush was concerned he objected. Rush, he said, was an habitual criminal, and when out of jail was a constant source of trouble on Maryland avenue, and the allowance of a continuance would only give him more time to violate law. As Mr. Cahill was engaged in an important case in the Criminal Court the continuance was granted.

WRITE BY NAME ONLY.

Preston White, colored, was fined $50, or three months in jail, for having stolen two valuable hounds from Howard Dent, the druggist, corner of Fifth and O streets. The dogs were chained securely in the basement of a store, but while claimed that he found the dogs upon the street and he was seen with them by Officers Dean and Heide.

BOYS WHO FIGHT.

Two little white boys, Joseph and Adolphus Le Compton, aged 11 and 12 years, were in court to-day charged with assaulting Joseph McWhurt, another boy. The assault occurred on October 6, when they were on their way to school. A challenge had been made on the Saturday night previous. The two Le Compton boys threw McWhurt down, broke his arm and otherwise beat him. The defendants did not deny the fight, but said that it had been arranged.

"This fighting among school children must be stopped," said Judge Mills, "for it has reached such a point that people cannot send their children to the public schools without guardians. The boys must pay $10 fine each, and in default go to the Reform School."

AT THE FIRST PRECINCT.

Mary Keenan and W. A. Pixon went down for sixty days for vagrancy and for disorderly conduct and profanity. Laura Delano, Eugene D. Hayes, Hattie Wilson and Thomas Cook paid $5 fine each.

HE WAS NOT SILENT.

Robert L. Connell, who runs a cigar store on the corner of Eleventh and C streets, was charged with selling liquor without a license. Six witnesses were sworn, but they all testified that they had never obtained anything in his place but soft drinks. The case was dismissed.

WAS IT MURDER

FUGILIST MAULIFFE ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

HIS WIFE, KATIE HART, THE VICTIM.

The Well-Known Soubrette Meets With a Sudden Death.

UNDER SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

After Her Demise the Boxer Leaves the Hotel--Bruises on Her Face. An Autopsy to Be Held.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Jack Mauliffe, the champion light weight pugilist of America, was arrested in Brooklyn at 4 o'clock this morning by Detective Hayes and Special Officer O'Connell on suspicion of having caused the death of Katie Hart, the well-known soubrette, in the West Side Hotel, at Fifteenth street and Sixth avenue, yesterday afternoon.

MAULIFFE was taken to the Thirtieth-street station and he was arraigned before Coroner Hanley at the coroner's office.

He had been known for some time past in the theatrical profession that Mauliffe was engaged to marry Katie Hart. She was a young woman of remarkable physical beauty, about 19 years old, and apparently deeply in love with the boxer. It is said in some quarters that they were married a few months ago in San Francisco after Mauliffe's fight with Carroll. She was playing here in the "Natural Gas" Company.

The well-known boxer, according to the version given last night by the clerk at the hotel, walked into the West Side Hotel, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, accompanied by the young woman, and called for a room. Mauliffe had frequently lodged in the house before, and he was assigned a room on the third floor, facing Sixth avenue.

Towards 5 o'clock Mauliffe rushed down the stairs of the hotel and told the clerk that "his wife" had just died, and begged him to send for a physician. Mauliffe himself went for a doctor. When the latter arrived he found the young woman lying dead on the bed.

The case was reported to the police, and Mrs. Gustie Hart of 98 Legation avenue was notified of her daughter's death.

When Policeman McCallahan of the Nineteenth Precinct viewed the body he noticed a slight wound on the nose and a swelling of the upper lip of the dead woman, and he so reported to Acting Captain Schmittberger. The cause of the wound given by the physician in attendance was heart failure, and preparations were made to remove the body to Mauliffe's home in Williamsburg for burial.

In the details of the circumstances leading up to the tragedy were gradually brought out it occurred to Acting Captain Schmittberger to go down and view the body himself. He then made an investigation into the case, and concluding that the case looked suspicious, he detailed the two officers to secure Mauliffe.

A friend in Brooklyn, who was willing to accompany the officers. Efforts were made in some official quarters this morning to locate Mauliffe's arrest on the ground that he was merely detained.

It was learned, however, that very suspicious facts were in the possession of the police. It appears from their statements that Mauliffe, instead of giving the key to the door, locked the door and left the hotel without notifying the police.

