PIANOS.

STEINWAY UPRIGHT PIANOS.

The unerring test of time demonstrates that the Steinway Upright alone equals the Grand or Square in durability, while in the all-important feature of capacity for standing in tune it excels either, and possesses in a superlative degree those higher qualities which have made the Steinway Pianos the Standard of the World.

The thousands of Steinway Uprights, for many years in use in Chicago and vicinity, are living witnesses in behalf of their own extraordinary power of endurance.

SEVERAL Liberals and Conservatives and eleven Home-Rulers who were in the House of Commons Monday night when Mr. Gladstone moved his resolution of urgency on Supply quitted the House rather than vote.

THE armistice between the Boers and the British has been extended four days. In the meantime the Boers are receiving reinforcements. About 1,000 farmers of the Orange Free State are said to have joined them during the last four days.

JAMES TOLAN, while in a state of maniacal madness, shot his wife dead at Marine, near Stillwater, Minn., yesterday. Tolan was insanely jealous, and labored under the delusion that his wife was not true to him. His insanity is the result of a life of drunken dissipation.

WILLIAM H. MORRISON, President of the First National Bank of Indianapolis, and for a long period Manager of the Indiana Banking Company, died yesterday at his home in Indianapolis. Mr. Morrison was a prominent member of the Episcopal Church. He was in his 75th year.

JUDGE MORAN administered a severe and well-deserved rebuke yesterday to police officers who are in the habit of extorting confessions from persons arrested by threats, false pretenses, and other means. He condemned the practice as pernicious, unlawful, and dishonest.

IT is stated that the Princess Dolgourouki, the late Czar's morganatic wife, received an anonymous letter Sunday morning warning her that the Czar was to be assassinated that day; that she tried to prevent the Czar from riding out, but without effect. The Princess has left St. Petersburg, and will not return.

BOTH branches of the Maine Legislature balloted for United States Senator yesterday. In the Lower Branch Mr. W. P. Frye, Republican, received 83 votes, and Mr. Richard A. Frye, Fusionist, received 56. In the Senate the former received 23; the latter 5. Mr. W. P. Frye will be declared elected today.

SECRETARY BLAINE telegraphed to Minister Foster yesterday the resolution adopted by the Senate Monday on the death of the Czar with instructions to present them to the new Czar. At the Cabinet meeting yesterday there were many expressions of sympathy with the Russian Royal family and the Russian people.

ORLAND VAN HISE and George Linn, real-estate dealers, of Cleveland, O., and John K. Corwin, a Notary Public, of that city, have been arrested on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States Government by means of false affidavits to land-titles. Addison Burns and H. R. McClellan have been arrested at Pittsburg on the same charge, and Robert F. Lindsay at St. Louis. Other arrests are expected. These parties operated under the name of the International Land Company, and their operations are said to have been quite extensive, covering 6,000,000 acres. All the parties have hitherto been considered quite respectable.

SIR WILLIAM PALLISER (Tory) asked Mr. Gladstone in the Commons yesterday whether the evacuation of Candahar would be postponed until Stanhope's motion relative thereto was decided. Mr. Gladstone replied that the matter was in the hands of the Viceroy of India, and that he would not be interfered with.

MR. EDOUARD SEVE, Consul-General of Belgium to the United States, is here to make an investigation into the hog and provision trade of this city, for the purpose of being able to make an intelligent report to his Government on the trichinosis question. Representatives of Spain and Portugal are about to visit Chicago for the same purpose.

A REQUIEM mass for the Czar was celebrated at the Russian Embassy at Washington yesterday, according to the Greek Church ritual, by Fathers Bjerring and Lopuchin. The members of the Russian Legation attended in deep mourning. Secretary Blaine, Mrs. Blaine, Walter Blaine, and several members of the Diplomatic Corps were also present.

THE Nihilists and Social Revolutionists everywhere are much pleased at the assassination of the Czar. They affect to believe that the new Czar will immediately inaugurate much-needed reforms. In this connection it may be stated that the Revolutionists of both hemispheres are invited by manifesto to meet in Revolutionary Congress at London on the 14th of January of next year.

