SCOTT TO STUDY MEXICO PROBLEM

Withdrawal Will Await the Report of the Chief of Staff.

FUNSTON TO REMAIN IN FULL COMMAND

General Pershing Establishes New Base Nearer to the City of Parral.

Washington, April 19—No decision as to withdrawal of American troops from Mexico is expected for a week or ten days unless there are new outbreaks against the forces in Mexico to compel immediate action.

The Administration's final action on General Carranza's suggestion that the expedition be recalled probably will be based largely on what is shown in this report. General Scott, who left Washington to-night, hardly will be able to make the round trip and complete his observations in less than ten days.

Secretary Baker laid stress in his announcement on the fact that General Funston still is in the supreme command of the border situation and expeditionary forces and will remain so. He said the department fully approved every step General Funston had taken, and that General Scott was going only because it had seemed desirable to get a clearer view of the situation by means of official reports.

Nothing has been learned on the border today of any conspiracy concerning the withdrawal of the American troops and no move was reported looking to the sending in of other troops to reinforce General Pershing, although reports were issued by General Funston for 2,300 troops to move to Columbus.

Carranza officials, army and civil, today admitted that the report of Villa's death was without foundation. General Luis Gutierrez telegraphed today to General Gavia in Juarez, that so far as he could learn there was no truth in the report. Mexican officials all along the border show lively interest in the German situation, and it generally is believed that the United States and Germany may become embroiled in a strong among Mexicans of all classes.

Movements of Troops Await Scott's Arrival

San Antonio Tex., April 19—Military operations of the American forces in Mexico, it is expected, will remain at a standstill until Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, has completed his study of the situation. The troops movements ordered by General Funston that will make available 2,300 men for General Pershing, will be continued, but it is probable none of these men will go further than Columbus, General Pershing's base, until he knows what policy the Administration wishes to pursue.

Two companies of the 19th Infantry left here to-night for Eagle Pass to relieve troops ordered from there, but no provision has been made to fill the gap left by the withdrawal of other forces on the border. General Funston expressed pleasure that General Scott was coming, declaring it would give him an opportunity to explain personally details of the situation.

MEXICO CITY CERTAIN PANTO VILLA IS DEAD

Indians Said to Have Attended Bandit Make Affidavits.

Mexico City, April 19—According to messages received here, evidence confirming the death of Francisco Villa is being slowly gathered. Officials are now more disposed to give credit to the first reports of the finding of the grave of the bandit.

One report to-day said that Indians who had cared for Villa during his last illness had been located and depositions taken. According to these affidavits, Villa died of blood poisoning. At the Foreign Office full credit is attached to the statements of these Indians.

WHEELER, BY BOND, GETS FREEDOM OF CITY

To Stay in New York and Earn Alimony Money.

The filing of a bond for $5,000 is all that is now required to give Albert Gallatin Wheeler, Jr., the freedom of the city. Justice Delahanty yesterday decided to vacate the order of arrest which Mrs. Claudia Carlstedt Wheeler, former comic opera singer, obtained because her husband owed her $3,000 back alimony. The court fixed only the proviso that Wheeler file a bond for $5,000 to assure his presence in this jurisdiction when wanted.

The residences in South Ocean avenue of Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, wife of the late Judge Wilmet M. Smith, and of Ernest C. Petty will be used. The embassy attaches are expected to arrive in June.

DEATH FEAR DRIVES FINANCIER TO SUICIDE

Yzaak Vanden Berg Kills Himself in Hotel Majestic.

Heart trouble that haunted him with the fear that some time he would drop dead on the street is believed to have driven Yzaak Vanden Berg to shoot and kill himself at the Hotel Majestic yesterday. The man, who was a director of the Gulf States Railroad Company and president of the Arkansas Harbor Terminal Railway Company, committed suicide in his room a few minutes after he had finished a conversation with a business associate, J. S. Pratt, of Houston, Tex.

Pratt, who occupied a room adjoining Vanden Berg's, aroused the man at noon and chatted with him while he was dressing. He left his room and returned to his room at 12:30, and waited for him in the lobby for an hour. Then he sent to the room to find out why Vanden Berg was so slow. The man's body lay near the bed with a revolver lying beside it. He had shot himself through the head.

Vanden Berg's affairs were in good condition, Pratt said afterward. The friend was a richly clad, and waited for him in the lobby for an hour. Then he sent to the room to find out why Vanden Berg was so slow. The man's body lay near the bed with a revolver lying beside it. He had shot himself through the head.

CHECK RAISERS TO TRY CROPS

200 Convicts Apply for Sing Sing's Farm Detail.

Announcement has been made to Sing Sing's populace that 200 inmates will be transferred to Wingdale within ten days to work the prison farms there. Convicts desirous of taking the farm course have been requested to notify Fred Dorner, the principal keeper, who will make up the draft. Selections will be made without regard to the length of the term an inmate is serving, so that "elvers" who have behaved well are as eligible for farming as a first offender with a one-year term.

Warden Kirkwood will take the successful candidates to the four prison farms at Wingdale, a distance of about sixty miles, on auto trucks. Several of the old offenders, whose knowledge of agriculture has heretofore been limited to raising chickens, sandbags and second story windows, are asking permission to try farming.

FOILS THIEF WHO SHOT HIM

Nathan Moscovitz, Attacked in Passover Crowd, Saves His Diamonds.

Nathan Moscovitz, of 388 South Second Street, Brooklyn, was in a crowd celebrating the Jewish Passover when a man suddenly stepped up to him at Suffolk and Delancey streets, pressed a revolver against him and shot him twice. Moscovitz, believing that he had been attacked by a holdup man, grasped a diamond pin from his tie and removed a diamond ring from his finger and handed them to Patrolman James Murphy as he was being carried into a drug store.

