EXPECT NO DELAY

Early Action Is Looked for in Labor Contempt Case.

COMMITTEE SOON TO MEET

Simple Process of Review, Attorney
Darlington Explains.

JUSTICE WRIGHT'S STATEMENT

Method of Procedure in Accord With Practice in Jurisprudence,
He Declares.

Joseph J. Darlington, Daniel Davenport and James M. Beck, designated yesterday by Justice Wright of the District Supreme Court to inquire into the alleged contempt of court claimed to have been committed by Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, labor leaders, in disregarding the injunctive order of the court in the Buck's Store and Range Company case, received official notice of their appointments by mail today. Certified copies of the order of Justice Wright were sent to the three attorneys named by Assistant Clerk Hawken of the District Supreme Court.

Little delay is expected to ensue before the designated inquirers hold a meeting. Mr. Darlington, being a Washingtonian, is, of course, on hand, and Mr. Davenport happens to be in the city. The only delay in a meeting is likely to come from the business engagements of James M. Beck, whose office is in New York city.

Justice Wright's Statement.

Justice Wright, when shown the reported interview with Mr. Gompers, in which the latter is quoted as saying the court "might as well go to the devil," declined to discuss or comment on it. When asked about the selection of the three lawyers who had opposed the labor men in the Buck's Store case, Justice Wright said he had never known of a different method of procedure when a contempt inquiry arose out of a civil action. In explanation he pointed out that the attorneys named were chosen in the matter, and knew how and where to obtain proof of the charges, if presented.

"The court suggested that it would be a hardship to designate lawyers not familiar with the facts to take up such an inquiry, as it would put them to the trouble of spending weeks and perhaps months in locating the proof or evidence to be submitted to the court."

Find Lost Out to Sea Monday in Small Craft.

BOSTON, May 17.—In a little power boat, seventy miles off Thatchers Island yesterday by the fishing schooner Mary Conney was found Raymond Blackmore, the demented youth who escaped from his family's custody at Choate Island, Essex, Monday and who put out to sea in the small craft.

Comments on the reported statement by Mr. Gompers that the committee was not impartial, Attorney J. J. Darlington said today:

"If Mr. Gompers thinks I have any bias or prejudice against him he is mistaken. I did my duty to my client in the equity proceedings while there existed a dispute with the Buck's Store and Range Company. The disagreement is over and I am through with the case. The designation of me as a member of the committee by Justice Wright was unsought, but I expect to do my duty under it. I shall shortly confer with the other appointees in reference to the matter."

BOMB STIRS HOTEL DISTRICT.

Explosion Rouses Sleepers in Big Broadway Hotel.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The heart of the hotel district had another early morning bomb explosion today. The explosion occurred in front of a house in West 44th street, near Broadway, and shattered a few windows without hurting anybody, but it caused such consternation among the sleepers in the big hotels that cluster in this neighborhood that the police reserves had to be called out to quiet the excitement.

Fire Made 40,000 Homeless.

Money Loss at Kirin, Manchuria, Estimated at $20,000,000.

HARBIN, Manchuria, May 17.—Forty thousand persons at Kirin are homeless as a consequence of the recent conflagration in that city. The money loss is estimated at $20,000,000. Four thousand shops, fifteen banks and 4,387 other buildings were destroyed.

Saves Lives, Drops Dead.

Policeman Rouses Sleepers in Burning Building, Then Succumbs.

DETROIT, Mich., May 17.—Police Officer Henry Welch early this morning sacrificed his life to save several people sleeping in the third story of a building at 127-129 Bates street, which was shattered by an explosion, believed to have been caused by gasoline.

Walpole rushed from the police station nearby, fought his way through the flames and succeeded in alarming the sleepers. Then he succumbed to an attack of heart disease.

One man, Jesse Gore, sustained injuries. He was blown through a second story window and landed in the street, but was not badly hurt. The building was destroyed, totaling a loss of nearly $50,000.

PACKERS GIVEN TIME

Week in Which to File Briefs
on Rehearing Plea.

PENAL CLAUSE TO HOLD

Judge Carpenter Indicates Position on Supreme Court Ruling.

COUNSEL TO ARGUE THE POINT

"Unreasonable" Restraint of Trade
Likely to Figure in Chicago Case.

CHICAGO, May 17.—Judge George A. Carpenter, in the United States district court today, refused to hear oral argument from attorneys for the indicted Chicago meat packers on their plea for a rehearing on the demurrers Judge Carpenter overruled May 12. He gave them a week to file briefs.

The formal motion filed yesterday was not amplified in any way in view of Judge Carpenter's ruling, and nothing further in the way of outlining their course will be presented by the packers until the briefs are filed.

Sherman Act a Penal Statute.

"I disposed of that point in my opinion on the demurrer," said Judge Carpenter, "that is to say, that the Sherman act is a penal statute, and if it does, then, by giving relief under the defining sections, 4 and 7, it necessarily must have approved sections 1, 2 and 3."

