PICKED UP A JEWEL.

Miss Westabrook Was Negligent and Miss Mansfield is in Trouble.

Cleo Westabrook, a resident of 418 Thirteenth street, visited her dressmaker on the same street, between E and F, yesterday afternoon, to be measured for a new gown. She removed from the neck of the dress she was wearing a valuable Emerald and diamond jewel, which she laid upon a small marble top table in the room. While she was in the room Hazil Mansfield, who lives at the corner of Thirteenth and D streets, came in.

She saw the pin upon the table where it had been left by its owner and took possession of it. Cleo Westabrook went away from the dressmaker's forgetting all about the jewel. She went to the rooms of another modiste where she was measured for another dress. It was here that she missed the pin and went back to the place where she first called but there was no pin to be found.

The jewel was valued at over $300, and information of the theft was at once reported at police headquarters. Detective Horne took hold of the case and succeeded in recovering the property and arrested the Mansfield woman. She denies that she stole the article, but says she picked it up upon the street.

When arraigned in the Police Court this morning the defendant acknowledged having had possession of the pin, and told the Judge that she had found it on the steps of Mrs. Cavanaugh's dressmaking establishment. Detective Horne stated that when he went to Hazil Mansfield's home she said she had a pin before he asked her for it and gave it to him. Judge Miller said there was no evidence of the pin having been stolen and dismissed the case.

Favoring Light Gymnastics.

Dr. E. L. Tompkins lectured before a large audience in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium hall last night upon the subject of "The Evil Effects of Excessive Physical Exercise." Dr. Tompkins condemned heavy gymnastics, and cited a number of cases of injury from excessive exercise that have come under his personal observation. He was glad to note the radical change in the methods of instruction in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, light exercise being adopted. He strongly commended this departure from former methods of gymnasium instruction.

Night School Opens.

At the night school in the Thompson Building, 1016 Twelfth street, one hundred and fifty-four pupils were enrolled last night. It was the first meeting of the school for the session, and the most of the time was occupied in the organization of the classes. The teachers are Mr. F. A. Springer, principal; Mrs. Baldwin, Miss Golden, Miss North and Mr. Thornton, the latter teacher of stenography. The school will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

Fell from His Box.

A cab-driver by the name of Taylor Brassford fell from his vehicle near the corner of Seventh and D streets last night and was painfully cut about the head. Sergeant Boyle found him lying in the street and had him removed to the Emergency Hospital where his wounds were dressed. He was afterward taken to the Twelfth street station.

The committee on transportation reported, showing that reduced rates would be granted to Virginians who desired to go home to vote.

The District Christian Endeavor Unions held a meeting last night at Memorial Lutheran Church. Devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. S. H. Murray. The report showed the union to be in a flourishing condition. The special topic of the evening was "The Prayer Meeting," on which addresses were made by a number of those present.

Inside the new home the exercises will begin with an orchestral overture, followed by an address of welcome by President Jacob Jose.