A tall, blonde, mustached young man who claimed to be a physician, called at Mrs. Hart's house on Lexington avenue, about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He wanted to see Mrs. Hart, and when she came into the parlor he told her that her daughter was dead.

Mrs. Hart met the same physician, and on the invitation of the man, she went with him to the hotel. Here the alleged physician disappeared, but the daughter reached the room where her husband's body lay, and Mauliffe was not to be found, and the grief-stricken woman hurried up to his abode in West Twenty-sixth street, where she spent the night. She then told her mother that it was true that Katie was dead, and Mrs. Hart then rushed to the hotel. The clerk did not know the man, the woman accompanying Mauliffe was still locked and Mauliffe was sobbing. Finally it was decided to burst the door open, which was done, and there, stretched upon the bed, was the body of the actress. When Mauliffe had left his sweetheart dead, he hurried off to notify his friends. His peculiar conduct in locking the door and going away without giving any notice, led very suspicious, and Sergeant Schmittberger thought it a proper case for an autopsy.

MAULIFFE was confined in an automobile in the Thirtieth-street station-house, where he was detained and interviewed by the reporters.

Mrs. Hart, the mother of the dead woman, spent the entire night in lonely bed, beside the body of her daughter in the hotel.

MAULIFFE's mother came to the West Side Hotel last night, where she had since remained with Mrs. Hart. The actress' parents were greatly shocked this morning when it became known that the little condition was no more. The fact that she was engaged to Mauliffe was known, but those who knew her denied that she was married to him.

At noon the body was lying in an ice box in the hotel. Deputy Coroner DeWitt was hourly expected to perform an autopsy to determine the cause of death, but it was stated by the attending physician, yesterday, to have been heart disease.

The above dispatch attempts to describe the marriage of the parties, but there is no doubt among those who know the parties that they were married some weeks ago in San Francisco. Mauliffe is matched to fight Myer in New Orleans next January.

DRIVEN CRAZY BY HER TROUBLES.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 15.—On October 8 Mrs. Mary Brennan, a St. Louis woman, jumped from a running train near Clarkburg, W. Va., and fell to the woods. She was the wife of John Brennan of St. Louis, and in a fit of dementia ran away from her husband, taking their seven children with her.

When she jumped from the train she was on the way to Bethlehem, Pa., where she has a brother. The children were taken in charge and forwarded to the proper destination. They told a story to the effect that their father's cruelty had driven the mother crazy.

Two of the little boys became insane at Clarkburg. Yesterday the police found John Brennan a raving maniac in his home on Michigan avenue. He was very violent and was only secured after a fierce struggle. He was sent to an asylum. Just after he had been placed in confinement the Chief of Police received a telegram, stating that Mrs. Brennan had been found, and the husband could not comprehend the good news when it was told to him.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—According to La Presse, Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien, after leaving Tipperary, boarded a sailing vessel which carried them to Luc Sur-Mer, on the coast of Normandy, on Sunday. The night of Sunday was passed at the residence of M. Raffalovich, the Parisian banker, whose daughter Mr. O'Brien recently married. They came to Paris on Monday, and thence departed for the country seat of M. Raffalovich at Gifa, in the Department of Seine-Oise. Last night they returned to this city, but whereabouts is unknown. Should news favorable to the Irish mission be received from the United States, Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien will proceed to New York at the end of the present week. Should it become manifest that it is their purpose to remain in France, the Government will ask them to leave the country.

LATER—It is rumored that M. Raffalovich and the members of his family contracted the reports which represent the arrival in France of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien. They assert that the gentlemen sailed direct for the United States.

TIPPERARY, Oct. 15.—Mr. Healey has just received a telegram announcing the arrival of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien at Clermont, France. The fugitives were delayed by the weather, and also had to sail carefully, in order to keep out of the sight of English coasting vessels, which they feared would be on the lookout for them. The telegram says that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien are well, and will start at the earliest date possible on their tour to America.

TIPPERARY, Oct. 15.—In accordance with the decision of the magistrates to dismiss the charges against Mr. O'Mahoney, and to proceed with the criminal case against the defendants, Dillon and O'Brien, had been accompanied by John Kelly on the occasion of their visit to the tenants on the Smith Barry estate.

Mr. Healey of counsel for the defendants, and why evidence concerning Mr. Kelly was introduced into the proceedings.

