

predicted that the arrangement for a fresh election of President would break down at a critical moment have again been disappointed, as they were in 1887. Both moments were critical. At both the machinery ran smoothly.

One of the chief perils arose from M. Casimir-Perier's unwillingness to be a candidate. The reasons for his hesitation have not been very clearly stated, but it is no discredit to any man to doubt his own competency for dealing with a situation so complex and difficult as that of France in present circumstances.

It also infuriates the Socialists. The number of these gentlemen in the Chamber of Deputies has made everybody uneasy. The unpopularity was increased when it was seen that a man like M. Brisson, not a Socialist, was willing to be the candidate of men who excused Valliant.

M. Casimir-Perier is the incarnation of liberty conceived for a nation so impulsive as the French, or permanently conceivable for any other nation. It is the American idea which has not in M. Casimir-Perier's mind. He is the hero of France.

Before him lies a contest, possibly a long and arduous one, with the forces banded together against social order. He needs courage, and has it. Of course he has to face the possibility of assassination at the hands of some wretched scoundrel who has been misled by the "Chronicle" of London.

The French Senate has again shown what influence for good it wields. Analysis of the votes in the National Assembly proves that M. Casimir-Perier owes his election to the Senate. The Republican Senators, 214 strong, voted for him in a body.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures. I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for some time and every day helps me. My little boy, six years old, had some on his feet and he could not wear any shoes. Wherever the skin cracked had some sarsaparilla, presumably on account of the blood having been poisoned by it. Many remedies failed to do him any good. Finally I gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and after a week the sores commenced to heal and disappear. After taking two bottles he was entirely cured and his general health greatly benefited. MIS. C. S. rector of the church, as celebrant. At the conclusion of the mass the usual prayers for the dead were chanted. Four large banners were carried, and the celebrant and choir recited the prayers which the ritual prescribes for such occasions.

FOR REPRESSING ANARCHY. EMPEROR WILLIAM AND M. HERBETTE FAVOR INTERNATIONAL ACTION. A PLAN SKETCHED AT THE CONFERENCE AT KIEL—SPAIN WILLING TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE—ATTITUDE OF THE GERMAN IMPERIAL CLASSES AND SOCIALISTS TOWARD THE ANARCHISTS.

Berlin, June 30.—Emperor William aroused general interest by his three-hour conference yesterday with M. Herbet, the French Ambassador, aboard the imperial yacht Hohenzollern. The interview did not end with marking Germany's sympathy with France in mourning for M. Carnot.

The Spanish Ambassador here held a long conference with Chancellor von Capri last night and expressed Spain's willingness to take the initiative in the anti-anarchist movement. It is understood that the Chancellor maintains his old opinion that the German law and police methods suffice to hold in check the forces of anarchism.

Since the Anarchists only yearn to exterminate their opponents, they deserve no pity. Anarchism is not an intellectual movement, but a criminal one. It is a social disease, and must be cured somehow. It is to be found that Socialists are already involved in a plan of international action.

ROSEBURY GROWING BOLDER. THE LIBERAL MINISTRY ENCOURAGED BY RECENT VICTORIES. THEY WILL NOW BRING FORWARD IMPORTANT MEASURES WHICH HAD BEEN ABANDONED—CONSERVATIVES WEARY OF FIGHTING A LOSING BATTLE—THE PREMIER'S REPLY TO THE ANTI-GAMBLING LEAGUE—THE ANARCHIST SCARE INCREASING.

London, June 30.—The Government, encouraged by the increase of their majorities in the recent divisions in the House of Commons, now intimate their intention to include in the business of the present session several bills which had been semi-officially announced would be abandoned.

The Opposition score enabled through sheer weariness of the members of their party in fighting a continuous losing battle. The leaders of the Opposition accuse their whips of incompetent handling of their men, especially in permitting the Government to obtain through a "snipe" division a large majority on the spirit duties clauses.
