Regulars to Go From the West Indies to the Philippines.

If the Election in Cuba on June 16 Passes Quietly About Half of the Supposed Case of Kidnaping in Troops Now There Will Be Withdrawn and Sent to Relieve the Volunteers Under General MacArthur.

The election to be held in Cuba on June 16 will have much to do with the transfer of the Regular Army regiments to the soldiers to be sent home. It is thought at the War Department that at least one half of the troops now in Cuba can be safely withdrawn, but the conditions on June 16 are to be the determining factor. Should all be quiet on that day, then as many of the regulars as possible will be sent back to this country and mobilized at San Francisco. Should June 16, however, develop turbulence and the Cubans give evidence that there was need of holding them armly in hand the Department will be forced to find its Philippine troops in some other

According to statements made by Sec retary Root the number of regiments to be sent across the Pacific has not yet been determined, nor will it be determined until after Generals Schwan and Otis arrive in this city and can be consulted as to the military needs of the islands. That cavalry will be sent is beyond doubt. Army officers say that the insurgents have broken up into small bands which sally from the mountains, attack villages and outposts, and by swift movements regain their fastnesses. Pursuit of them is fruitless with foot soldiers. For this purpose cavalry alone are effective. General MacArthur has stated this in mail reports and recently cabled a request that cavalry be sent to him. The officers for the new regiments will be assigned to their positions as soon as possible and the War Department is making all preparations to move in the matter directly after June 16.

The method of transferring the troops will be practically the same as that now in vogue. A regiment of volunteers will not be sent home as a unit, but an invalided battallon will be formed from all of the volunteer regiments and this will be sent volunteer regiments and this will be sent to San Francisco. Regular troops in mobilization will be sent to the East at the same time to fill the vacancy. Thus the number of men fighting in the archipelago will not be diminished at any time, but may be slightly increased. This method has been determined upon by Secretary Root, General Miles, and General Cerbin, and a further feature of the plan will be the selection of officers for the new troops. the selection of officers for the new troops who have not yet seen service in foreign lands.

Under the seventh article of war which gives such authority to a commander in the field. such authority to a commander in the field when a state of war exists General Otis when a state of war exists General Otis had this right. But no declaration of war has been declared by the President and Congress against the Filipinos, hence, say Army officers, the seventh article did not apply to the case. However, the Solicitor General of the War Department decided that General Otis had acted within his power and so advised the Department. Several cablegrams sent by the Department to General Otis found no answer until after the sentence had been enforced when he replied that the queries came too late. Had the sentence been on of death the President could then have reviewed the case dent could then have reviewed the case over the head of the War Department; as it.

Among the promotions granted, or which may be granted, none gives greater satisfaction to Army officers that that which is now tacked on to the Newal Academy As faction to Army officers that that which is now tacked on to the Naval Academy Appropriation bill, and which purposes to give to General Miles the rank of Lieutenant General of the Army. The cause of this satisfaction, particularly among those officers who served in the civil war, is that an honor is going to a man who has raised himself from the ranks to the highest possible position in the Army, and that against considerable opposition at times.

RAN AWAY WITH A BOY.

Maryland Village. BALTIMORE. June 2 .- tuch excitement was caused yesterday at Perry Hall, a village about ten miles from this city, on the Dunty, the ten-year-old son of Mrs. Alice Dunty, and a nephew of William Dunty. Mr. Dunty called at the Central Police Station last night and informed Lieutenant Cole of the boy's disappearance. He said the lad had been kidnaped by a man who gave his name as Edgar Davis, and said he was a son of "Senator Davis, of Virginia," and a grandson of Jefferson Davis.

Mr. Dunty said that gold had been dis-Mr. Dunty said that gold had been discovered on the property of his sister—in law and on his owa property, and that a company headed by a Mr. Smith, keeper of a store at Middle River, and composed of a number of gentlemen from Baltimore, had already leased a portion of Mrs. Dunty a property and were going to begin work at once. There is a great lead of quartz on the place, and is this, it is said, are traces of gold.

According to Mr. Dunty's story. Davis went to his home on last Tuesday and engaged board from his sister-in-law. The man said he represented the Smithsonian Institution at Washington and wished to prospect for gold. He said he knew the members of the company from Baltimore who were about to lease the property. Superintendent O'Rourke wrote to Reynolds in reply that they had usually a sufficient supply of blood on hand at Believue for all needs. Then he told the reporters about Reynolds' hard luck.

To a reporter who saw the man last night it did not seem that Reynolds had exaggerated his distressed financial condition. Reynolds showed the reporter a bundle of pawn tickets for everything of value he and his wife owned, except a few pieces of furniture bought on the installment plan and not yet fully paid for and the clothing that each was wearing. BALTIMORE, June 2 .- To bring a large lony of Boers to Maryland is the aim of David M. Newbold, of this city, and to this end he offers to be one of twenty-five citizens of Maryland to contribute $1,000 each to prosecute the work. Mr. Newbold made the offer after considering that from present indications Great Britain will succeed in conquering the South African Republic, with the result that thousands of Boers will desire to change their place of habitation.

Mr. Newbold said today: "I can conceive of nothing that would be of greater benefit to Maryland in every way than to bring to our State 5,000 or 10,000 Boers as settlers. They would undoubtedly be among the best citizens it as a place of residence and work.

