When baseball is a question of science, it has to be approached as a study of causation and not as a question of chance. The player who has the ability to hit the ball more frequently than any other player in the world is the one who can be called a great hitter. The great hitter is one who has the ability to hit the ball in a way that is not only more frequent but also more effective. The great hitter is one who can hit the ball in such a way that it goes in a straight line and not in a curve. The great hitter is one who can hit the ball in such a way that it will go directly to the ground and not into the air. The great hitter is one who can hit the ball in such a way that it will go directly to the center of the field and not to the left or right. The great hitter is one who can hit the ball in such a way that it will go directly to the catcher and not to the pitcher. The great hitter is one who can hit the ball in such a way that it will go directly to the first baseman and not to the second baseman. The great hitter is one who can hit the ball in such a way that it will go directly to the third baseman and not to the shortstop.
