

PRESIDENT PUTS JAPANESE ISSUE UP TO JOHNSON

Wilson Orders Note to Be Written to Governor of California.

SUGGESTS TEXT OF BILL

Chief Executive Urges that a Recognition of International Affairs in Proposed Law.

Alarmed by the deadly earnestness of the Japanese in manifesting their objections to the anti-Japanese legislation pending in the State of California...

The message to Gov. Johnson, sent by Secretary of State Bryan at the President's direction, was as follows:

The President directs me to say that while he fully recognizes the right of the people of California to legislate according to their judgment on the subject of land tenure...

Follows Roosevelt Method.

This President Wilson has adopted essentially the same course in handling the anti-Japanese tendencies of the Pacific Coast as was taken by former President Roosevelt in 1897...

Temporary relief from the strained relations now existing is expected promptly when the President's message is published in Japan...

It is not believed, however, that the passage of the Senate bill, which the President believes is "greatly to be preferred," will remove the real cause of Japanese resentment against California and the United States...

Continued on Page Three.

MIKADO SILENT.

YOSHINOBU, THE YOUNG EMPEROR OF JAPAN.

Who is emulating the conduct of President Wilson in regard to the anti-Japanese legislation in California, which has aroused the Orientals to such a pitch that signposts in the island empire have urged that war be declared with the United States...

ALIEN ISSUE UP TO GOVERNOR.

HIRAM J. JOHNSON, of California.

CAUCUS BINDS MAJORITY VOTES TO TARIFF BILL

House Democrats Are Lined Up in Favor of Underwood Measure.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED

New Tariff Schedules Will Be Discussed on the Floor All Week.

The Democratic caucus of the House completed consideration of the Underwood tariff bill last night, after making a number of minor changes in the bill and after Majority Leader Underwood succeeded in putting through by 129 to 5 a resolution absolutely binding every Democratic member of the House to vote for every item in the bill...

The bill will be reintroduced in the House tomorrow, and the actual debate will begin Wednesday. Under the terms of a resolution offered by Representative Hardwick of Georgia, general debate will be limited to eight days...

Minor Changes Made.

The Ways and Means Committee met early yesterday and adopted a number of changes, which were afterward ratified by the caucus. It is expected that the free sugar provision should be amended as to its effective date on May 1, 1915...

An amendment to the income tax bill was accepted, providing that mutual savings banks not conducted for corporate profits should be made exempt. Complaint was made that if these institutions were taxed the tax would fall heavily upon depositors...

A bitter fight was precipitated on the provision which affords a 5 per cent discount on articles imported in American-owned and American-built ships. Representative Harrison of Mississippi attacked this item on the ground that it was in conflict with most of our treaties with European nations...

Herald Read in Far-of Persia By American

Letter Received from E. T. Lawrence Asks Paper to Send Him Picture of Woodrow Wilson.

American patriotism reaches to the ends of the earth—and so does The Washington Herald. A recent demonstration of both propositions is the receipt by The Herald of a travel-worn and much-postmarked letter from Kazvin, Persia...

CONVICT HEIR TO BIG ESTATE AND BECOMES ENGLISH LORD

Fred Grey, Locked Up in Leavenworth, to Assume Title on Release in June.

Leavenworth, Kans., April 19.—A telegram was received today at the Federal prison announcing that convict, Fred Grey, by the death of an elder brother in England, would succeed to the title and a large estate.

STRIKE COSTS BELGIUM $12,000,000 IN A WEEK

Half of the Male Population of the Country Out—No Signs of Settlement.

Brussels, Belgium, April 19.—Twelve million dollars is the figure compiled in trustworthy circles of Belgium's loss in the first six days of the strike for equal political rights, which has been joined by about 400,000 men, half the male working population of the country.

BURNS SAYS MARTIN PLANNED DISAPPEARANCE

Bought Entire New Outfit and Is at Swiss Resort with Spanish Woman.

London, April 19.—William J. Burns, the American detective, declared tonight that he had dropped the case of Joseph Wilberforce Martin, the "missing" cotton broker from Memphis, Tenn., because he had located Martin at a small village near Vevey, Switzerland, in company with the Spanish woman who has been profeminently mentioned in the case.

Burns said that he had notified the Martin family in Memphis, who had retained him, that the missing man had been located and, as he held no warrant for Martin, his connection with the case had immediately ceased.

Burns said tonight that he had learned that Martin purchased an entire outfit of clothing on the morning of April 4, and then left for Folkstone on the 10 o'clock train. From there he went to Paris via Boulogne and thence to Vevey.

Aviator Brodie Killed.

