

SILKS AT MANTEL BROTHERS.

We will open the season with the following bargains in FANCY STRIPED SILKS

26 different styles, in every desirable color, at 50c per yard. 300 PIECES FANCY STRIPED AND CHECKED SILKS

Extra quality, choice styles, At 65c, 75c, 85c, and $1 per yard. IN COLORED SILKS

Our stock far exceeds any previous season. The qualities at 85c and $1.00

Will compare favorably with goods sold last season at $1 and $1.25. Qualities at $1.25 and $1.35

Will compare favorably with goods sold last season at $1.50 and $1.75. Rare opportunity to purchase GUINET'S BLACK SILKS.

100 Pcs. Guinet's Black Silk at $1.00. 200 Pcs. Guinet's Black Silk at $1.25. 300 Pcs. Guinet's Black Silk at $1.50. 800 Pcs. Guinet's Black Silk at $1.75, $2.00, $2.50, and upwards.

Our Silk Department has been greatly enlarged, and, located immediately under our new skylight, it affords customers an opportunity to inspect the most delicate colors at all hours of the day.

We are pleased to announce to our friends that in consequence of the LOW PRICES made, which has always been our motto, our sales during the past twelve months are more than double any previous year.

Please favor us with a call. 121 & 123 State-st. Michigan-av. and Twenty-second-st.

TO RENT, LOW, For Jointing or Commission, the corner store, 4512 1/2 feet, in building of 17th, 18 and 19th streets.

TO RENT, LOW, Nison Building, cor. LaSalle and Monroe-sts.

ERKENBRECHER'S Bon-Ton Starch

It is absolutely odorless, and Chemically Pure. It is snowflake white. It is susceptible of the highest and most lasting luster.

It is sold universally in America by Grocers and Dealers. Its annual consumption reaches Twenty Million Pounds.

ANDREW ERKENBRECHER, CINCINNATI.

Imported CANARIES, Talking Parrots, and other Fancy Birds. Goshawk Aquariums, BIRD BATHS, etc.

Photographer, 75 MADISON-ST., CHICAGO.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES

FAIRBANKS, MORSE & CO., 111 & 113 Lake St., Chicago.

NOVELTIES IN Spring & Summer Dress Goods!

Field, Leiter & Co. WABASH-AV., Between Madison & Monroe-sts., Are showing the most extensive and choice variety of SPRING & SUMMER NOVELTIES (Of their own importation), in Dress Goods Department!

That can be found in this or any other market, comprising exclusive styles in Louvain Chenille, Tournay Mosseline, Resille Crepe, Davenport Suitings,

With many other new fabrics not to be found elsewhere. The line of new materials for Summer wear is exceedingly attractive. Grenadines, French Organdies, Jacquets, Cambrics and Cretonnes; Tulle d'Alace, Lincen Launs, Penance, Chevots, etc.

In Popular and Low-priced Dress Goods the assortment is elegant, and our prices throughout are the lowest.

MERCHANT TAILORING. ELEGANT BUSINESS SUITS MADE TO ORDER AT $25 AND UPWARDS!

GATZERT'S, 179, 181, 183 Clark-st., CORNER MONROE. NEW PUBLICATIONS.

POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY, FOR APRIL.

CONTENTS. I. Evolution of Ceremonial Government. III. Mutations. II. The Eucalyptus in the Future. By Prof. Samuel Lockwood. (Illustrated).

ERKENBRECHER'S Bon-Ton Starch

It is absolutely odorless, and Chemically Pure. It is snowflake white. It is susceptible of the highest and most lasting luster.

It is sold universally in America by Grocers and Dealers. Its annual consumption reaches Twenty Million Pounds.

ANDREW ERKENBRECHER, CINCINNATI.

Imported CANARIES, Talking Parrots, and other Fancy Birds. Goshawk Aquariums, BIRD BATHS, etc.

Photographer, 75 MADISON-ST., CHICAGO.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES

FAIRBANKS, MORSE & CO., 111 & 113 Lake St., Chicago.

NO FRAUD! "A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT."

