PAYING THE PRICE.

We are always paying the price for the things we lose or gain. Out of this life of the mingled gift of gladness and of pain; And whether we pay for pleasures or whether we pay for sin, It is always paying the price for life, no matter where we begin. We say we have had a lot we've enjoyed and we've shared in the best We sit sometimes with a little dream of old content in the breast; And then when we look away and think of the things that were nice, It all comes over us, lucky or sad, that we've had to pay the price. The magnate pays it for his, as the pauper pays it too; And the saint pays just as the sinner does and the unsaved have to do; In all that we have and hold, or in all that we've thrown away. It is sure in the end to come to this that there was a price to pay.

We pay it for love and peace, for cheer and comfort and song; We pay for sinning and going astray, we pay it for doing wrong; In all that we are or seem, in gladness or grief or pain. We are always paying the price for the things that we lose or gain. —Folger McKinsey in the Baltimore Sun.

cheimer, and Dr. and Mrs. Knight. Dancing was followed by a plate luncheon, with punch served during the evening, which was most delightfully spent by those enjoying the hospitality.

LONGER SKIRTS WILL BE WORN.

New York, Sept. 20.—Longer and less flaring skirts are indicated by the fall fashions, says the semi-annual report of the Silk Association of America. They will be of ankle length, frequently made of plaits and requiring as much or more material than last season, is the prediction. Paris fashions, it is asserted, have not favored the extremely short, almost freaky skirts which have been worn here this year. The wearing of these skirts unquestionably has increased the demand for silk hosiery both fancy and plain, says the report of experts.

SUBSCRIPTION DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB.

There will be a subscription dance on Saturday evening at the Country Club, in which all members of the club are invited to participate, taking the eight o'clock car to the club house. The Country Club is an ideal place for entertaining, especially now, the evenings, though cool enough to make dancing delightful, do not preclude the enjoyment of the spacious verandas and the view of the water, always a charm of the country club environment.

This is a medicine that every family should be provided with. Colic and diarrhoea often come on suddenly and it is of the greatest importance that they be treated promptly. Consider the suffering that must be endured until a physician arrives or medicine can be obtained. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has a reputation second to none for the quick relief it affords. Obtainable everywhere. —Adv.

HUBBARD-O'CONNELL WEDDING.

The following account of the Hubbard-O'Connell wedding, of much interest in Pensacola, where the bride has many friends, is from the Montgomery Advertiser:

The most brilliant wedding of the fall season, and a marriage of unusual interest throughout Alabama, owing to the popularity of both young people was that of Mr. Woodward Andrew Hubbard and Miss Alice Merritt O'Connell which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of the bride on Moulton street. The handsome and spacious O'Connell home, presented a scene of rare beauty and the decorations were most artistic. In the drawing room, where the ceremony was performed, bridal tones of white and green were used, stately palms forming an effective background for the vases of white roses and lilies, which filled the room with their fragrance. The young couple stood in an alcove banked with feathery palms, with an archway overhead of southern smilax, studded with Easter lilies. At each side were tall floor vases of Easter lilies and white roses, and in the center hung a basket of the same exquisite blossoms. The library was decorated in pink roses and ferns, and the hall and living room were in autumn tones, clusters of golden rod being used as a foil for the purple asters and rich foliage.

Festoons of southern smilax were used everywhere. Before the ceremony a beautiful musical program was rendered by the Strand orchestra. The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengren's wedding march. Mrs. Buckner Beasley, the matron of honor, was lovely in a gown of orchid shade crepe meteor, trimmed in beads and passementerie, and a picture hat of the same tones, trimmed in orchids. She carried a shower bouquet of pink Killarney Queen roses and ferns.

Miss Margaret Robinson, niece of the bride and her maid of honor, was pretty and girlish in a costume of orchid taffeta. It was made with a short full skirt, with cascade of lace, and trimmed with a deeper tone of purple velvet and crystal butterflies with a touch of light blue. She wore a hat of silver lavender cloth, faced with velvet of a darker tone, and carried a shower bouquet of pink Killarney roses.

The bride entered with her brother, Mr. John O'Connell, of Hagerstown, Md., by whom she was given in marriage. Always a handsome girl, she was strikingly so, on this occasion in her going away gown, a smart coat suit of grey imported serge, and a hat of grey velveteen, with crown of grey beaver. It was slightly rolled at the side, and trimmed with silver and grey flowers. She wore grey boots and gloves. Her bouquet was of brides roses and orchids, showered with lilies of the valley.

They were met at the altar by Mr. Hubbard and his best man, Mr. George Whitmore, of Petersburg, Va. The ceremony was performed by Reverend Father English, and the double ring service was used.

Immediately afterwards an informal reception was held, and congratula-

DRINKING OF WATER

By V. M. Pierce, M. D.
The general conclusions of the latest Medical Scientists prove that drinking of plenty of pure water both between meals and with one's meals is beneficial to health. For a great many years it was the erroneous opinion of many medical men and the public generally that the habit of drinking water with the food was harmful to digestion. It has now been proven by means of the X-rays and actual tests upon many healthy young men that the drinking of large amounts of water with meals is attended with many desirable and few, if any, undesirable features. Therefore if you want to keep healthy drink plenty of pure water (not ice water), both with your meals and between meals. If you ever suffer from back-ache, lumbago, rheumatism, or any of the symptoms of kidney trouble—such as deep colored urine, sediment in urine, getting out of bed at night frequently and other troublesome effects take a little Anuric before meals. These Anuric Tablets can be obtained at almost any drug store.—Adv.

tions and best wishes were extended the young couple. The dining room, where the bride's table was placed, was decorated in palms and white roses. The table was spread with Cluny lace, and in the center was the bride's cake. It was exquisitely embossed in violets and lilies of the valley, and in the center was a tiny Kewpie bride. Mrs. Charles Harris and Mrs. Albert Brame presided here.

On the table were tiny baskets of mallow, wreathed with orange blossoms and holding embossed mints. The punch table in the living room was spread with lace, and at one side was a Marie Antoinette basket filled with pink Killarney roses and ferns.

The bride's book was in charge of Miss Lucy Durr and Miss Mary Jackson.

Later in the evening, Mr. Hubbard and his bride left for Atlanta, where they will spend several days before going to Asheville, N. C., where they will be at Grove Park Inn until the first of October, after which they will go to Columbia, S. C., to make their home.

INTERFERED WITH CHURCH SERVICES

Religious workers and church officers of a church at Pine Forest complained a couple of days ago that worship at that church had been rudely disturbed recently, and that they wanted to take action against the party, or parties, who persisted in such tactics. One of the deacons in the church was in the city Tuesday and made a warrant against a young man named John M. Courtney, charging him with being one of those "disturbers." Carrying a warrant, Deputy Crawford went out to Pine Forest yesterday and returned at 10 o'clock in the