Clearing, Ill., April 19.—Otto W. Brodie, an aviator, was killed today when his aeroplane turned turtle and fell from fifty feet above the ground.

6125 Baltimore and Return. Baltimore, Md., April 19.—Every Saturday and Sunday, Good to return until 5:30 a. m. train Monday, All trains both ways, including the Rural Limited.

WILSON FEARED GRAFT AT BALL, SAYS HIS SISTER

Mrs. Anna Wilson Howe Tells Why President Called Off Inaugural Fete.

TALKS OF SOCIETY HERE

Washington "Set" Was Surprised at Attainments of the Executive's Daughters, She Declares.

Paris, April 18.—President Wilson's reason for withholding his approval of an inaugural ball was that he had heard of the tremendous graft that had attended all of the previous functions. This was the statement made here today by Mrs. Anna Wilson Howe, of Philadelphia, sister of the President.

"My brother's real reason for not giving an inaugural ball this year was that he wished to do away with the enormous petty graft which has always been connected with this affair," said Mrs. Howe.

Society Surprised, She Says.

Mrs. Howe is in Paris for a year's stay with her daughter, Mrs. Perrin C. Cottrill, of South Carolina. The mother said that her daughter had been in ill health for some time, and found the strains of social duties at the White House too much for her, and that her physician recommended a year's rest in Europe.

"My brother has really been entering into the social life of the city with a vengeance," she said. "It has not been apparent owing to the lack of ostentation. On his invitation my daughter went to make her home at the White House, but she found the strain too much and I was forced to bring her here."

Mrs. Howe and her daughter have been the recipients of many social honors from the American Ambassador, Mr. Herriot. At a recent reception yesterday they met the foreign diplomatic set and soon will be presented to President and Mrs. Poincaré. While in Paris Mrs. Cottrill will resume the cultivation of her voice.

CAMPAIGN BY MOORE FOR CABINET PLACE

It Is Said McReynolds Has Letters Written by Weather Bureau Man Showing Activity.

CONFIDENCE WAS SHOWN

New York, April 20.—The Sun today prints the following dispatch from Washington:

"Attorney General McReynolds has in his possession a suit case full of the letters written by Willis L. Moore, as chief of the Weather Bureau, to the main branch Moore office to have charge of the Weather Station which he established at Trenton shortly after Wilson was nominated, and Waters was a one-time candidate for the Cabinet post which Moore himself coveted. This is shown by letters from other persons who were associated with Moore in the Weather Bureau and whom he relied upon in the fight he waged to become a member of President Wilson's official family."

"Moore apparently had supreme confidence in his campaign. He is said to have declared in a letter dated March 3, the day before President Wilson's inauguration, that his appointment would be announced and that his appointment had been announced on the following day. He based his expressions of confidence on many grounds. It is understood that one of these is said to have been 'W. H. have Brother Joseph Daniels with us.' At another time he is said to have expressed the opinion that Representative Sidney Burleson of Texas, now Postmaster General, favored his candidacy."

"In various letters Moore's anxiety to meet and make a good impression on Joseph P. Tumulty, the President's secretary, is indicated. Several unsuccessful attempts are said to be described, and on one occasion the excuse offered by Tumulty for not seeing him was that the secretary 'had to go over to Jersey City and settle a strike.' In the face of these momentous tasks, it is weighed upon Tumulty, however, Moore succeeded in securing an interview, and in another letter he expressed his satisfaction at the impression he believed he had made."

HATCHETMAN KILLS AND MAIDS IN WAR OF TONGS

Police Seek Oriental Who Shot Interpreter and Chopped Laundryman in Columbus, Den.

Columbus, Ohio, April 19.—In a fierce tong war here today one Chinaman was shot and killed and another is dying at a hospital with a hole in his head from a blow with a hatchet. The fight took place in a Chinese gambling den. S. W. Lang, twenty-five years of age, a Chinese interpreter from Baltimore, was shot to death, and Woo Gow, a laundryman, was chopped with a hatchet, will probably die. The hatchetman is being sought. Yee Jack, a former Chinese merchant, is under arrest.

CHIEF LEGATEE OF FATHER'S ESTATE.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN, JR.

MORGAN LEAVES $100,000,000 ART WORKS FOR DAUGHTERS

Daughters Receive Three Million Dollars in Trust Each, as Was Forecast.

PROPERTY GOES TO WIFE

Mrs. Morgan Also to Have Yearly Income of $100,000—Year's Salary for Office Employees.

Morgan's Wealth Greatest; How He Disposed of It

J. P. Morgan's fortune, the largest ever bequeathed in America; comparison: Real estate, insurance, bank, railroad, industrial, and other stocks, $40,000,000.

