

Mr. Webster and the Bankrupt Law. According to the report published in the newspapers...

Mr. Webster declines to say it is unconstitutional to pass any bankrupt law, touching the rights or privileges of the bank...

We are utterly astonished at the course, the policy, the arguments of Mr. Webster. He wants to pass a law to protect the rash and arrogant speculation...

The conduct of the opposition party in Congress—and particularly the course of Mr. Webster, is the most impudent and impudent that could have been exhibited by any set of men...

The voluminous conduct of the United States and other circulating banks, is daily working a revolution in the interest of this afflicted country...

Great Annual Meeting of all the Female Moral Reformers from all Parts of the Country.—No Gentlemen allowed to attend. On Thursday last, the females of the great National Female Moral Reform Society, from all parts of the United States, met together in the McDougal street church, at 10 A. M., and continued in session until six o'clock on the same evening...

The meeting was opened by a very able prayer by Mrs. S. The names of the delegates in attendance, from nearly all the cities and villages in the United States, were then read over...

Resolved, That we can in no way act more efficiently in behalf of moral purity than by the diffusion of the Society's publications; and that the attempt to extend our principles by means of tracts, adapted to the different classes of society, is highly important and deserves our hearty co-operation...

Resolved, That we will endeavor by vigorous and systematic action, greatly to increase the number of signatures to these petitions in the coming season, and that we will take measures to present them whenever practicable to every adult individual in the several places of our residence...

ing, I am here; and what is more, I am in perfect health. Yes, I have seen the young buds put forth in the spring, the fields covered with the green verdure of nature, and the birds beginning to tune their little throats with harmony and song...

Here the old lady seemed to be exhausted, and sat down. After this the resolutions were read, and the meeting closed by prayers from three ladies.

MAGNIFICENT HAT STORE.—Leary, of the Aster House, the famous fabricator of fashionable hats, has enlarged his store, and fitted it up in a style of splendor that is perfectly new in New York...

THE ELISLER appeared again last evening to a house more crowded and fashionable than any we have yet seen. It was full from pit to gallery. The proportion of splendidly dressed young ladies was greater than usual...

LATER FROM RIO DE JANEIRO.—By the brig Harriet, which left Rio on the 2d ult., we learn that no news had yet been received as to the result of the election of governor which took place at Buenos Ayres on the 7th March...

OUR STREETS.—The Committee on cleansing streets have reported to the Common Council in favor of having the streets and thoroughfares cleaned by contract. We should think it was time—for not since the creation of the world has there been such a dirty, filthy city as New York...

THE SILVER TRUMPET.—Yesterday afternoon, Messrs. Livingston, Reynegone, and Bennett, the three New York pilots, saved from a watery grave on the first of April by Captain Roberts of the British Queen, presented him a silver speaking trumpet in token of their sincere gratitude...

Captain Roberts received it with pleasure, not for its intrinsic value, nor that he desired it, "for," said he, "it is a pleasure to me to be the means of rendering a service to others, and I know that had I been placed in your situation and you in mine, you would have acted the same towards me."

After these two eloquent speeches, and they were truly so, for every word told like a forty-pounder from the broadside of the North Carolina, the health of Mrs. Roberts was drunk—and then that of Captain Roberts and his officers with three times three.

INCENDIARY CAUGHT.—William Smith, a black fellow, has been arrested in Baltimore, for setting fire to several buildings in that city.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Robert C. Hinchley, an Inspector of lumber, was killed yesterday, while attending to his duties, by a pile of wood falling upon him. He was much respected by his friends.

MR. EDITOR.—Not having seen in any of the papers an account of an occurrence which took place at Harlem last Monday evening, I have the honor to acknowledge your kind notice of the affair. I will state for the knowledge of our readers in what it consisted...

CHATHAM.—Celeste has won undying laurels during her present engagement at the Chatham. The continuing through evening of her appearance, notwithstanding the cold, and the brilliant vocal at the Park, is a sufficient testimony to her talents, and to her beauty. It is a pity that New York does not more readily give up its usual favorites for new ones. Celeste appears again this evening in the Child of the Wood and other entertainments.
