THE GOODWOOD RACING.

Goodwood, July 25.—To-day commenced the glorious Goodwood, but under circumstances far from glorious, owing to the dry state of the track. Couching has affected so many first-class horses that the racing will only be of slight interest compared with former years. One hundred and fifty horses have arrived on the scene, including eight American. The race for the Duke of Devonshire's Stakes, and is expected to carry off one or two races before the close of the meeting. It had been doing good work, and arrived looking well. The American compete in four events on the first day, six on the second, four on the third, and five on the fourth. On Friday Don Fulmo, handicapped at ninety-four pounds, is considered as having a good chance. The Prince and Princess of Wales, with a large aristocratic company, are guests of the Duke of Richmond and Gordon.

THE RACE FOR THE GOODWOOD STAKES was won by Mr. A. Briggs' Brown Bess, with Prudhomme second, and Blackthorn third. The following is the summary: The Goodwood Stakes, handicap of 25 sovereigns, 1 1/2 miles, on Tuesday, July 25, with 300 competitors, was won by Mr. A. Briggs' Brown Bess, with Prudhomme second, and Blackthorn third. will doubtless omit no effort within its capacity to discharge its obligations, not only towards international fellowship, but to the common interests of humanity. The difficulty is to see what more American can do to prevent internal machinations from being shipped from England to prevent the landing. The same journal doubts the wisdom of asking the Federal or State authorities to put a check on the safety-valve supplied by the vaporizers of the Fenian press. The Standard thinks the American police could, by this time, have discovered something as to who shipped the infernal machines. "Public opinion," it says, "will demand full inquiry, and we are sure the American Government will, notwithstanding its own unwholesome law, show every desire to help us. We hope due diligence will now bear the same interpretation as in the Alabama case. We demand no damages—we only ask friendly aid in checking an infamous conspiracy."

The Morning Post thinks the time has come when America should adopt a similar attitude towards O'Donovan Rossa, and others who have been hoodlums as far as England is concerned. As regards the attempted repetitions of outrage, it says: "We will not do America the injustice of supposing that only a sense of personal risk to her own citizens will induce her to take strong measures."

A DISPATCH FROM LIVERPOOL, says that after the explosive and mechanism had been removed from the cement barrels, the latter were found to be empty, and as undisturbed, and were left on the quay; but nobody claimed them. One thing is clear, either the consignors sent the machines with a prearranged purpose of having them seized or there is utter disloyalty among the Irish people in America.

THE THIEF. The Goodwood Stakes were won by Brown Bess, Prudhomme second, and Blackthorn third. Exeter, the favorite, did not get a place.

DUBLIN, July 26.—At the weekly meeting of the Land League to-night it was announced that $2,400 were received from America during the week. James Redpath delivered a violent speech, in which he characterized Sir William Harcourt's statement that John Devoy was an agent of the League as a deliberate lie, and alluded to John Bright as a renegade. He said he had only one Fenian scheme in America because he did not see how it was possible to conquer England by revolution at present. Redpath concluded by calling Sir William Harcourt a liar, slanderer, and coward, and William E. Forster an infamous Quaker.

DESERTING THE BEY'S STANDARD. PARIS, July 26.—According to a Tunisian dispatch published in La Patrie Française this morning, almost all the Bey's troops have deserted.