"As we know, the Boers are an agricultural people, so the first practical step would be to set before them the advantages of Maryland to farmers. Let us show the members of the companuy said they did not know Davis.

Davis is described as being about twenty-five years old, blind in one eye, with a smooth face, weighs about 135 pounds, and wore a light suit of clothes and a light soft hat. The boy is heavily built and wore a dark shirt waist, dark knee breeches, and a large straw hat.

We would need a man to go to South Africa to properly present the advantages of Maryland to the Boers. It occurs to me that C. W. Van der Hoogt would be just the man for the place. His work in connection with the State Immigration Bureau would enable him to quickly secure the necessary data and put them in shape for presentation to the Boers. Then he could go to South Africa to properly present the advantages of Maryland to the Boers. It occurs to me that C. W. Van der Hoogt would be just the man for the place. His work in connection with the State Immigration Bureau good of the subscribed of the subscribed of the project.

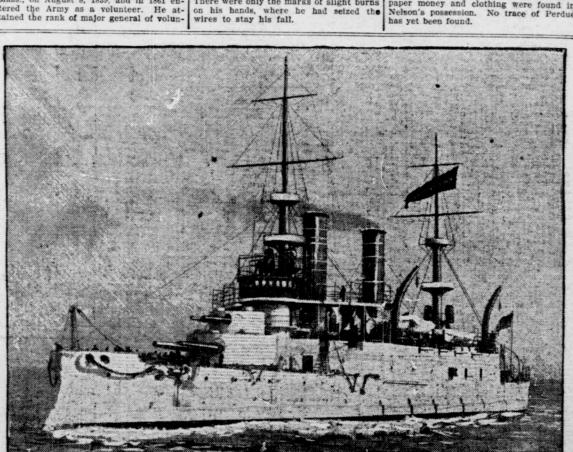

Mr. Newbold disclaims any but philanthropic motives in making his offer. He says that although he is largely interested in real estate in Baltimore, and has been for a number of years, he does not own an acre of farm land, so he has no personal end to gain. His desire is, he says, to help the State which, while not his birthplace, for he was born in Missouri, has been his residence for over twenty-five years, and the scene of his active business labors. Mr. Newbold's grandfather was one of the defenders in the war of 1812, so he feels a fenders in the war of 1812, so he feels double interest in Maryland for that rea

Mr. Van der Hooght could not be seen, but a friend said there is little doubt that he would be glad to take up the work for a Beer colony. Before he was supersaded in the office of secretary of the State Immigration Bureau, Mr. Van der Hoogt had planned using the bureau to secure Beer immigrants. The work is congenial to him and he has kept in touch with the Boer. and he has kept in touch with the Boot leaders and sympathizers through his con-nections in Holland. THE FLAGSHIP KEARSARGE.

The new battleship Kearsarge has been selected as the flagship of the new European squadron of the United States which Secretary Long has decided to organize. Rear Admiral Frederick Rodgers has been assigned to the work of re-establishing the European station, and will fly his pennant from the Kearsarge in the English Channel before the end of August. At the final inspection of the battleship the first of this week by Admiral Rodgers this information was imparted to the officers of the ship, and they have been too delighted to keep their good fortune as secret as the Navy Department wished for a month or two at least two at least.

The choice of the Kearsarge as flagsh p of the European fleet is regarded as particularly appropriate, as she will create a good impression concerning the latest products of American notal ingenuity, including the superimposed turrets and electrical auxiliaries. Admiral Redgers is also regarded as admirably fitted to command this important station, which was abandoned for lack of ships just before war was declared two years ago, and on which no American pennant has since been displayed except that of Admiral Bessey lass year.

The other vessels of the fleet, except the Albany, which has just been commissioned in English waters, have not yet been selected, and it is possible that no others can be spared until next fall, when the admiral will naturally wish to cruise in the Mediterranean. By that time, unless the Porte in the mean time pays the promised missionary indemnity, the command will be strengthened until capable of making a considerable display of force.

Thunking you most heartily for the wheel I am.

Men and women, boys and girls, can easily get an A-1, high-grade bicycle free by working for the WASHINGTON MIRROR. All that is necessary is to ask everyone you know to subscribe for two months at thirty cents. No one will refuse after reading sample copies which we will furnish free. When you secure one hundred subscribers we give you, free of any cost whatever, a highgrade lady's or gentleman's bicycle. Go to work an once and earn a fine wheel to ride this summer. CALL OR WRITE FOR PARTICULARS. Wheels can be seen at the office of the "Mirror."

Start at Once.

It is an easy task to secure monthly and yearly subscribers to the "MIRROR." This is readily explained, as the "MIRROR" is a popular paper. It prints that which the public desires to read. A letter from Miss Lulu Font, acknowledging the receipt of a high-class standard bicycle, which was earned by her as a prize for securing 100 subscribers, is reproduced here. Miss Font's letter serves as good evidence as to the demand for the "MIRROR" by the Washington public. She says the wheel was quickly earned, she finding it no trouble at all to secure the stipulated number of subscribers. The same conditions under which Miss Fon! secured a wheel are open to everybody, and a number of young men and women are meeting with great success in securing subscribers, and in a short time many more wheels will have been earned and delivered. Now that the wheeling season is at its height, the management of the "MIRROR" ho es it will have the opportunity of giving away hundreds of bicycles in return for 100 subscribers for each wheel. Call at the office for particulars.