BREVET MAJ.-GEN. EMORY UPTON, of the United States army, committed suicide at Presidio, Cal., some time Monday night. His dead body was found yesterday morning in his room. A revolver was grasped in his right hand, and a bullet was found in his brain. He shot himself through the mouth. Grief at the recent loss of his wife is thought to have prompted him to the rash act.

THE Democratic Senators in caucus yesterday agreed that they had not the slightest chance to organize the Senate, and determined to make up lists of four Senators for committees of nine and lists of three for committees of seven to be furnished the Republicans. It was also determined to assign Bayard, Johnston, and Davis of West Virginia to the three Chairmanships usually given to the minority.

A RESOLUTION was introduced in the New York Legislature yesterday authorizing an inquiry as to whether the State, in accordance with the charters of the original companies, cannot obtain possession of the New York Central & Hudson River and the Lake Erie & Western Roads by paying the original cost of the roads and 10 per cent in addition as interest. It is the impression of some parties that this can be done according to the original charters of the various corporations referred to.

ROCHEFORT publishes in his paper a dispatch from Geneva which states that after the attempt to murder the Czar in the Winter Palace, in February of last year, the Russian police seized the funds of the Nihilists, amounting to 400,000 francs, and that no attempt at assasination was made soon thereafter because of lack of funds. The dispatch further states that the bombs which were used last Sunday were manufactured at St. Petersburg, and loaded by women. It also states that there is no Nihilist named Russakoff.

THIRTY persons are in prison in Ireland now under the provisions of the Coercion act, and it is evident that more will be imprisoned during the week. Richmond Prison, Dublin, is being prepared for the reception of the patriots. Forty convicts were taken from there yesterday to make room for those who cannot be convicted. Among those arrested yesterday were P. J. Sheridan, a merchant of Tubbercurry, Sligo, and one of those who were tried with Parnell recently, and O'Quinn, one of the Secretaries of the League.

THE Paris correspondent of the London Times says that the new Czar, Alexander III., is utterly lacking in political knowledge and tact, and predicts that his rule will be far less conciliatory and liberal than that of the last monarch. It is expected that the late Czar's advisers will be set aside very soon, and that the personal friends of the new Czar will be also his political advisers. The new Empress, as might be expected from her family relationship with the King of Greece, it is believed will be very friendly to the Greek cause, and will shape the Russian policy in that matter.

THERE remain no doubts that Count Herbert Bismarck has eloped with Princess Elizabeth of Carlotti-Beuthen, a lady of 30, who has a daughter aged 14. Both are known to have been at Messina, Sicily, about two weeks ago. The husband of the runaway wife has retired from public life, and will soon commence proceedings for a divorce. Prince Bismarck is said to be greatly annoyed at the conduct of his son, whom he intended should succeed himself, and his recent irritability is said to be the result of disappointment at the conduct of the wayward young man.

RUSSAKOFF, the person arrested on the charge of being an accomplice in the assassination of the Czar, has recognized one of the bodies of those killed last Sunday as that of his accomplice. In the house where Russakoff lived a proclamation has been found announcing that the Czar had been assassinated by two persons. The male occupant of the house shot himself dead when he saw the police approaching. A woman who lived with him was arrested; also a person who was seen to enter the house, but the latter was not captured until he had fired six shots and wounded three policemen.

EMPEROR WILLIAM in receiving the President and Vice-Presidents of the Reichstag, who presented an address of condolence, said that the death of the Czar affected him doubly because of his age. He recalled the peaceful relations which have existed so long between Prussia and Russia, and his kinship to the Czar, who he said was "very near to his heart." The fall of the Czar, he went on to say, showed that Divine Providence alone could determine the destinies of monarchs. At the same time, he said, it was the duty of Legislatures to do their part in repressing destructive tendencies by every means in their power.

THE SENATE.

DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 15.—Although several Democratic Senators have asserted in debate or privately that they would pair in advance with the Maine or Minnesota Senator, and thus permit an organization of the Committees, the Bourbon element opposes any steps that will hasten an abandonment of power and of patronage. Should they persist in this course, the Republicans Senators can do nothing before Friday, when the two new Senators will probably have arrived and be sworn in. Senator Anthony, as the Chairman of the Republican caucus, will then offer a list of Committeemen, as a substitute to that of the Democrats offered by Pendleton. On this there will be a tie vote,—37 ayes against 37 nays,—and Vice-President Arthur will give his casting vote in the affirmative. Some of the Democrats are very angry with Ben Hill for his attack on Gen. Mahone, which they say drove "the Virginia Sphinx" into the open arms of the Republicans. Others, determined to die in the last ditch, intimate that they

to decide, by his casting vote, the formation of committees, but the Republicans can quote numerous precedents, and point to the constitutional provision ("That the Vice-President shall have no vote unless the Senate is equally divided") as containing no limitation. So the Republicans will wait patiently until the new Senators come.

The Democrats are planning numerous means of avoiding the casting vote of the Vice-President, in order to prevent the Republicans from recovering control of the Senate. It is suggested, for instance, that they do not vote for the Committees as a whole, but that three or four Democrats present different names for certain Chairmanships. This would not make a tie, and the Vice-President would not have a casting vote, and the Senate would be at a dead-lock. Some Republicans think it possible that they

from an alliance with Mahone. One of them put it this way: "It is suggested, for instance, that Mahone present a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms. He would, of course, select an ex-Confederate soldier. The Democrats might present a Union soldier and turn the tables upon us, as we did upon them in the Shields case. It would be very embarrassing for the Republicans to oppose a Union soldier nominated by the Democrats, and to support an ex-Confederate forced upon the party by Mahone.

THE REPUBLICAN SENATORS.

To the Western Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 15.—The Republican Senators in caucus this morning completed the Senate committee-list, with the exception of the usual number of vacancies for minority representation, which are left to be filled by the Democrats. The only changes made to-day in yesterday's assignment of Chairmanships are the transfer of Teller and Kellogg to the Chairmanships of Pensions and Railroads, respectively, and the inducing of Ferry to take the Chairman of the Committee on Rules. Mr. Mahone remains on the list as Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, and is also assigned to the Naval Affairs and Post-Office Committees full Republican membership. The more important committees, as telegraphed last night, are unaltered, except by placing Mr. Teller on the Privileges and Elections Committee instead of McMillan.

The Military Affairs Committee is to be composed as follows, as far as the Republicans are concerned: Logan, Chairman; Burnside, Cameron (Pa.), Harrison, and Jewell. The majority of the membership of the Naval Committee will consist of Cameron (Pa.), Chairman; Anthony, Rollins, Mahone, and Platt (N. Y.). The Post-Office Committee is to be headed by Ferry, and the other representatives of the majority will be Hill (Colo.), Platt (N. Y.), Mahone, and Sawyer.

THE DEMOCRATIC SENATORS,

immediately after the adjournment of the Senate, met in caucus and decided to have prepared a list of Democratic Senators for appointment on the committees in the ratio of four Democrats to three Republicans, instead of pursuing an endeavor to obtain a majority of the representation, now discovered to be hopeless. The Committee who prepared the list embodied in the Pendleton resolution were accordingly instructed to revise it, and report to a future caucus. The general sentiment was averse to establishing the possibly-dangerous precedent by pairing Democratic Senators with the expected incoming Republicans from Maine and Minnesota. The Chairmanships of the Committees on Private Land Claims, Revolutionary Claims, and Impressed Bills, usually given to the minority, will, it is understood, be assigned to Bayard, Johnston, and Davis (W. Va.), seniors in length of service.

SOUTHERN SUPPORT.

In regard to the policy with Mahone, it is said on good authority that his alliance with the Republicans in Virginia will be recognized, and his influence be assisted by the Administration, to the relief of that many people of the South are willing to support the Administration, if so encouraged, and that through Mahone all such can be welcomed.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

When the Senate met, the desk of Senator Mahone was decorated with a handsome basket of flowers.

Mr. Voorhees called up the resolutions offered by him yesterday, calling on the Attorney-General for information as to the names of Deputy United States Marshals appointed in the State of Indiana to attend the polls at the election in that State in October last.

On motion of Mr. Edmunds, an amendment was adopted calling for any information in possession of the Attorney-General bearing upon the necessity for the employment for such Marshals.

The resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

Mr. Pendleton called up his reorganization resolution, when Mr. Cameron, of Pennsylvania, interposed a motion to adjourn. Lost—yeas, 31; nays, 30. Mr. Davis, of Illinois, voted with the Democrats, and Mr. Mahone with the Republicans.

Mr. Cameron, of Pennsylvania, followed up with a motion to proceed to the consideration of executive business. Lost—yeas, 34; nays, 37.

Mr. Pendleton moved to adjourn. It was evident, he said, that no vote could be reached on the pending business. Agreed to.

Adjourned.

A CROWD IN THE SENATE.

In expectation that there would be another scene in the Senate to-day similar to that of yesterday, a very large audience was present, every seat in the galleries being occupied and the corridors crowded with persons unable to get within the Senate chamber. The Senators came in slowly, and when the journal was read not more than half were in their seats.

A COMPLIMENT.

On the desk of Senator Mahone was a magnificent bouquet of flowers sent from the White House conservatory by President Garfield.

BEN HILL'S HARANGUE.

Inquiry among the Democratic leaders reveals that fully one-half of them condemn Ben Hill's attack upon Senator Mahone yesterday as unjustifiable and inexcusable. It is feared that the bitterness and venom displayed by Hill will react and strengthen Mahone among the Democrats in Virginia. A well-informed Virginia Democrat, opposed to Mahone, says that Mahone will get the sympathy of a large number of Democrats in his State who are opposed to his political course, but will sustain him in defending the right of a Virginia Senator to vote as he may please, without having his motives impugned. If Hill had not done this, his speech would have hurt Mahone in Virginia, but as it is, the latter will be strengthened by it.

AN ANXIOUS FRIEND.

A friend of Mahone said to him last night that he trembled for his future; that one Senator could not expect to do away with thirty-six, if each should call him out personally. "Don't be alarmed," said Mahone. "I think I know the Democratic Senators better than you, and I am certain there is not one of them who wants to die. I am not afraid of being called out, or given an occasion to call one of them out."

"LONG" JONES.

THE FIGHT FOR THE MARSHALSHIP.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 15.—There was a meeting of the members of the Illinois delegation at the office of the Department of Justice this morning in the matter of the Marshalship for the Northern District of Illinois. There were present Senator Logan and Representatives Farwell, Aldrich, Thomas, Marsh, Cannon, Cullen, Payson, Hawk, and Henderson. Mr. Farwell was present in the room when the delegation entered, having called to recommend the appointment of McBaid, of Chicago, to a position in the Territories. Gen. Logan stated to Attorney-General MacVeagh that the delegation had called to confer about the Marshalship. Mr. Logan, for the first time, filed the papers of A. M. Jones as an applicant for that position.

GEN. LOGAN

said that it had been the custom of the State that the office of the Marshal was within the patronage of the Senator, but he said that, in addition, he was joined in the recommendation of Jones by five of the nine Congressional Representatives from the Judicial District, excluding only Farwell, Davis, Aldrich, and Sherwin, and that the papers of Mr. Jones were also indorsed by a large majority of the members of both branches of the State Legislature. Senator Logan, after a brief speech in support of Mr. Jones, submitted the case. Representative Thomas, of the Cairo district, also had some pleasant words to say for Mr. Jones. Mr. Farwell opposed the appointment. He stated that he had no quarrel with Senator Logan or with anybody, but that he believed that the appointment of Jones would be offensive to the great majority of Republicans in that Marshal's district; that Mr. Jones was opposed by himself, Aldrich, and Davis, and that at least one of the Chicago members—Representative George R. Davis—had stated that he believed that the appointment of Jones would result in the loss of the spring election in Chicago to the Republicans. In addition, Mr. Farwell stated that the appointment of Jones would be displeasing to two of the Judges, and that one of them (whom he did not name) had authorized him (Farwell) to say that the appointment of Jones was one not fit to be made. Mr. Farwell further stated that Mr. Jones was the incumbent of a Federal position in his own district worth $4,500, and that it would be well for him to stay there.