Our Spring Goods have arrived, and we can show the largest and best selected stock of Men's, Boys', and Children's Clothing ever shown in the West, got up in Nobby Style, and trimmed and cut to fit.

Our cloths are all sponged before making up, and we will pledge ourselves to give you a BETTER FIT, BETTER GOODS, made up in better shape, more nicely trimmed than any of this CHEAP CUSTOM-WORK that is put up in this market.

All we ask is a CLOSE INSPECTION TO PROVE THE ABOVE FACTS, for everybody knows that we sell the best Ready-made Clothing in this country, and this spring we far surpass all former efforts, so as to surpass in every particular this cheap custom business.

Our Spring Oversacks are beauties, from $6.00 up to $25.00. Our Boys' and Children's Department we make a specialty of; in this department we can beat the world.

On Saturday, March 23, we have a Grand Opening, and we invite all to attend.

JAS. WILDE, Jr., & CO., Popular Clothiers, Corner State & Madison-sts., Chicago.

ADVERTISERS UNION LISTS

CIRCULATION IS THE LARGEST. OUR RATES THE LOWEST. OUR PAPERS THE BEST.

NAVIGATION OPEN! GOODRICH TRANSPORTATION COMPANY.

SPENCER CUTLERY.

WASHINGTON. Secretary Sherman's Views on the Subject of Resumption.

He Believes the Existing Law Should Be Allowed to Stand. Business Fast Adapting Itself to This Acknowledged Necessity.

The Silver Legislation Likely to Have a Very Beneficial Effect.

Mr. Sherman Confident of Securing a Sufficient Coin Reserve.

The Secretary Now Desires to Pay Duties in United States Notes.

Full Text of the Lake-Front Bill—The Deficiency Bill Passed in the House.

RESUMPTION. SECRETARY SHERMAN'S VIEWS ON THE SUBJECT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—At the interview of the Committee on Finance with the Secretary of the Treasury in regard to the repeal of the Resumption act on the 10th inst., the Chairman said:

Mr. Secretary, I have jotted down a few general questions and some in detail which I propose to ask you, and I suppose that other members of the Committee may have questions which they may desire to ask at a later period, but I will ask some general questions in order that you may make the statement if you choose with more freedom than you can by going into smaller details at the commencement. First, ought the Resumption act, in your opinion, be repealed, and if not, why not?

Secretary Sherman—That question, as you say, is very general, and it is rather a legislative than an executive question, but I have no objection to answering. I think that the Resumption act ought not to be repealed; that it was a declaration of public policy commenced with the act of February, 1862, repeated by Congress several times, notably in 1860, notably again in 1863, and again by the passage of the Resumption act, that we would see some practicable redemption of our United States notes which were presented for redemption in gold and silver coin. That is the declared public policy of this country, and it ought to be adhered to, and I am fully convinced that we are able to do so.

Secretary Sherman—What effect has the silver bill had on the resumption? Secretary Sherman—I do not want to tread on delicate ground. In answering that question, Mr. Chairman, I have to say that I have not been mistaken myself. Now, as to the silver bill, I have watched its operation very closely. I think the bill has had some adverse effects, and it has had some favorable effects upon the question of resumption. Since the passage of the bill, I have not been able to sell bonds, although I have made every effort to do so. Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call. The sales from the last of October to the 10th of January were about $275,000,000. We sold $200,000,000 of 4 per cent, and then we sold $75,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent.

Secretary Sherman—Since October last we have sold $1,000,000, and perhaps now the sales have gone up to about $1,000,000 and $3,000,000 of 4 per cent, and $1,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent.

Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call.

THE HOUSE. CALLED BY THE RIGHT NAME.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—In the discussion of the Deficiency bill to-day in the House, the Democrats were sorely troubled to explain why it was necessary to pay $37,000,000 deficiency to the laboring men in the navy-yards who had been six months without payment.

Secretary Sherman—It is more than the average. Secretary Sherman—What is the average for ten years back? Secretary Sherman—Thirty to forty millions. The Chairman—It is $34,000,000 or $35,000,000. Secretary Sherman—The amount of gold now on deposit.

