

HUGHES IS THE NOMINEE OF REPUBLICANS

Roosevelt, Nominated For Second Place, Immediately Declined.

FAIRBANKS FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Progressives Name New Orleans Man For Vice Presidential Candidate.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chicago, June 10.—The republicans today nominated Hughes and Fairbanks. Almost at the same time Roosevelt was nominated by the progressives and later in the day, John M. Parker, of Louisiana, was named to fill out the progressive ticket, for vice president. Republicans required a ballot of third of the convention, while progressive nomination was made by acclamation. Both conventions adjourned. This afternoon Roosevelt sent a message to the progressive convention, declining the nomination, conditionally and it was accepted, as Roosevelt wished. This provisional declination is believed to leave the door open for his eventual withdrawal of a third ticket in the event that Hughes' position on what progressives believe to be vital issues of the campaign, meet their approval. To this extent, leaders of both parties believe that efforts at harmony may yet be realized.

Republicans who took two ballots last night with a growing indication that Hughes is likely to win on the third ballot when the convention opened today, it was found this morning that a "favorite son" combination had been broken and delegates were flopping rapidly to Hughes. By the time New Jersey was reached in the roll call, Hughes had received the necessary four hundred and ninety-four votes and many wanted to make it unanimous, but Chairman Harding insisted on polling the remainder of the states.

When Hughes was nominated, no word had come as to whether he would accept but it came shortly after with the announcement that he had accepted and had resigned from the supreme court.

Fairbanks, who earlier in the day had requested that his name not be placed in nomination for vice president, accepted when he was notified that he was nominated.

Roosevelt's proposal of Senator Lodge as a compromise candidate, while received with cheers in the galleries, could not head off the stampede for Hughes once the third ballot got under way.

ROOSEVELT'S STATEMENT AS TO DECLINATION

Chicago, June 10.—Roosevelt conditionally declined the progressive nomination. His message sent to the convention, in part, is: "I cannot accept at this time. I do not know the attitude of the republican candidate toward the vital question of the day, therefore, if you desire an immediate decision, I must decline the nomination. But, if you prefer it, I suggest that my conditional refusal be placed in the hands of the progressive national committee. If Hughes' statements satisfy the committee that it is for the interest of the country that he be elected, they can act accordingly and treat my refusal as definitely accepted. If they are not satisfied they can confer with the party and me, and then determine on action."

PROGRESSIVES HOLD ANOTHER MEETING

The progressive committee decided unanimously, to hold another meeting June 25. Although member refused to discuss the meeting, the announcement was taken as an indication that no settlement had been reached as to whether Roosevelt's name would remain on the ticket.

NO MILITARY CHURCH FUNERAL FOR SAUFLEY

Remains Will Be Sent To Kentucky For Interment.

There will be no military church funeral of Lieutenant Rowan Saufley, killed Friday when he broke his own record for sustained airplane flight; instead the remains will be given a military escort to the train, when they will be shipped to his home in Stanford, Kentucky, for interment.

Lieut. Saufley's father, Judge O'Rear, of Kentucky, is expected this morning, when it will be decided whether the remains will be sent on the noon train or on the night train.

Judge O'Rear was a delegate to the Republican convention in Chicago. This is Lieutenant Saufley's second fall; the one he had about a year ago, with Lt. McDonnell, was, however, a low one and he received only a slight shaking up.

The following article on Lieutenant Saufley by Rev. A. S. Moffett, of the First Presbyterian church, who knew the dead officer since he was a baby.

By Rev. A. S. Moffett

Lieutenant Rowan C. Saufley, whose recent sudden and tragic death, has cast gloom over a large circle of comrades and friends, was born in Stanford, Ky., about thirty years ago. Judge M. C. Saufley, his father, was a Confederate soldier in the command of General John H. Morgan.

Sprung from a noble ancestry and the son of cultured and refined parents, Lieutenant Saufley possessed intellectual talent of a high order. Entering the naval academy at Annapolis he ranked high in his classes and graduated with high honors in 1908. After two years he was promoted to the rank of ensign and in recognition of his merit in 1913 he was promoted to a lieutenancy.

Enterprising and ambitious on entering the aviation department of the navy, he devoted all of his energies and talents to the development of that branch of the service in which he achieved phenomenal success. His skill and ability signalized him as an expert in the science of aviation in which in a brief time he established his records. To the improvement and perfecting of the aviation service he untiringly devoted his ability, his talent and finally his young life so full of promise. This arm of the service sustains a great loss in his death.

The sympathy of a large circle of friends is extended to his bereaved wife, a daughter of Judge E. C. O'Rear of Frankfort, Ky., to whom he was united in marriage about five years ago, also to his mother now far advanced on life's journey.

Expert to Talk on "Prevention of Hog Cholera"

Much interest is being shown in the joint meeting of the home demonstration agent and the farm demonstration agent at Wardville, on the 19th and Bellevue on the 20th, according to a statement of W. S. Hiatt, state farm demonstrator. At Wardville the meeting will be held in the school house and on the spacious and shaded grounds, the place of meeting at Bellevue has not yet been announced.