Counsel for Packers Prepared.

"Counsel for the packers, however, are prepared to argue, in their briefs, that it is necessary for some court of equity to determine, in each individual case and by the merits and peculiar circumstances surrounding each case, whether the restraint of trade has been unreasonable or not, then the act does not constitute a restraint with any means of knowing beforehand whether what he is doing is unreasonable as viewed by the court or not; that, hence the law is void, penal sections and all, not through a Supreme Court decision, but as a violation of the fifth and sixth amendments to the federal Constitution and because it is 'uncertain.'"

MRS. TRIMBLE DEAD

Succumbs to Injuries Received in Automobile Accident.

OPERATION FAILS TO SAVE

Passes Away at Hospital in York, Pa., This Afternoon.

HURT IN CLOVER LEAF RUN

Husband, Injured at Same Time, Is Reported to Be Improved.

Special Dispatch to The Star.
YORK, Pa., May 17.—Mrs. Matthew Trimble, Jr., Washington society woman, who was internally injured by being crushed beneath an automobile during the four-leaf clover club run from that city yesterday, near Hanover, failed to rally from an operation performed last night at York Hospital and died at 12:30 p.m. today.

Mrs. Trimble suffered a fractured pelvis, a broken arm and internal injuries. Her husband, who was in the machine with her, suffered severe injuries, but is reported better today.

Mr. Trimble's Statement.

According to a statement made by Mr. Trimble, he and the driver of a team of horses were on the right side of the road, according to the rules. "I could have passed the team easily, but I would only have had about two inches to spare. Rather than drive at such a close distance, I gave myself more room, with the result that I went off the road. I immediately attempted to right the machine, but before I could accomplish this the car dashed across the road into the fence and turned over. One of the rear wheels crushed in, and when I came to we were both plumed beneath the machine."

Team Observed by Dust.

Mrs. Trimble's version of the accident is as follows: "We were not driving very rapidly," she said. "When within a mile of York we came suddenly upon a wagon and team, which had, till that time, been obscured by dust. My husband signaled the driver to move to one side of the road, to give us room to pass. He ignored this. We thought we could drive on the right side of the wagon, and, after passing it, turn into the road. The passing was a success, but the automobile, instead of turning into the main road, suddenly leaped forward. The next I knew I was plunged to the ground under the wrecked car."

Social Washington today is distressed over the death of Mrs. Trimble. During the last few years as a belle of Washington society, she had won her way to the affections of a large number of friends. Always a good dancer, Mrs. Trimble was a member of the elite of the city. Her husband, Mr. Trimble, was a member of the board of assistant assessors of the District of Columbia.

WHY NOT ADOPT IT AT THE TREASURY?

STONE FOR EARLY VOTE

Senator Says He Will Not Permit Hearings on Reciprocity to Drag.

Senator Stone of Missouri announced today to the Senate finance committee, at the hearing on the reciprocity and free list bills, that he would soon press for a vote on reciprocity. He said he did not propose to let the hearings drag along indefinitely. An unsuccessful attempt was made by the committee to fix a time to close the dual hearings. Senator Penrose, chairman of the committee, expressed the belief that the reciprocity bill hearing would end soon.

Debate on Price of Cattle.

Controversy over the prices of Canadian cattle arose between members of the committee and a witness at the hearing. E. C. Lassar, president of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, asserted that the cattle-raising industry would be destroyed because Canadian prices were lower. This, Senator Stone declared, was not the case. He quoted statistics, which he read, showing that the Canadian cattle industry was not suffering.

Fires at Burglar, Hits Girl.

Shot Aimed in Dark May Cause Young Woman's Death.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Awakened before dawn by shots in the court outside, Joseph Rudan sprang to his window and saw two men descending the fire escape in the rear of a house on Clinton street. He fired two shots into the darkness. One of the bullets struck Annie Duke, fifteen years old, in the mouth as she was sitting up in bed in a house opposite. The burglars escaped, but the girl probably will die. She collapsed when he learned the effect of his shots.

SALUTES OLD WARSHIP.

Battleship Idaho's Guns Boom Over Mississippi's Resting Place.

ANGOLA, La., May 17.—While the ship's band played and her bluejackets stood at "present," the big battleship Idaho's guns woke the echoes here today in a salute over the resting place of the old wooden war sloop Mississippi at Admiral Farragut's fleet. The Mississippi was sunk by the Confederate land batteries at Port Hudson, on the Mississippi river, during the civil war. The Idaho is cruising up the river as far as Vicksburg.

Christopher Gladly Displays More Nimbleness Than His Sons.

HORNELL, N. Y., May 17.—Celebrating his ninetieth birthday, Christopher Gladly, a retired politician and business man, last night danced a brisk waltz with his great-granddaughter for a partner. Although he had not danced for more than sixty years, he had no difficulty in keeping step with the music and proved himself far more nimble than any of his eight children, all gray-haired, who witnessed the performance for a partner.