SECRETARY SHERMAN'S VIEWS ON THE SUBJECT OF RESUMPTION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—At the interview of the Committee on Finance with the Secretary of the Treasury in regard to the repeal of the Resumption act on the 10th inst., the Chairman said:

Mr. Secretary, I have jotted down a few general questions and some in detail which I propose to ask you, and I suppose that other members of the Committee may have questions which they may desire to ask at a later period, but I will ask some general questions in order that you may make the statement if you choose with more freedom than you can by going into smaller details at the commencement. First, ought the Resumption act, in your opinion, be repealed, and if not, why not?

Secretary Sherman—That question, as you say, is very general, and it is rather a legislative than an executive question, but I have no objection to answering. I think that the Resumption act ought not to be repealed; that it was a declaration of public policy commenced with the act of February, 1862, repeated by Congress several times, notably in 1860, notably again in 1863, and again by the passage of the Resumption act, that we would see some practicable redemption of our United States notes which were presented for redemption in gold and silver coin. That is the declared public policy of this country, and it ought to be adhered to, and I am fully convinced that we are able to do so.

Secretary Sherman—What effect has the silver bill had on the resumption? Secretary Sherman—I do not want to tread on delicate ground. In answering that question, Mr. Chairman, I have to say that I have not been mistaken myself. Now, as to the silver bill, I have watched its operation very closely. I think the bill has had some adverse effects, and it has had some favorable effects upon the question of resumption. Since the passage of the bill, I have not been able to sell bonds, although I have made every effort to do so. Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call. The sales from the last of October to the 10th of January were about $275,000,000. We sold $200,000,000 of 4 per cent, and then we sold $75,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent.

Secretary Sherman—Since October last we have sold $1,000,000, and perhaps now the sales have gone up to about $1,000,000 and $3,000,000 of 4 per cent, and $1,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent.

Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call.

Secretary Sherman—What effect has the silver bill had on the resumption? Secretary Sherman—I do not want to tread on delicate ground. In answering that question, Mr. Chairman, I have to say that I have not been mistaken myself. Now, as to the silver bill, I have watched its operation very closely. I think the bill has had some adverse effects, and it has had some favorable effects upon the question of resumption. Since the passage of the bill, I have not been able to sell bonds, although I have made every effort to do so. Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call.

THE HOUSE. CALLED BY THE RIGHT NAME.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—In the discussion of the Deficiency bill to-day in the House, the Democrats were sorely troubled to explain why it was necessary to pay $37,000,000 deficiency to the laboring men in the navy-yards who had been six months without payment.

Secretary Sherman—It is more than the average. Secretary Sherman—What is the average for ten years back? Secretary Sherman—Thirty to forty millions. The Chairman—It is $34,000,000 or $35,000,000. Secretary Sherman—The amount of gold now on deposit.

SECRETARY SHERMAN'S VIEWS ON THE SUBJECT OF RESUMPTION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—At the interview of the Committee on Finance with the Secretary of the Treasury in regard to the repeal of the Resumption act on the 10th inst., the Chairman said:

Mr. Secretary, I have jotted down a few general questions and some in detail which I propose to ask you, and I suppose that other members of the Committee may have questions which they may desire to ask at a later period, but I will ask some general questions in order that you may make the statement if you choose with more freedom than you can by going into smaller details at the commencement. First, ought the Resumption act, in your opinion, be repealed, and if not, why not?

Secretary Sherman—That question, as you say, is very general, and it is rather a legislative than an executive question, but I have no objection to answering. I think that the Resumption act ought not to be repealed; that it was a declaration of public policy commenced with the act of February, 1862, repeated by Congress several times, notably in 1860, notably again in 1863, and again by the passage of the Resumption act, that we would see some practicable redemption of our United States notes which were presented for redemption in gold and silver coin. That is the declared public policy of this country, and it ought to be adhered to, and I am fully convinced that we are able to do so.