The occasion will be an all-day celebration and everyone is requested to bring a basket dinner. The forenoon will be devoted to an address by Dr. Logan on "The Prevention of Hog Cholera." Dr. Logan is an expert veterinarian, associated with the University Extension Bureau of the University of Florida. Mr. Hiatt will also make a talk on general agricultural and livestock conditions in this section.

The afternoon program will be exclusively in charge of Miss Lonny Landrum, home demonstration agent, who will give practical canning demonstrations before the Canning Girls, and then turn the actual work over to them, acting then only as a supervisor.

These demonstrations will be given to all present and will include an exhibition of the construction and operation of the fireless cooker and iceless refrigerator. These two articles occupy an important place in the work of the demonstration and simple rules of construction are given which make it possible for a novice to make one. The articles are said to give most satisfactory results.

Official Count of Primary Vote Proceeds Slowly

The official count of the canvassing board is progressing slowly, and after two days of tallying, only nineteen precincts have been officially counted. It is expected that it will be Tuesday night before the work is completed. Few changes have been made so far, and nothing to offset the forecasting of The Journal, although the work being of interest to candidates, many of whom have been watching the count.

Wiley J. McDavid in precincts 7 and 11, stated that he had not made account of his second choice votes in the figures compiled by himself. This being the case, the lead of Mr. McDavid over Cade E. Shackelford is increased and further insures his nomination.

KNOTT DRAWS AHEAD; LEADS CATTSBY 1,000

Second Count Enables Him to Overcome a 4,000 Lead.

TRAMMELL WINS BY BIG MAJORITY

15,000 More Votes Unaccounted For In Governor Race.

(Special to The Journal.)
Jacksonville, Fla., 10:49 p. m., June 10.—Figures on the governor's race not yet available. At least fifteen thousand votes are yet to be heard from. The canvass is very slow. Knott is still slightly in the lead, with second choice heard from.

BY BIG MAJORITY TRAMMELL IS SENATOR

(Special to The Journal.)
Tallahassee, June 10.—The late returns are practically complete on the first choice votes in Tuesday's primary for United States senator and are as follows: Park Trammell 35,279, N. P. Bryan 17,647, Perry G. Wall 11,956, A. W. Gilchrist 8,269, total 73,154. Trammell carried 45 counties, Bryan six counties, Wall one county, and Gilchrist none. Governor Trammell's lead is 17,632 over Senator Bryan on the first choice votes alone. The returns also show he is leading Senator Bryan on second choice.

Surprising were the developments in the gubernatorial race yesterday. Knott from 400 votes behind, drew even with Catts and then passed him with a majority of 1,251 ballots.

With 15,000 votes yet to be heard from, he was still slightly in the lead when the forms were closed this morning. If by "slightly" is meant that Catts has decreased the thousand-odd lead, it is evident that there are more thrills in store before the result is finally known.

The tallying is proceeding slowly on account of the second choice proposition. The complete returns will hardly be known before Monday.

Trammell's race is his by a big margin, and Smithwick has conceded the Kehoe election.

FLAG DAY IS JUNE 14

MAY BE FIRST LADY OF THE LAND

MRS. CHARLES F. HUGHES.

Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes was Miss Antoinette Carter of New York. Her marriage to Hughes took place in New York in 1888 when he was practicing law there.

Mrs. Hughes says her home and children are her chief interests. She is the mother of three daughters—Elizabeth, 9, Katherine, 18, and Helen, 25, and one son, Charles Evans, Jr., who is married and has two children.

It is reported that Mrs. Hughes at the time of the birth of Elizabeth, when Hughes was governor of New York, she said to him: "Our next baby will be born in the white house."

Mrs. Hughes is also reported to have expressed joy when Hughes was appointed to the supreme court, because of the fact that for the first time in his political career the family would be able to settle down.

YACHT RACE PLANS ARE FAST MATURING

Congratulating Kehoe, Smithwick Shows Fine Spirit

That big hearty laugh of J. H. Smithwick, the laugh that has been heard in nearly every precinct of the Third Congressional District, during the last few months, is just as much in evidence today as it was when he and his friends thought fortune was going to favor him with the congressional nomination.

"Tell the boys for me," said he at his office yesterday, "that I have no complaint to make because they gave Walter Kehoe more votes than they did me. Away back yonder in the years that have gone, I developed some political ideas of my own, among which was the right of the people to select whomever they want for office. Because they failed to elect me in no measure caused me to think differently.

"My friends have been loyal and kind to me. I have made hundreds, yes thousands, of new friends and they are worth far more to a man than any political office.

"To every man, woman and child who said cheering words to me and for me, and gave me their loyal support in this race, I owe a great debt of gratitude that I can never pay."

"I just sent the following letter to Walter Kehoe, the man who got the office:

"June 10, 1916.
"Hon. Walter Kehoe,
"Pensacola, Fla.

