EISENHOWER IN THE WHITE HOUSE

Heart Attack Strikes; Team Setup Stressed

By ROBERT J. DORSEY

President Eisenhower was stricken with a heart attack late this afternoon in the Oval Office. The meeting of the Five Power heads of state in Geneva has been indefinitely postponed.

Staff members of Mrs. Eisenhower and other members of the staff present were affected by the announcement. Mrs. Eisenhower was visibly shaken. The announcement was made by Mrs. Eisenhower's physician, Dr. Isaac E. Bartley, who said the President was in a critical condition.

Dr. Bartley said the President had been in the Oval Office for about 20 minutes when he became ill. The President was taken to the library, where he had been sitting, when he complained of chest pains.

The President was then taken to the White House, where he was placed in an ambulance. The ambulance was driven to the hospital, where the President was taken immediately to the operating room.

The President was taken to the operating room, where he was operated on for a heart attack. The operation was performed by Dr. Bartley and Dr. J. W. Cotton, the President's private physician.
