QUEEN'S LUNCHEON AT THE SAN CARLOS.

About a beautifully appointed table centered with the carnival colors carried out with hundreds of fragrant violets and the golden blossoms of the narcissus, the queen and her court were entertained at luncheon yesterday following the arrival of King Priscus XVI and his formal entry into the city.

About the table were seated Miss Gladys Pierce, queen of the carnival, and Mr. H. A. Felkel, chairman of the coronation committee; Miss Mary Emma McDaniel, of Milton, and Mr. W. B. Wright, Jr.; Miss Helen Carter and Lieut. E. R. Kimball, U. S. A.; Miss Cary Abercrombie and Mr. Thomas A. Johnson; Miss Natalie Berry and Mr. E. G. Haas, U. S. N.; ladies in waiting to the queen, and knights of the court, and Miss Kitten Merritt and Mr. Tom Hanlon, queen and king of the Carnival of 1914.

Miss Pierce was very lovely in a modish gown of pussy willow taffeta in one of the new blue shades and black hat of maline with wreath of spring flowers in the colors of the court. With this pretty toilet was a corsage of pink roses showered with pink and white sweet peas. Miss McDaniels wore a charming frock of soft green taffeta with green velvet hat trimmed in fur.

Miss Carter was in a sweet frock of soft brown silk fashioned moyenne, worn with black velvet hat and white plume.

Miss Abercrombie wore a charming gown of sponge with a hat in matching shade.

Miss Berry was in black velvet worn with black velvet hat.

Miss Kitten Merritt wore a pretty gown of sand colored silk with hat in harmonizing colors.

The maids all wore exquisite corsage bouquets of pink roses showered with pink and white sweet peas.

COURT BALL AT THE OSCEOLA.

The King and Queen, his maids and courtiers danced last night at the Osceola club and the scene in the ballroom was a very beautiful one, for while the function was not as elaborate as the coronation ball of this evening, the pretty gowns seen in the ballroom, the charm of the music and the atmosphere of gaiety gave to the evening a distinction all its own, and the presence of visiting girls and army and navy officers, added pleasure to the evening.

The queen of the Carnival, Miss Gladys Pierce, wore a charming frock of white and blue striped tissue, a Frenchy model, the tunic bordered with pink roses in pastel shades and the waist prettily developed in lace with the pink roses in their delicate tones used on the front of the bodice with a touch of blue, and a girlish of soft blue mesaline in the same shade.

Miss McDaniels wore a dainty frock of pale pink crepe de chine, lace trimmed.

Miss Berry was in pale blue charmeuse with lace and crystal trimmings. Miss Abercrombie wore a lovely gown of yellow crepe de chine with trimmings of brown fur.

Miss Carter was in pink charmeuse draped in duchesse lace, the tunic caught with pink and blue French roses. The queen and her maids carried pink roses showered with pink sweet peas.

SUFFRAGE REST ROOM IS LARGELY PATRONIZED

The Rest Room of the Pensacola Suffrage association was visited by more than a hundred tired mothers and children yesterday who are invised again today to make it their headquarters and to tell their friends about it. There is no charge for its services.

The golden pennants of the suffrage league, voting the sentiment, "Votes For Women," made the room bright and attractive, and the comfortable chairs, the refreshing cup of tea, and the violets and yellow narcissi appealed to the weary body and the tired soul. The mothers, perhaps, appreciated it most of all, and stopped in with their little ones to rest from the excitement of the busy streets.

Misses Marguerite and Isabel Ingraham served tea, and the visitors were received by Mrs. J. B. Perkins, Mrs. Walker Ingraham and Mrs. A. C. Rellly.

There is no charge whatever for the comforts of the Rest Room. Call today and have a cup of tea. All are welcome, but, especially visitors from out of town.

VALENTINE PARTY PRETTY AFFAIR

The choir of the First Baptist church was prettily complimented Friday when Mrs. Mary Yates entertained with a valentine party, the rooms of her attractive home being prettily decorated in hearts and other valentine favors, and the courtesy proving one of the most delightful of the week.

HAVE RETURNED FROM HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rozear have returned from Nashville, Tenn., where they have been spending their honeymoon with relatives. Their wedding was a recent pretty event and their friends are welcoming them most cordially.

ENTERTAINS CARNIVAL GUESTS

Miss Elmira Richards is entertaining Miss Clara Maddox of Birmingham and Miss Louise Milligan of Augusta, Ga.

BURNS-AMOS WEDDING YESTERDAY AT NOON

Miss Jessie Amos and Mr. P. S. Burns were quietly married yesterday at noon at St. Michael's church, Rev. Father Pullerton performing the ceremony. The wedding was attended only a few friends and the family being present.

The groom is construction engineer on the new hospital, and he and his lovely young bride are today receiving the good wishes of many friends.

IN HONOR OF MISSES HILL, MANNING AND LATHAM

With the arrival yesterday afternoon of Miss Lamar Latham of Washington to be the Carnival guest of Miss Edna Manning, the trio of pretty girls who were classmates at Notre Dame, Miss Manning, Miss Latham and Miss Amelie Hill of Montgomery, was complete and last evening they afforded inspiration for a delightful party at the Battle House Dansante, notes the Mobile Register.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Quina were the generous hosts at this party, as a compliment to their popular debutante cousin, Miss Manning and her two school chums.

