Four Runs by the Senators Arouses Yanks to Victory

Donovan's Men Drive Gallia from Box—Work Squeeze Play Successfully

By W. O. McGEHEAN

After presenting the game to the Senators in the first inning yesterday, the Yanks came up from the rear by a score of 7 to 5.

On top morn examination, it perhaps is just as well that the Yanks did not inadvertently spot the Senators four runs in that first.

In the fifth the Yanks took a lead of one run, but they were tied up again in the sixth.

Urban Shocker held the Senators for four hits for the entire nine innings.

Shocker's performance was a masterpiece of pitching.

A Ballade of the Times

I wonder when I stand at bay With battered lance and shield away. Huddled back across the driving fray.

Soft years are gone—as dreams decay— Old times no longer typify: Tomorrow brings another day.

It has been a long time since we have seen a ball club that gave such an impression of consistent, rugged power in driving its way around the bases.

Dear Sir I am willing to admit that ball players have and require unusually good brains.

Canada has never held an October world series. But her April world series at Vinny Ridge will carry longer memories than any other played by entries from this side of the Atlantic.

Some six years ago, back in 1911, when Carl Morris was "white-hoping" around the country, he was training for a bout, working out daily at the New Polo A. C. clubhouse.

John T. Dunn came in tip-toe last night and interrupted our petty reverie to say that Johnny Dundee and Tommy Tuohy will box at the Broadway Sporting Club, of Brooklyn, on Tuesday night.

Sam Sancho Thum Langford, who is going to fight to South America next week to fight Jack Johnson, will give Bob Devere a chance to bounce his pet punches off the Langford-Falstina punch at the Harlem Sporting Club tomorrow night.

Bonnie Leonard meets Ritchie Mitchell in Milwaukee to-night, and the entire Middle West is excited over the bout.

Giants Lose Their First Game of Year to Dodgers

Great Throw from Right by Casey Stengel Spoils Hopes of Giants

By W. J. MACBETH

The Giants dropped the first game of the season to the Dodgers at Ebbets Field yesterday afternoon.

Brooklyn looked the part of a champion in victory. The Giants fought as McGraw's team always will fight—right up to the last out.

The crashing power of the Giants this season is almost sure to send this club to McGraw's sixth pennant.
