THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Foreign.—The czar has arrived at Ploesti. ... Domestic.—The South Carolina Legislature has declared vacant the seat of Judge R. B. Carpenter.

PERSONAL.

Gov. Swann of Maryland and the Hon. George H. Pendleton of Ohio have arrived at Newport for the summer. ... The late Charlotte Harris of Boston has given to Harvard a bequest of $2,000 for the observatory.

revenue. The failure of their predictions is not necessarily an argument for a return to higher tolls, but the steady decline of the canal revenues must bring about sooner or later some change in the methods prescribed by the Constitution for the payment of interest on the canal debt and the extinguishment of the canal itself.

THE SWEENEY CASE.

Peter B. Sweeney has vindicated his reputation as the most astute of all the members of the old Tammany Ring. When the catastrophe came in 1871 he showed no trepidation like Connelly and braved no risks like Tweed. He knew very well that the truth must come out, but he seems to have preserved too much confidence in himself to be mainly alarmed about it, while he knew too well the character of the lesser members of the conspiracy and judged too shrewdly their probable course of action to imagine that he could stay at home and fight.

ON THE DANUBE.

The Spring rise of the Danube, occasioned by the melting of snow on the long ranges of the Alps and Carpathians, is subsiding. Russia has a force of 324,000 men, concentrated at four points on the northern bank, from Galatz to Kalamita, three of them confronting the Turkish strongholds of Rustchuk, Nikopolis, and Vidin; and still no attempt is made to cross the river.

RICKING AND SQUIMMING.

Mr. Benjamin F. Butler seems unable to follow his own advice or to take his own prescription. In his recent letter to "My Dear Pitkin," after tracing the remarkable analogy between the sacrifice of Isaac and the removal of Pitkin from the office of United States Marshal, he enjoined it upon Pitkin "not to kick and squirm any more than Isaac did when 'he lay upon the altar under the 'knife of his father Abraham.'"

NEW NAVAL TACTICS.

Secretary Thompson has some inland prejudices, and he does not seem to be altogether satisfied with the recent cruise of the United States man-of-war Yantic. A United States man-of-war usually runs aground somewhere, or hauls up for repairs, or is driven by stress of weather into a different quarter of the globe from the one for which she originally steers.

PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 6.

The exhibitors of the Permanent Exhibition will tender a farewell reception to Henry Pettit, Chief of the Bureau of Management, who will sail next week on an extended tour in Europe for the benefit of his health. The reception will take place at the log-cabin in the Exhibition building.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Gen. Butler limps forward at last with his return bill, but it is only a ball of mud. There is a pretty loud and unanimous call for the resignation of Minister Pierpont. The country has in some way imbibed a prejudice against him.

terminal as guns and machinery without breaking in two, and whether their commanders can be trusted to pass judgment on their seaworthiness. ... A REMARKABLE WOMAN. Of course, Mrs. Lydia Sherman, who lately escaped from the Connecticut State Prison, is called a Lucrezia Borgia or a Brinvilliers in the newspapers. If she poisoned three husbands and seven children, as she is said to have done, she is certainly entitled to a place in the catalogue of eminent criminals of her sort.

GENERAL NOTES.

New Lynde Brook Dam was formally presented to the authorities at Worcester, Mass., on Tuesday. It was on March 30, 1876, that the old dam gave way, and a flood of waters descended into the valley below, there to wreak many a factory, dwelling, and bridge.

which are practiced upon those who do pay. There are signs, however, of reform. The other day one of the judges of the Supreme Court applied for a pass over the Vermont Valley road—a most indecent thing for a judge to do. He was informed that there was one railway in Vermont which "didn't propose to buy up the Supreme Court with free passes." A good beginning!

There will be none of the old-time issues. The leading men of both parties widely agree on the necessity of re-monetizing the old silver dollar, the dollar of our fathers, the money of our manly men. Inflation by paper money, and those who advocate it, are, as you will know, justly decried, if not scolded, they are shaking the ribs of the rag-baby, and living on wind and hope.

Ex-Congressman Sheldon, who was a Republican elector in Louisiana, makes a complete endorsement of the President's policy toward the State. He says Packard would have required the consent of the State to have a Republican elector, and that the President's course was inevitable. He adds: "We have peace, confidence, more tolerance of opinion than ever before, and so far as I can see, better protection to life, liberty, property, and all legal rights. I believe Shields to be a good man, and that he will faithfully and effectively perform his duties. The race issue in politics, with all the attending prejudices, is passing away. It looks as if intelligence and integrity would now dominate, without regard to color. I believe we are in a better position to have a Republican elector, and that the President's policy is a wise one. The policy of pacification is right. It ought to have been the policy of the country. There is no sense in talking the ribs of the rag-baby, and living on wind and hope."