Value of art collections, conservatively estimated, $50,000,000. Total, $100,000,000. How It Compares with Other Inherited Fortunes: John Jacob Astor, $72,115,691. E. H. Harriman, $49,558,854. Cornelius Vanderbilt, $3,350,000. Russell Sage, $78,900,000. John L. Kenney, $65,558,000. Marshall Field (Chicago), $70,000,000. Jay Gould, $78,000,000. W. H. Vanderbilt, $40,000,000. Mr. Morgan left $20,000,000 to each daughter; $100,000 a year and residences in town and country to wife; residuary estate absolutely to his only son.

New York, April 19.—"I commit my soul into the hands of my Savior, in full care that having redeemed it and washed it in His most precious blood He will present it faultless before the throne by my Heavenly Father; and I entreat my children to maintain and defend at all hazard, and at any cost of personal sacrifice, the blessed doctrine of the complete atonement for sin through the blood of Jesus Christ, once offered, and through that alone."

This is the striking utterance which begins the last will and testament of John Pierpont Morgan, who died at Rome on March 31 last, and whose body, heaped over with flowers from the crowned heads of Europe, was a fortnight later brought back to his own land, and last Monday was borne to its last resting place at Hartford, Conn. Ever since the funeral the publication of the great financier's last will has been awaited with keen expectation and it is safe to say that of all the testaments of eminent citizens of America that of Mr. Morgan is by far the most interesting. As to the amount of the estate there is nothing in the will to give any accurate indication, and the executors declare no announcement will be made on this point until the appraisal has been made for determining the state inheritance tax.

Specific Bequests $20,000,000.

The amount of bequests and trusts named by specific sums is under twenty million dollars, but the entire residue of the estate is left to J. P. Morgan, Jr., who is designated by his father to become the chief heir, not only to his fortune, but to his many charitable and artistic activities.

Mr. Morgan has apparently provided with painstaking care for every contingency that might affect his family or his banking firm and to his executors and H. L. Satterlee, and his friend, Lewis Cass Lyday, he gives careful directions under many clauses as to alternate course of procedure. His grandson, Julius Spencer Morgan, Jr., a young man of only twenty-one, is named as executor.

Continued on Page Four.

Chinese Republic Sets Prayer Day For New Republic

Next Sunday Supplication Will Be Made for Country's Welfare.

What Secretary of State Bryan regards as a most remarkable document was made public by him in the form of the appeal of the Chinese government for a day of prayer in behalf of the republic. Mr. Bryan's eye was caught by newspaper dispatches stating that a day of prayer had been set by the Chinese Cabinet, and he called to the American Legation for a complete copy of the proclamation. Here it is:

"Prayer is requested for the National Assembly now in session, for the new government for the President who is to be elected, for the constitution of the republic, that the government may be recognized by the powers, that peace may reign within our country, that strong and virtuous men may be elected to office, and that the government may be established upon a strong foundation. Upon receipt of this telegram you are requested to notify all churches in your province that April 27 has been set aside as a day of prayer for the nation. Let us all take part."

THREE KILLED; 23 HURT ON THE PANAMA CANAL

Premature Explosion of Dynamite in Cut Between Locks Causes Fatalities.

Panama, April 19.—Three men were killed and twenty-three wounded today by a premature explosion of dynamite between the Pedro Miguel and the Miraflores locks.

The accident occurred shortly after the noon hour, in the cut between the two monster locks. Ninety-six drill holes had been bored and the requisite amount of dynamite placed in each boring. Twenty-one thousand pounds of the explosive had been placed in position when, without any preliminary warning, the entire "charge" went off with a roar and shock that were noticeable even in the neighborhood where blasting has been going on for several years.

Only the fact that the material in the explosion seems to be that a similar formation at this point had generated a certain amount of heat—enough to set off the dynamite which constituted the charge.

GETTING A HABIT.

Herald Want Ad readers are Want Ad boosters.

They can't help it. Ask their advice about where and how to find a room, an apartment, a new house and lot, a farm, a store to buy, a business partnership to form, a profitable position, and they always preface their advice by this question: "Have you used a Herald Want Ad?"

If you haven't used the Wants they will proceed to tell you that your time and effort have been wasted.

Herald Wants make a direct appeal to those who WANT and those who want are open to conviction, and particularly the conviction of the Want Ads.

Think of the thousands who read The Herald Want Ads every day.

MARSHALL WOULD REPEAL CERTAIN DIVORCE LAWS

Vice President Advocates Not Giving Allowances to Attorneys Before Decrees.