FARWELL ALSO SAID

that it appeared to be understood that Judge Woodcock, of Sterling, would be likely to be appointed Collector of Internal Revenue in the event that Jones should be transferred to the Marshalship. He (Farwell) suggested that it might be wise to appoint Woodcock as Marshal and then take another man from the county. Farwell distinctly stated that he had no candidate of his own, and he did not make any recommendations in behalf of Mr. Stillwell. Aldrich said he was opposed to Jones, first of all, because he had a candidate of his own, and he submitted the name of ex-Ald. James H. Gilbert. This is Mr. Aldrich's candidate for Collector of Internal Revenue, however, and it is not supposed that he presented the name with any serious expectation that Gilbert would be appointed Marshal. Mr. Aldrich also suggested the name of Mr. Hubbard, Superintendent of Mails in the Chicago Post-Office, but the suggestion of this name was not satisfactory. Gen. Logan

DID NOT CARE TO LISTEN TO ANY OFFERS OF COMPROMISE.

He had so much confidence in his ability to secure the appointment of his own nominee that he afterwards said he did not consider it necessary for him to entertain any propositions of compromise, and that he was not accustomed to compromise. Finally, Mr. Farwell, being asked if he had anything more to say in opposition to Jones, stated that he did have some papers at his hotel which he might submit, but which he did not care to file. The Attorney-General suggested that a time be appointed for another meeting. Senator Logan thought that it would not be practicable for him, in view of his duties in the Senate, to fix any time for another meeting, and did not know that another meeting would be necessary, but he reminded that Mr. Farwell should get for his documents, which he did. The paper proved to be making charges against the business integrity of Mr. Jones, extending back to 1874. Mr. Farwell said that he did not care to file this affidavit. He wished Gen. Logan to read it. Gen. Logan said that he did not care to read it, but that Mr. Farwell ought to file it. This Mr. Farwell then declined to do, when Judge Payson took the affidavit at the request of Farwell and read it, and undertook to inform Senator Logan afterwards of its contents, and also to communicate with Mr. Jones on the subject. The affidavit was also submitted to Representatives Marsh, Henderson, and Thomas. Both Mr. Jones and Mr. Farwell to-night refuse to permit the publication of this affidavit, an arrangement having been made between Mr. Jones and Mr. Farwell, according to which Jones should make an affidavit giving with regard to which the charges were made, and if this counter affidavit seems satisfactory to Mr. Farwell, that the original affidavit should not be filed, but should be returned to the person designated by Mr. Farwell as an eminently responsible lawer in Chicago, from whom it came, together with the counter affidavit. Mr. Jones soon became acquainted with the affidavit charging him with improper transactions, and called upon Farwell, stating that the question with him then was not whether he was going to be Marshal, but whether he was fit to be Marshal. He stated that the charges of the affidavit were utterly false, and that he would prepare and furnish Mr. Farwell by to-morrow morning a counter affidavit. From reliable sources,

NOTWITHSTANDING THE ATTEMPTS AT SECRECY,

it is ascertained that the subject matter of the affidavit against Mr. Jones is substantially as follows: The document was sworn to in Chicago last Friday, March 11, and reached here Sunday morning. Mr. Farwell did not read it until this morning. It is a joint affidavit, signed by John W. Hersey, a banker in Chicago, and D. J. Doggett, cashier at the Pan-Handle Freight Office in Chicago. Doggett, it appears, is the defendant in a suit by which, as he claims, Jones is attempting to make him pay twice for a note of $750 placed in his hands in trust by Hersey. Doggett and Hersey appear to have had some business relations with each other, and had deposited a number of notes, amounting to some $2,500, with Jones for safekeeping, because neither party had a safe. From time to time these notes were returned, except the one for $750, which

JONES CLAIMED WAS HIS PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Subsequent to the date of the delivery of these papers to Jones, Jones and Hersey had some business disagreement, and, according to the affidavit of Doggett and Hersey, he took the note, although Doggett claims to have paid the amount once, and tried to force a payment a second time. The $750 note was not indorsed. Hersey charges that he left the note for $750 with Jones in trust simply for safe-keeping, and that Jones since then claimed the note as his own; that he had put it up as collateral, and treated and used it as his own; that it was never indorsed to him, and never belonged to him; that the maker of the note (Doggett) has paid the note to him
