

Harvard Head Assailed By McCarthy at Trial

BOSTON, Oct. 14 (AP).—Senator McCarthy, Republican of Wisconsin, concluded his testimony yesterday in the contempt of Congress trial of Leon J. Kamin, former Harvard research aide, with a denunciation of Harvard President Nathan A. Pusey.

Senator McCarthy declared from the witness chair:

"I have no respect for a man who will harbor Fifth Amendment Communists. . . . I think a man who does this should not be a college president. Pusey should be exposed. An educational institution which harbors Communists should be exposed."

The Wisconsin Republican said his first contact with Dr. Pusey came in 1952 "during my campaign, and I've had no particular love for the man since."

Dr. Pusey, then president of Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis., had opposed Senator McCarthy when he successfully sought re-election to the Senate.

Pusey Declines Comment

Calvin Bartlett, attorney for Mr. Kamin, later asked if he had used the word "campaign" in reference to Dr. Pusey. Senator McCarthy answered in the affirmative, adding:

"I think I told you my first contact with Dr. Pusey was during my campaign in 1952."

"Did he oppose your election?" asked Mr. Bartlett.

Senator McCarthy replied: "He signed a vicious smear article which was approved by the Daily Worker (a Communist newspaper). I guess you would say he opposed my election."

Mr. Pusey refused to comment on Senator McCarthy's testimony about him.

At another point, Mr. Bartlett asked Senator McCarthy if he felt Harvard was a Communist sanctuary and he replied:

"I am not sure sanctuary is the right word. There was a statement by the Harvard president or someone that they would not eliminate Fifth Amendment Communists. I guess that would make them a sanctuary."

On Stand All Day

Mr. Kamin, now engaged in research at Queens University, Kingston, Ont., is charged with contempt of Congress for refusing to name Communist associates when he testified at a Boston hearing in January, 1954, of the Senate Permanent Investigations Subcommittee which Senator McCarthy then headed.

Mr. Kamin had admitted he was once a Communist but balked when asked to name others with Red convictions.

Senator McCarthy was on the stand under cross-examination all day yesterday. When court

Perfect Circle Strike Costly To Union, State

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Oct. 14 (AP).—The CIO United Auto Workers and the Indiana Budget Committee dug deeper today to pay the costs of a 12-week-old strike at the Perfect Circle Corp. plants in Eastern Indiana.

Maintaining nearly 1,000 National Guardsmen on duty, as the result of a riot last week at the firm's foundry here, is costing the State between $10,000 and $11,000 a day. The figure came from Horace Coats, executive secretary to Gov. George N. Craig.

The State Budget Committee yesterday authorized use of the State's general contingent fund of $75,000 for Guard expenses. One week of guard duty had exhausted the State civil and military contingent fund, which is set up on a basis of $75,000 a year.

The UAW wasn't saying how much strike benefits it was paying or how many strikers were drawing them, but it has a $25-million special strike fund. Perfect Circle's normal production force here and at Hagerstown and Richmond totals 1,300, but some are not UAW members.

Ban on Production Sought

The union has another weapon in the bitter strike—influence. The Taft-Hartley Act ban on secondary boycotts prohibits the UAW from striking against another company in an effort to prevent it from using Perfect Circle products, but the UAW considers itself within the law in asking the big auto companies not to use them.

"There is blood on those products," said a UAW spokesman at Detroit, referring to the outbreak of violence here last week in which both strikers and non-strikers were wounded.

Chrysler Corp. confirmed that its Plymouth plant began using piston rings from another source after its employees balked at handling Perfect Circle products. General Motors and Ford reportedly still are accepting shipments from Perfect Circle.

Foundry Production Resumed

The foundry here resumed production Wednesday and a company spokesman said its volume should reach 50 per cent of normal by the first of next week. It produces rough castings which are processed into piston rings by the Hagerstown and Richmond plants.

The latter plants have operated with reduced forces throughout the strike. Petitions to decertify the UAW at both Hagerstown and Richmond are pending before the National Labor Relations Board.

The strike began July 25, with the union demanding a 21-cent hourly wage increase, a union shop and a layoff pay plan. Perfect Circle offered 11 cents. Present wages range from $1.21 to more than $2 an hour.