"Dear Walter:

"In order that you may sleep well tonight, I write you these few lines. In spite of the fact that I am not in possession of the full returns from all of the counties of the district, I have enough to convince me you have won the congressional nomination and take this opportunity to congratulate you.

"I have really enjoyed the race, both before and after the primary. I admit that I would now be happier if you were writing me a letter like this, but I assure you that there are no scars on me.

"I have faith in the people and am always willing to abide by their decision.

"With best wishes, I am
"Your friend,
"J. H. SMITHWICK."

Most Successful Meet Ever Held, Say Indications.

Captain Behrens of the Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans, in a letter to the Pensacola Yacht Club yesterday, stated that the contestants in the long distance race would probably leave New Orleans on Saturday, July 1st, to arrive in Pensacola on Sunday the second.

The plan was suggested for several reasons chief among which it would afford Pensacolians a better opportunity of witnessing the finish than if the start was made on Sunday, or even Saturday. Not only is it desirable from this point alone, it was pointed out, but it would afford ample time for the crews and contestants to rest up before the regatta Tuesday, and give an opportunity to make any repairs to the vessels after the long grind.

Captain Behrens also stated that there is more enthusiasm over the race this year than possibly ever before, and it is expected that there will be about fifteen entries some much larger craft than heretofore. Many boats have been built to be entered in the contest.

It is understood that many more local entries have been made in the races, and with the revenue cutter to patrol the course and rules made the details of the race will be gradually worked out. The course has not yet been decided upon, but will be announced later.

It has been suggested that the club lay the course off Palmetto beach so that the people on the picnic may witness the contests.

MAD DOG WAS KILLED ON NORTH HAYNE STREET

Officer Harper was yesterday called to 501 North Hayne street where he shot a dog, said to have been suffering from the rabies. The dog had attempted to bite several people, and was shut up in a house and kept there until the police arrived.

HALF HOLIDAYS AT THE CUSTOM HOUSE

Beginning next Saturday, June 17, the custom house at Pensacola will be closed at 1 o'clock, and on each Saturday during the summer will be closed at that time. Shipping interests are requested to transact their business there in the forenoon of Saturday.

HAGAN FOUND IN HOSPITAL AT N. ORLEANS

Man Who Disappeared From Navy Yard Has Been Located.

PRESENCE THERE SELF-SURPRISING

Remembers Nothing of the Manner of His Leaving Pensacola.

J. B. Hagan, the sergeant of marines, whose mysterious disappearance from the naval station alarmed his friends and comrades, has been located in the Charity Hospital of New Orleans, and a report from the Crescent City announces that the marine sergeant cannot account for his presence there.

So far as the information received here stated yesterday, Hagan, in the hospital, seems to have recovered his faculties, sufficient to tell who he is. Following his statement, hospital officials yesterday got into telegraphic communication with the Pensacola naval station, and stated that Hagan would be detained at the Algiers naval station until he is safely able to come back to Pensacola.

Hagan apparently is suffering from a temporarily loss of memory, due to the fever to which he was a victim while in the Philippines, complicated by a recent fall from a motorcycle.

Sergeant Hagan boarded at the home of Mrs. McClure, on Fourteenth avenue and Cervantes street, and on the night of his disappearance informed friends on Palafox street that he was going to his room. Rent for the said room was paid a week to the landlady. He was attired in civilian clothes and started to walk north on Palafox street. This was shortly after 9 o'clock that night. It is the contention of friends that, stopping near the L. & N. passenger depot, a desire seized him to board the north-bound train. This is apparently just what he did, for he turned up and made his identity known in the Charity hospital, New Orleans, Saturday morning.

Another Disappearance.
Another man disappeared from the naval station yesterday or the day before, but there appears to be no worrying about the latest missing man, as friends believe he will come back all right.

Russians Still Continue Heavy Drive on Teutons

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
London, June 10.—Russian offensive in Volhynia continuing push westward from Lutsk, crossing the Styry river and fighting rear guard actions with the retiring Austrians. In Galicia, northeast of Tarnopol, the Austrian defense appears to be stiffening and heavy fighting is underway. Farther south the Russians are nearing Zlota Lipa river from which they advanced in their drive last September.

Petrograd says prisoners taken by Russians number 72,000. Berlin announces progress northeast of Verdun where ground been gained southwest of Fort Donnauent and Fort Vaux. Germans claim the capture of 1,500 prisoners in this sector since June eighth.

British admiralty states that cruiser Hampshire on which Earl Kitchener and staff were lost was sunk by mine. All hope abandoned for all aboard save twelve men who landed from raft in Scotland.

REVIVAL TO CLOSE

The revival services that have been held at the East Hill Baptist church, corner 13th avenue and Gadsden street, for the past two weeks will close with today's services. Mr. W. A. Ferral from Milton will preach at 11 o'clock and also 8 p. m. A special devotional service will be held at 7:45 p. m., preceding the 8 o'clock service. Interest has been very gratifying during these meetings and it is very much desired that today's services be the very best. The public and especially the members of the church cordially invited.
