Eliminate Bugs

Mrs. L. B. S., Kensington For Mrs. J. R., Washington: I, too, didn't want to take roaches from an apartment to a new house several years ago. Rather skeptically, as a last resort I tried a suggestion in the Clearing House, and found it worked. I moved with no roaches at all after I liberally sprinkled all around the baseboards with equal parts of borax, sugar and flour.

* * * * *

Clean Carriage C. E. K., Washington

C. E. K., Washington

In the RCH, Mrs. J. B. M. of Arlington asked what she could do to insure that the mattress in a second-hand carriage was "sanitary." No bedding in Washington can be resold without special treatment, which is certified on a tag. As a nurse, I have met this problem and discovered that the cost of sterilization was so high that I might almost have started afresh with new goods. There is no way one can sterilize bedding at home. However, it is very easy home. However, it is very easy to provide a mattress for a carriage. Infants are very much less sensitive on such matters than young mothers realize. A summer blanket folded up is completely ade-quate for the baby's require-ments. A mother who doubts this can make a really soft

Camp Directory

A directory of summer camps serving the Washington area, which is complied and published by the United Community Services of Washington and the Capital Section of the American Camping Associa-tion, is available for 25 cents a copy through the United Community Services, 1101 M street N.W., Washington 5, Camps marked with an asterik in the directory in-dicated that the camp holds membership in the American Camping Association and thereby has accepted the obligation of meeting camp standards as adopted by the Association. These standards are listed on the first sheet of the directory.

Nontoxic Paint Mrs. J. N., Chevy Chase For Mrs. K. R. W. Leadfree paint, safe finish for nursery toys and furniture, which is odorless and leaves a high sheen can be ordered from the Keystone Paint and Varnish

Red Cross Needs Blood Donor Aides

Can you spare a few hours each week as a volunteer in a stimulating, vital job? If so, enroll now for the new summer blood donor aide orientation course, which will be launched by the District of Columbia Red Cross Chapter, Monday, June 6, 10 a.m. at the chapter house, 2025 E street N.W. Subsequent basic trainnm. Subsequent basic training classes will be held June 9 and June 13, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the chapter house's air-conditioned headquarters at 2025 E street N.W.

The chapter urgently needs some 20 additional blood depressibles to assist the decrease of the control of the some 20 additional blood donor aides to assist the doc-tors and nurses in the Blood Center and on bloodmobiles. Bloodmobiles cover the city and the Tri-State area—Virand the ITI-State area—vir-ginia, West Virginia and Maryland — collecting blood that the Red Cross Washing-ton Regional Blood Center processes and distributes to 60 processes and distributes to 60 military, veterans and civilian hospitals.

Blood donor aides may serve

1 p.m. to 5 p.m. or 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesdays through Fri-days, they may serve from 9 Continued From Page B-1 a.m. to 1 p.m. or 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. In addition to working in an air-cooled building, the chapter provides free parking facilities for its volunteers. here which will be followed by an international session in Geneva, beginning Tuesday. About 350 women will fly from For immediate enrollment and further details telephone Executive 3-7600, Ext. 201. New York tomorrow or Sunday for the two-day overseas session and most of them will take the month-long post-

> The list of plane passengers released last night includes Miss Jane Fuller, American University student whose home University student whose home is in Brockton, Mass.; Mrs. B. R. Addenbrooke, Mrs. William Clise Corbett and Mrs. William Clise Corbett and Mrs. William Clise Corbett and Mrs. Louis A. Gravelle, Bethesda, Md.; Mrs. Thomas B. Crisp, Chevy Chase, Md.; Mrs. Oscar L. Bradenburger, McLean, Va., and Mrs. Robert Kauch, Fairfax, Va. Robert Kauch, Fairfax, Va.

convention tour of Europe.

The establishment of a United States department of consumer interests was rec-ommended in a resolution adopted by the delegates yes-terday.

At the same time they turned down a proposal to increase annual per capita dues, paid to the general federation by affiliated clubs from 25 to 60 cents.

carried.

THE EVENING STAR, Washington, D. C. folk, Va., president of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Schweitzer first chal-lenged the proposal on the ground it wasn't submitted to the revisions committee before

January 1, as required by the

Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, GFWC president, ruled that the proposed amendment to the bylaws was in order be-cause the executive committee, at a meeting in February, had felt there was no alternative to a dues increase.

Mrs. Schweitzer appealed the

Mrs. Schweitzer appealed the ruling but withdrew her ap-peal when it necessitated a poll of the delegates. She then moved that the amendment be deleted and her motion was

In another action, the convention adopted a resolution supporting the "inherent rights of people to self de-termination." Mme. Melas, wife of the Greek Ambassador, was among those speaking in

Annual Meeting

The Francis Wallis Chapter of the Virginia Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold its annual meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the home of the former regent, Mrs. James Al-bert Dowie, 3 West Monroe avenue, Alexandria. Annual reports will be given.

R. HARRIS & CO.

Towle STERLING

Special offer ends May 28th. Get a handsome 3-piece carving set ($55 Value) free with the purchase of a Towle 46-pc. service for 8.

R. Harris & Co.

Fairfax Hunt Show Many area residents will attend the 1955 Fairfax Hunt horse show tomorrow at the club house grounds at Sunset Hills. Boxholders include Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Alfriend IV. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brookes, jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith Bowman, ir., Mr. and Mrs. DeLong Bowman, Gen. and Mrs. Jacob L. Devers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wade Dorsett, Col. and Mrs. W. T. Eglin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Graham, Judge Mrs. Robert D. Granam, Judge and Mrs. Charles D. Hamel, Mr. Carroll Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mackall, the Madeira School, Col. and Mrs. George H. Millholland, Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Smith, Mrs. David Wing and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woodbridge

If you want to look unruffled . . .

$17.95

In misses' sizes 10 to 18 ... our column of a dress curved close in washable spun rayon, an expensive linen look. It's double breasted, ringed with a great swoop of white collar. Also in navy blue . . . same effect! Jelleff's Misses' Dress Shop, Second Floor F Street and at all branch stores.

> First hour parking free with purchases of $5.00 or more

This is so exciting . . . almost 500 once-in-a-bluemoon buys! DOG COLLARS, CHOKERS, BOTH UNIFORM AND GRADUATED STRANDS . . . FROM CLASSIC ONE-ROW TO DRAMATIC FIVE ROWS, all with glistening rhinestone clasps. The famous Marvella label dangles from every single necklace . . . a wonderful big impression of you've gift-giving in mind.

Simulated PEARLS

Marvella

Jelleff's Jewelry, Street Floor F Street

SALE!

Famous

of the most famous cottons in Washington are Jelleff exclusives!

Jelleff's Cotton Shop, Fifth Floor F

Street and at Bethesda, Shirlington, Silver Spring, Conn.

in back . . . look: a contrast panel of unpressed pleats bustled with little bows, more fun than a backward glance. A Minx Modes in lilac, aqua

So sedate in front . . . but Juniors . . . if you're our bow back cotton!

a flirt, so is $17.95

or blue Pima cotton; sizes to 15.

Jelleff's Junior Deb Shop, Fourth Floor Street and at Conn. Avenue