RAPS AMBULANCE CHASER

George Washington University Law School Students and Alumni Hold Annual Dinner.

While Vice President Marshall first smoked a cigarette and then pleaded with them to work for a higher ethical standard in the profession of law, students and alumni of George Washington University Law School last night, at Rauscher's, recounted the fight of the school for existence, at the first annual dinner of the association since its organization nearly a century ago.

Mr. Marshall advocated the repealing of laws in order to prevent an allowance being made by a court to attorneys in divorce suits in advance of decrees. It was asserted by the Vice President that one-half of the divorcees of the country would be prevented if the allowance provision in divorce cases, which he said is a bribe held up by the law to lawyers, was stopped.

The "ambulance chaser" type of lawyer was excoriated by Mr. Marshall, who recommended that instead of a 50 per cent fee in contingent personal damage cases, State laws should be passed financing the cases of litigants in damage suits who were too poor to pay a lawyer in advance for handling their cases.

Old Methods Best.

A return to the old-fashioned method of handling contracts, when scrivener instead of barristers drew up contracts, was urged by Mr. Marshall. He contrasted the old-fashioned method of "going to law" with the present method, when, as he put it, a litigant does not ask as to the justice of his case, but requires to be told "how near I can come to the penitentiary without getting into jail."

There was a sentiment in the dinner, and a harmony in their songs, that spoke of the years that the law students had, as they told, struggled to maintain an unbroken record of success that could not be expressed during the years that George Washington was not able to maintain an athletic department seemed to find vent in the school songs.

Graduates of the class of '59 joined with freshmen in shouting the praises of the law school that the oldest alumnus could remember.

Walter C. Clephane, of the law school faculty, deprecated the lack of confidence in the public today in lawyers. The loss of public confidence, Mr. Clephane said, is due to the archaic laws under which a lawyer is having to operate in this country, and to the delay of lawyers in getting ready their cases for trial.

Vice President's Speech.

The Vice President said, in part: "In opening I wish to remark that the public did not see the hat in my eye when I was in the White House. I was forced to leave the profession of law in order to stop being a scoundrel."

"You have spoken of the struggle of your university to maintain its existence. To my mind, there is a danger in institutions of the United States having too great an endowment. If I had a boy and sent him to school, I should send him to a school that did not have too much money."

"Much more progress has been made in science and in law by men working in poorly equipped laboratories. These same men have failed during the following years of prosperity to maintain the high standards for which they set themselves at the beginning. You are not in a bad institution because you are not distracted by pomp and wealth. I hope that the philanthropic institutions will recognize your need, but will not give any more than is needed."

"The lawyer is always in the vanguard of progress. The idea that no man has more influence in the community than a lawyer is a delusion."

POPE CONVALESCENT; BULLETINS STOPPED

Pontiff's Condition Much Improved, Report Physicians Following Cessation of Fever.

Rome, April 19.—The Pope continued to show improvement today, and his physicians say he is well on the way to convalescence. So great has been the improvement in his condition during the last few days that the doctors have decided to issue but one bulletin daily hereafter.

The Pontiff now has spent four feverish days, and his condition has shown a consequent improvement.

Another favorable omen was the departure from the Vatican of Anna Saro, the Pope's sister, who has remained almost constantly at his bedside during the recent relapse. It is said that the presence of this sister was required, as she was the only one whom the Pope would obey. He strongly resented even the direct advice of the physicians.

Tonight an unofficial report states that his illness is much improved over his condition of yesterday, but is still troubled by coughing spells, which greatly exhaust him. The physicians are now striving to overcome the persistent weakness which prevents the Pope from lifting his arms or scarcely turning his head. This physical weakness is in strong contrast to his mental vigor, which the pontiff has maintained throughout his illness.

The physicians attending the Pope apparently anticipate a slow convalescence, as the pontifical mass which was scheduled to take place in St. Peter's Cathedral on May 20, in connection with the celebration of the Constantine Jubilee, has been indefinitely postponed.

The presence of Angelo Saro, the Pope's brother, at the Vatican was officially announced for the first time today. Thousands of pilgrims are still in Rome, while many more are expected the coming week.

JUBILEE MASS IS POSTPONED Special Cable to The Washington Herald. Chicago, April 19.—Strenuous opposition to the plan of the Evanston Women's Club to forbid the Tango and like dances at the student affairs development today among Northwestern University co-eds. Miss Irene Blanchard, dean of Winfield Hall, requested the girl students to discontinue the dancing of the "rag dance numbers." The question will be submitted to a referendum vote Monday.