

TAGGART ASSAILS PARTY FOR 'PORK'
Warns Fellow Democrats People Are Revolting Against Taxes.

ADVOCATES ISSUING OF PANAMA BONDS

Senator Exposes $82,000 Appropriation for Building in Village of 803.

(From The Tribune Bureau.)
Washington, Aug. 12.—Issuance of the $191,000,000 remaining of the Panama Canal bonds to soothe the present "nation-wide complaint of the people against the burden of taxation" was demanded by Senator Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, in the Senate to-day. Senator Taggart, although a Democrat, and running this fall on the ticket with President Wilson in Indiana, joined forces with Governor Hughes on the extravagance issue.

He read a list of public buildings proposed for small towns in the omnibus public buildings bill now on the House calendar, but being reserved for passage until the election is over, as Mr. Taggart frankly declared.

A sample of these is the case of Lewisburg, W. Va., with a population of 803. The appropriation for the public building in the pending bill is $82,000. Mr. Taggart pointed out that the interest on the investment would amount to $2,500; the yearly depreciation would be $750; the janitor service would cost $1,200, and the supplies would run to $900, making a total annual charge of $5,450 for a town of 803 persons.

Taggart Pleads for Economy.

"I have not been a member of this body very long," said Mr. Taggart, "but it looks to me that sometimes more attention is paid to spending money than to economy. I wonder what would happen to each Senator if every member of the House if he spent or appropriated money in his private affairs as he spends it in public affairs."

"I wonder how long it would be until we would all find ourselves in a court of bankruptcy. On the other hand, I wonder what would happen to the country if every member of the Senate and House would make up his mind in the direction of right economy and fearlessly cut off every useless dollar of appropriations. I wonder if the taxpayers of the nation would rise up and revolt against Congress if such a thing should happen? I favor a liberal but businesslike economy. I believe the nation would like to be given a rest from having their taxes increased every year."

"I am in favor of giving it a tryout just to see what would happen. I do not believe the people can be made prosperous by taxation, be it direct or indirect."

Warns of Reckoning Day.

"These enormous increases in appropriations cannot go on forever. There must and will be a day of reckoning. The power to take on such a load of debt, and we do not want to destroy the earning power of the people by overtaxation. Congress is getting in the habit of casting about to find things on which to place a tax, instead of vigilantly seeking where it can economize without injury to the public service."

"The party in control holds the purse strings of the Treasury, and it should assume responsibility for disbursements. If it fails to assume this responsibility, it fails to do its duty."

"Not a dollar can be taken out unless Congress appropriates it. Unless more economy is practiced, Congress will soon find itself driven to the necessity of laying and collecting taxes on many other things. It may be a stamp on direct tax, but it may be a tax, instead of eventually come unless economy is practiced in the future."

Complaints Are Nation-wide.

"The complaint of the people to-day against the burden of taxation is nation-wide. I do not mean in a partisan sense. My voice is heard in every township, county, municipality and state in the Union. I am sure if this revenue bill is adopted without some amendment the protest will soon reach Congress."

"We should have saved $20,000,000 in the bankers and harbors bill. There should have been several millions saved in the agricultural bill, and I have no doubt that on all the other appropriations, only the most necessary other millions could have been saved."

LAST DAY'S 'STAMPEDE' FILLED WITH THRILLS

Broken Legs and Falls Mark Closing Performances.

Pat Brown was walking swiftly, but not swiftly enough. Pat is a detective attached to the 15th Inspection District, and not a cowboy. While circumventing a runaway bull and colliding with a pony and suffering a serious dent in his derby hat and a cut on his right leg.

The accident was the least serious one of the day at the Stampede exhibition at Sheepshead Bay Speedway yesterday, and the most amusing. Sixty-five thousand people saw the Westerners in their final appearance, 25,000 attending the night exhibition.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Derby, the latter Colonel Roosevelt's daughter, were in the boxes.

Dick Hornbuckle, of Dublin, Wyo., was cut out of the prize money in the bucking broncho contest when his moment pitched him, breaking his rider's leg. Cowgirls passed through the audience with hats and raised $824 for the injured plainsman. Dorothy Morell also suffered a fracture of the right leg when, thrown, Fanny Sperry-Steele was picked up unconscious after a tumble, but revived.

BROOKLYN MAN DROWNS

Ward W. Simmons Was Canoeing at Water Gap.

Stroudsburg, Penn., Aug. 12.—Ward W. Simmons, about thirty-five years old, a jeweller of Brooklyn, N. Y., who had been summering at the Water Gap for many years, was drowned in the Delaware River, nearly opposite the Lackawanna station, this morning while canoeing in the rapids.

