Ocala now has a furniture factory in operation, an enterprise that was started this year, and is doing a good business. She has a cotton gin that will be in operation by the time cotton is ready to market. Besides these new enterprises, there are many other factories that have been in successful operation for a number of years. Now let us continue by building a canning factory. Let some one make a start in this direction.

Norton & Davis, the new proprietors of the Ocala House Barber Shop, will give you as clean and easy a shave and as nice a hair cut as any barber in Ocala. Three experienced, fashionable barbers in the shop. Call and give them a trial. 324-tf.

Supper tonight is the last meal The Ocala will serve until the fall opening. The rooms will remain open and the guests receive just as good attention as formerly. Mr. Rogers will remain in charge and look well to the comfort of his lodgers. The guests and attaches of the house will take their meals at the Tuigne restaurant, where Mrs. Lamb, the popular proprietress, has arranged to give them every comfort in the culinary line.

Is your nervous system shattered? Do not despair. Brace up with Sabalena, which goes to the brain and stays there.

Lieut. J. J. Meyler of the U. S. engineering corps at St. Augustine is in the city to investigate the matter of the phosphate mines running the discharge from their washing machines into the Withlacoochee and Wekiva rivers, which is seriously interfering with navigation.

The Post Office drug store will give you the finest cream and best drinks in the city.

Ocala mechanics and laborers are given employment on the new depot, although the contractor could get plenty of men from elsewhere at less wages.

PUBLISH THE LAWS.

Every newspaper in Wisconsin and Minnesota over one year old receives $100 for publishing the general laws passed at each legislature of their respective states.

The adage that ignorance of the law is no excuse for its violation should apply with full force in Wisconsin and Minnesota, but the conditions are different in this state, where no provisions are made for publishing and placing the law in the hands of the masses.

Some $100,000 or $15,000 a year spent by Florida in this connection would prove a good investment for the state, as it would obviate much crime and greatly reduce the cost in criminal prosecutions.—Ex.

The editor of the STAR is under obligations to W. E. Cason for a liberal supply of fine Jersey butter. If Mr. Cason could have seen us devouring the pancakes, after almost swimming them in this fine butter, it would have been useless for us to tell him that it suited our taste. Come again in the same way, Brother Cason—or we mean many thanks, Brother Cason.

If your bicycle needs repairing P. E. Williams, at the Ocala Wagon Works, is prepared to do it. All work left at W. W. Condon's jewelry store will receive prompt attention.

Judge Marshall and Wm. Fox were elected delegates to Richmond by the United Confederate Veterans corps of this city and leave tomorrow to be present at the grand rally of the old boys of the gray.

Something New.—Coffee and Whipped Cream at the Post Office drug store.

The republicans held their county convention here yesterday. About 225 were present at the meeting in the court house, nearly all of them being negroes. Resolutions were passed deploring the "Sheats law" and commending the action taken by the gold men.

For Ice Cream and Cold Drinks go to Post Office drug store.

Business was better with our merchants today than during any day of the convention, because nearly all of the excursionists came on purpose to buy something.

Among the Homosassa excursionists we noticed Sim Smith and little daughter and nieces, Misses Cora and Belle Smith, and the Misses Brigge; Miss Ada Wheeler and Miss Beulah Burt.

C. E. Heston, assistant to J. Strunk, in the Western Union telegraph office, left today for Jacksonville to accept a similar position.

DIED.

Miss Marguerite Riche, a most excellent young lady, died at her parents' residence on Fort King avenue at 12 o'clock today after suffering greatly for over a year. Miss Riche was a devout member of the Catholic church, and by her Christian resignation and great patience, amid her sufferings greatly endeared herself to all who knew her. She had the best of medical attention and most tender nursing, but her loving friends could not stay the icy hand of death.

The funeral services will take place from St. Philip's Catholic church tomorrow morning at 9:30. All friends are invited.

A CARD.

The ladies of the Ladies Aid society of the Baptist church take this method of returning their thanks to the many friends who so generously aided them both by their donations and patronage, during the recent restaurant.

As a result of the very cheap excursion today over three sections of the Plant System about a thousand visitors spent the day in the convention city.