Mr. Roman, counsel for the Crown, stated that by means of the evidence which was produced he intended to connect Kelly with the defendants, Dillon and O'Brien, in the carrying out of certain parts of the conspiracy.

Mr. Healey then protested against the court taking cognizance of the matters occurring anterior to the time set forth in the summons.

After a brief consultation the magistrate decided to overrule Mr. Healey's objection.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A special to the Herald from Houston, Tex., says: A most sensational kidnaping case occurred here yesterday, and up to midnight it is believed that the case was discovered. About three years ago, in St. Louis, the kidnaped child, Celeste Guines, was taken from her mother by Colonel Will Guines, late proprietor of the Austin Stables. Guines had married a Miss Evans of St. Louis, but after two years of married life the couple separated.

Guines came to Texas, and his daughter was kidnaped and taken to him. Yesterday while the child was out for a walk a hawk dove up. A woman heavily veiled alighted, and when a crowd of waiting seized the child she placed it in the carriage and drove off at a rapid rate. The police were notified, but have not as yet discovered any trace of the child.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Dr. Charles T. Cooke, residing at No. 1205 Madison street, has been indicted for the murder of a woman who was found dead in the West Side, and who was identified as the woman who was kidnaped in St. Louis.

It was the unanimous sentiment of the meeting that the candidacy of Mr. Cannon, if persisted in, would drive the party in this district, and resolutions were adopted urging the immediate withdrawal of the man with a foul mouth and the nomination of another candidate. The Cannettes are greatly alarmed at the situation.

TO BE RECALLED.

OUR CONSUL AT PALERMO DISTASTEFUL TO ITALY.

His Reports About Brigandage Show to Be Extreme--Will He Given a Position in Another Country.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A Herald special from Washington says: Consul Philip Carroll, at Palermo, Sicily, will probably be transferred to some place beyond Italy, he having ceased to be a person gratis to the Italian Government and the municipality of Palermo on the strength of his communications to the State Department. The Italian Government, encouraged by the prompt recognition by our Government of the fact that Consul Carroll had ceased to be a useful as well as an acceptable representative of his country, formally asked for his recall without subjecting him to the privation of his exchequer. At first it was supposed that the State Department was mainly responsible for the unpleasant position in which it had placed its consul, but it is learned that the rumors concerning the alleged appearance of the brigandage in Sicily and in other parts of Italy are absolutely false.

The official reports of the local authorities unanimously declare that no special act of brigandage has ever been perpetrated in Palermo, still less so in the vicinity of Rome and Florence. True, some excitement prevailed in Palermo on account of the kidnapping of Mr. Arrigo, a land owner in the district of Termini, but he was immediately released and the kidnapers were arrested and are now under trial. Florence is as peaceful and safe as usual.

The only way to account for the robberies which have recently occurred in the Roman provinces is this: That a few scattered highwaymen--by no means organized in bands--have taken advantage here and there of the special and favorable circumstances both of time and place. Moreover, the statistical returns on crime, as compared with those of foregoing years, go to prove that the number of misdemeanors of this kind has not increased, and that all rumors concerning them are exaggerated and groundless.

Under the circumstances, therefore, our Government has nothing else to do but to recall Consul Carroll, whose efficiency as a business man commends him still to the good will of the Secretary, and this will probably be accomplished by the end of the month. The consul in question is an old employee of the State Department and well known in Washington.

ACCOUNTING FOR THE PANIC.

London Papers Say That Consols Flooded the Market.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—In commenting on the fluctuation in consols the Standard says it has not been equaled since the Crimean war, and adds: "The argument that the market is unsound is plausible, but shallow. Consols are weak for the same reason that colonial securities are weak--because they are now among syndicate securities. Mr. Goschen has dislodged them from the investment books and crannies, where they had been stored for perhaps several generations, and has made them thus thrown upon the world have never found a home. Again, dear money and the higher rate of interest obtainable elsewhere have compelled or tempted temporary holders to sell."

The Times gives similar reasons in its financial article and says: "The recent fall in prices was due to gradual liquidation of enormous accounts for the year, and the withdrawal of funds was partly owing to exaggerated notions which prevailed earlier in the year as to the effect of the American silver act, and partly to the activity in trade, which encouraged operators to hold a quantity of securities in the belief that the public would, sooner or later, wish to buy. This calculation failed, because of too many busy holdings and the public being prepared to put their money into their own business enterprises."