Secretary Sherman—What effect has the silver bill had on the resumption? Secretary Sherman—I do not want to tread on delicate ground. In answering that question, Mr. Chairman, I have to say that I have not been mistaken myself. Now, as to the silver bill, I have watched its operation very closely. I think the bill has had some adverse effects, and it has had some favorable effects upon the question of resumption. Since the passage of the bill, I have not been able to sell bonds, although I have made every effort to do so. Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call. The sales from the last of October to the 10th of January were about $275,000,000. We sold $200,000,000 of 4 per cent, and then we sold $75,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent.

Secretary Sherman—Since October last we have sold $1,000,000, and perhaps now the sales have gone up to about $1,000,000 and $3,000,000 of 4 per cent, and $1,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent.

Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call.

Secretary Sherman—What effect has the silver bill had on the resumption? Secretary Sherman—I do not want to tread on delicate ground. In answering that question, Mr. Chairman, I have to say that I have not been mistaken myself. Now, as to the silver bill, I have watched its operation very closely. I think the bill has had some adverse effects, and it has had some favorable effects upon the question of resumption. Since the passage of the bill, I have not been able to sell bonds, although I have made every effort to do so. Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call.

THE HOUSE. CALLED BY THE RIGHT NAME.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—In the discussion of the Deficiency bill to-day in the House, the Democrats were sorely troubled to explain why it was necessary to pay $37,000,000 deficiency to the laboring men in the navy-yards who had been six months without payment.

Secretary Sherman—It is more than the average. Secretary Sherman—What is the average for ten years back? Secretary Sherman—Thirty to forty millions. The Chairman—It is $34,000,000 or $35,000,000. Secretary Sherman—The amount of gold now on deposit.

SECRETARY SHERMAN'S VIEWS ON THE SUBJECT OF RESUMPTION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—At the interview of the Committee on Finance with the Secretary of the Treasury in regard to the repeal of the Resumption act on the 10th inst., the Chairman said:

Mr. Secretary, I have jotted down a few general questions and some in detail which I propose to ask you, and I suppose that other members of the Committee may have questions which they may desire to ask at a later period, but I will ask some general questions in order that you may make the statement if you choose with more freedom than you can by going into smaller details at the commencement. First, ought the Resumption act, in your opinion, be repealed, and if not, why not?

Secretary Sherman—That question, as you say, is very general, and it is rather a legislative than an executive question, but I have no objection to answering. I think that the Resumption act ought not to be repealed; that it was a declaration of public policy commenced with the act of February, 1862, repeated by Congress several times, notably in 1860, notably again in 1863, and again by the passage of the Resumption act, that we would see some practicable redemption of our United States notes which were presented for redemption in gold and silver coin. That is the declared public policy of this country, and it ought to be adhered to, and I am fully convinced that we are able to do so.

Secretary Sherman—What effect has the silver bill had on the resumption? Secretary Sherman—I do not want to tread on delicate ground. In answering that question, Mr. Chairman, I have to say that I have not been mistaken myself. Now, as to the silver bill, I have watched its operation very closely. I think the bill has had some adverse effects, and it has had some favorable effects upon the question of resumption. Since the passage of the bill, I have not been able to sell bonds, although I have made every effort to do so. Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call. The sales from the last of October to the 10th of January were about $275,000,000. We sold $200,000,000 of 4 per cent, and then we sold $75,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent.

Secretary Sherman—Since October last we have sold $1,000,000, and perhaps now the sales have gone up to about $1,000,000 and $3,000,000 of 4 per cent, and $1,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent.

Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call.

Secretary Sherman—What effect has the silver bill had on the resumption? Secretary Sherman—I do not want to tread on delicate ground. In answering that question, Mr. Chairman, I have to say that I have not been mistaken myself. Now, as to the silver bill, I have watched its operation very closely. I think the bill has had some adverse effects, and it has had some favorable effects upon the question of resumption. Since the passage of the bill, I have not been able to sell bonds, although I have made every effort to do so. Secretary Sherman—We are selling bonds all the time. Secretary Jones—I mean the refunding of bonds into gold.

Secretary Sherman—The 10th of October was the time when the last of the popular loan was paid off, and the associates they had in the market withdrew the call.