In the excitement attending the removal of the wounded man to the Suffolk hospital, the wife of the injured man, who was at 97 Suffolk Street, fainted. Her husband hurried into an adjoining store to telephone for a physician and, returning a moment later, found that the cash register in his shop had been emptied during his absence.

JAR 2,595 YEARS OLD SOLD

Ancient Specimens Purchased at Baggaley Sale.

A Corinthian amphora, dated B. C. 600, its decoration consisting of an archaic hunting scene, black on terra cotta, brought the top price yesterday at the second session of the Baggaley sale at the Anderson Galleries. J. Brummer paid $105 for the specimen. For a large Corinthian hydria, or water jar, B. C. 600-500, with a black decoration on terra cotta of a group of Achaean warriors, J. A. Conway obtained for $30 three tanagra groups of an ancient Greek vase, found at Amphipolis. The total of the session was $2,599.25. The sale ends with this afternoon's session.

ARRANGEMENTS can be made for liberal mortgage accommodation to the purchaser.

The Company began guaranteeing mortgages in 1892 and since that time has issued policies through the Brooklyn and Jamaica offices alone on 49,000 mortgages aggregating $390,500,000. Of this amount over 36,000 mortgages, totaling more than $202,500,000 have been repaid to the investors WITHOUT THE LOSS OF A DOLLAR or a moment's delay in the payment of interest. There are now outstanding over $3,200 mortgages aggregating $188,150,000.

In these counties the interest collections alone now amount to more than $10,000,000 annually and of this vast amount there is at present interest more than thirty days in arrears on only 57 mortgages and amounting to $17,000, the smallest in percentage and amount in the last ten years.

In spite of the immense number of mortgages and the enormous amount involved, the Company has the honor of only fifteen pieces of foreclosed real estate in Kings and Queens Counties. Twelve of these parcels are improved and three are unimproved.

We are making this statement with a two-fold purpose: FIRST it is offered as the answer which the facts and our experience make to the criticisms of the Company, coming largely from Manhattan, for lending so extensively in Kings and Queens Counties; and we believe that the above figures will serve to demonstrate that carefully chosen loans in these Counties constitute the safest class of security that any investing agency has ever handled.

SECOND It is made to attract attention to the opportunity of securing real bargains, in the offer for sale of the fifteen pieces of property mentioned, all of which are offered for the amount of the first mortgage plus the interest, costs and taxes which had accrued at the time of the foreclosure sale. The prices, therefore, represent about 70% of the valuation originally fixed by our appraisers and the above record demonstrates the average soundness of their judgment. The real estate investor has, therefore, a most unusual opportunity.

We propose to advertise in this column these parcels. The above three are the first so offered. We shall be glad to mail a list giving full particulars of these and the other 12 properties upon request.

ROOSEVELT GETS JERSEY PLEDGES

Delegates, Eager to Support Colonel, Urge That He Enter the Race.

HEARS MIDDLE WEST SEEKS PREPAREDNESS

Bacon, Though Still Loyal to Root, Would Back T. R. if Nominated.

Colonel Roosevelt's statement on President Wilson's note yesterday followed a day in New York that was strenuous even for the Colonel. In its course he saw Republican and Progressive leaders, transacted considerable private business, lunched with George W. Perkins and met five delegates to the Republican national convention from New Jersey. Some of the five were "Roosevelt for President" buttons, but it was explained that the emblems were of the edition of 1912, the 1916 edition being as yet unused.

Colonel Roosevelt motored in from Oyster Bay, reaching the Metropolitan office shortly before noon. Awaiting him were reporters from afternoon papers seeking his comment on the President's note. He had not seen the message, and declared that until he had had an opportunity to read it carefully he could say nothing.

Hears of Boom's Progress. Among the others waiting were John Callan O'Laughlin, Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of "The Review of Reviews," John Maynard Harlan, recently defeated in the Illinois primaries as a candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican convention; J. R. Kirkwood, editor of "The Kansas City Star," and Ellen R. Hooker, treasurer of the Progressive National Committee. Colonel Roosevelt conferred briefly with each, and from each he heard reports of progress of the Roosevelt boom.

Mr. Kirkwood was particularly insistent that the heart of the Middle West is beating true to preparedness, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Arthur N. Sager, the Progressive leader from St. Louis, made a similar report. As a true Missourian Mr. Sager declared he would have to be shown before any other candidate that he believed would stand a ghost of a show of election. More than that, he insisted that he would have to be shown that Colonel Roosevelt will not be named at Chicago.

Baron Stands Firm. Before the Colonel's arrival Horace S. Wilkinson, the upstate Progressive leader, and Robert Bacon, host at the famous Root luncheon, called. They had no appointment, and left after seeing the Colonel's secretary. To the reporters Mr. Bacon said he had nothing to add to his recent declaration that he is for Mr. Root if the ex-Senator can be nominated, and with Colonel Roosevelt as his second choice.

Colonel Roosevelt was late in going to lunch and later in returning. On his arrival ex-Senator Everett Colby, of New Jersey, and five of the recently elected delegates to the Republican National Convention were waiting. Their visit was brief. During it, it is understood, they told the Colonel he could depend upon the support of New Jersey in the convention and at the polls in November.

Another of the few callers he found time to see before departing from his office for Oyster Bay was Robert Morphey, former chairman of the Republican County Committee. He also saw Frank Alee, former Senator from Delaware.