Mr. Simmons had been staying at the Water Gap for some time, and was preparing to return to-morrow to his home in Brooklyn, where he had a wife and two small children. The latter could not leave their home owing to the infantile paralytic epidemic and were awaiting his return.

ATTACKS WILSON SHIP BILL POLICY

Senator Bankhead (Dem.) Says War Would Have Followed Law.

PRESENT MEASURE MEETS HIS APPROVAL

Former Bolters Think Proposal Is Not Good, but Will Do No Harm.

(From The Tribune Bureau.)
Washington, Aug. 12.—The Wilson Administration would have dragged the United States into war if it had passed the shipping bill last year and proceeded with the purchase of interned German and Austrian liners, as intended by the bill's originators, Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, declared in the Senate to-day.

Senator Bankhead was one of the seven bolters last year who, led by Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, defeated the McAdoo ship bill. His speech to-day was a stinging arraignment of the tsoburnness which characterized the Administration in that fight. He called attention, item by item, to the changes which had been made in the bill since, showing that virtually every change made was demanded by the bolters more than seventeen months ago.

"If the concessions now made in this bill had been made in the last Congress," he said, "legislation would have been passed last March instead of during this session, and those of us who supported the motion of the Senator from Arkansas (Mr. Clarke) to recommit the bill for the purpose of making the very changes in it that have now been made in the pending bill, submit that our position in this matter has been absolutely and speedily vindicated."

Bankhead to Vote for Bill.

"Since the objectionable features of the bill considered in the last Congress have been eliminated, and all the suggestions then made by the opponents of the bill have been incorporated, speaking for myself, I shall unhesitatingly vote for the bill, and I believe I speak for the other Democrats with whom I was associated at that time."

One of these Democrats, Senator Camden, of Kentucky, has since gone out of the Senate. The others are: O'Gorman, Clarke, Vardaman, Hardwick and Hitchcock.

Questions directed to these Senators show that Senator Bankhead not only spoke for them, but had talked over with them what he proposed to say to-day. All danger of a bolt on the bill at this session is now believed to have been removed.

The former bolters frankly do not believe the present bill is good, but on the other hand they think that its teeth have been drawn and that it will do no harm.

Denounces Purchase Feature.

"It will be remembered," said Senator Bankhead, "that one of the objectionable features, and perhaps the most objectionable, in last year's bill was found in the authority given to the board to purchase vessels, 'the only limitation being that they should be, in the judgment of the board, suitable for the purposes of the corporation therein provided.'"

"The board was left free to buy any and every character of vessel that could be tendered it, including the interned ships belonging to Germany and Austria, caught in our ports when the war broke out."

"I believed then and believe now that that bill had become a law and these vessels had been purchased by the United States and put under our flag, and engaged in commerce between this and foreign countries, war would have been the inevitable result, as such strained relations between this government and the Allies as would have absolutely demoralized and destroyed our foreign commerce."

ZOOS OF THREE CITIES GET NEW ANIMALS

Combine and Send Ship to Africa for Them.

Because the British government could not, in view of the war, establish a line of steamers to ship wild animals from Africa to Europe and America, the New York Zoological Park, the Philadelphia Zoological Gardens and the National Park at Washington, D. C., combined to do so.

They sent to Cape Colony J. A. Loring of Oswego, N. Y., a zoologist who accompanied Theodore Roosevelt on numerous expeditions. He is expected back in a few months. Dr. William T. Hornaday, head of the Bronx Zoo, said yesterday, with a large number of antelope, tropical birds and reptiles.

The Bronx Zoo is to receive within the next few days a white porcupine from Maine. It is a very rare "biological sport." There is only one other albino in the Zoo, a white racoon. Two other albinos, which were in the park, a white squirrel and a white coyote have died.

CAN'T FIND A SKEETER IN ALL OF PLAINFIELD

Two Jersey Inspectors Hunt All Night in Vain.

Plainfield, N. J., Aug. 12.—Frank Putnam, inspector of the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission, came to Plainfield the other day to get a sample of the town's mosquitoes. He hunted all night and didn't find any.

He was followed by Herbert A. Sline, another inspector on the same mission. He devoted an entire night to the hunt and almost caught an insect which he thinks might have been a mosquito.

Half Plainfield is clamoring for appointments as inspectors.

CHARLES FRENCH INJURED

Editor of "Musical Leader" Hurt Helping Wife Off Car.

Charles French, fifty-four years old, editor of "The Musical Leader," of Chicago, was taken to the Polyclinic Hospital last night in a serious condition with a badly crushed right foot.

Mr. French, who has been stopping at the Hotel Cumberland, was assisting his wife and daughter to alight from a Sixth Avenue surface car at Forty-third Street, when he placed his foot under a wheel. The car started before his foot was withdrawn.