Covers were laid for thirty-two at a table which radiated with brightness with the lovely pink roses exhaling their fragrance in the center of the table, and the pretty girls and their escorts keeping the conversational ball rolling during the dinner, when not reveling in the mazes of the dance.

Those composing the party were: Miss Edna Manning and Mr. Hammond Gayfer; Miss Lamar Latham of Washington and Tom Strong; Miss Amelie Hill of Montgomery and Tony Goodbrad; Miss Mabel Hartwell and Frank Courtney; Miss Annie Moore Provost and Henry Hall, Jr.; Miss Kathleen McFadden of Memphis and George Lesane; Miss Edna Finch of Pensacola and Tom Soost; Miss May Leatherbury and W. W. Boyles; Miss Effie Soost and Aubrey Raines; Miss Marie Herman and Ernest Buck; Miss Perla Soost and W. L. Ross, Jr.; Miss Hilda Druhan and Jim Radcliff; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Albright; Mr. and Mrs. Quina.

Stags: Howard Schram, Bob Ellis, Lloyd Cowley and Mr. Joseph I. Manning.

OPEN HOUSE AT OSCEOLA

As is customary each year, the Osceola club kept open house yesterday and the day was one of much gaiety. The Queen's luncheon in the morning was followed by tea on the San Carlos at which the queen and court were entertained and the ball at the Osceola in the evening closed the day's festivities.

JUDGE SHEPPARD IS HOME FROM SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.

Judge W. E. Sheppard of the United States court, accompanied by his secretary, Mr. Earl Hoffman, returned home Sunday afternoon from San Antonio, Texas. Judge Sheppard has been in Texas for the past several weeks holding a session of the federal court.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. Thomas A. Yon, of Tallahassee, Fla., is in the city for a few days on business.

Colds and Croup in Children.

Many people rely upon Chamberlain's Cough Remedy implicitly in cases of colds and croup, and it never disappoints them. Mrs. E. H. Thomas, Logansport, Ind., writes: "I have found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best medicine for colds and croup I have ever used, and never tire of recommending it to my neighbors and friends. I have always given it to my children when suffering from croup, and it has never failed to give them prompt relief." For sale by all dealers. (Adv.)

RUSSIA WON'T PILOT COTTON LADEN SHIPS

Washington, Feb. 15.—Russia will not give pilotage for cotton ships through the mine fields at Libau, Revel or Riga, according to a cablegram from American Ambassador Marye. The only practical route for American cotton shipments to Russia, the Ambassador reported, appears to be either via Vladivostok or Norwegian ports and thence overland.

STOP THAT COUGH—NOW.

When you catch Cold, or begin to Cough, the first thing to do is to take Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It penetrates the linings of the Throat and Lungs and fights the Germs of the Disease, giving quick relief and natural healing. "Our whole family depend on Pine-Tar-Honey for Coughs and Colds," writes Mr. E. Williams, Hamilton, Ohio. It always helps. 25c. at your Druggist. (Adv.)

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us at the death of our beloved wife and mother. Also for the beautiful floral designs.

lowed the welcome. The procession then moved to Government, thence to Palafox and then northward, passing the San Carlos, upon the balcony of which sat the queen and her maids. The formalities of recognition being observed, the parade moved over the

How to stop dandruff and loss of hair with Resinol

Here is a simple, inexpensive treatment that will almost always stop dandruff and scalp itching, and keep the hair thick, live and lustrous: At night, spread the hair apart and rub a little Resinol Ointment into the scalp gently, with the tip of the finger. Repeat this until the whole scalp has been treated. Next morning, shampoo thoroughly with Resinol Soap and hot water. Work the creamy Resinol lather well into the scalp. Rinse with gradually cooler water, the last water being cold. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment easily heal eczema and similar skin-eruptions. Sold by all druggists. For sample free, write to Dept. 27, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

Take a Voyage in History With Larned!

BEGIN AT THE BEGINNING OF HIS WONDERFUL

HISTORY of the WORLD

NOW OFFERED BY

THE PENSACOLA JOURNAL

Embark with Larned on the stream of Time. The Dawn of History Has Scarcely Begun When You Start! The world is one vast hunting-ground. Primeval man, naked and unshamed, lives but for one thing—to feed. For untold thousands of years he has existed on roots and herbs—but at last he has tasted flesh. Thenceforth through forest and plain he goes—climbing steep mountains, swimming tumultuous rivers—pursuing the vanishing game to its lairs—to its caves—or to its habitations amidst the lush and friendly grass. At last fire becomes a necessity. He invents it—and ascends the first great step above his brother, the Brute!

his flocks and herds; follows the pasturage and the herbage and the new grass. Then first comes leisure from the fierce fatigues and dangers of the chase. Man begins to observe—to reflect—to study—to use his brain. Nature becomes his teacher as well as his deity. He watches her in her ceaseless reproduction of vegetation. He discovers that grains have seeds. He experiments; he plants—and lo! a harvest springs up to bless and reward his toil.

by war and by traffic—cause and effect—effect and cause again.

And Now the Red Streaking of the Dawn Brightens Along the Sky Line! One dazzling ray scintillates above the horizon; another and yet another. Behold, the sun is risen—and History has begun!

In the general introduction to his great World-History, Larned takes you back to pre-historic peoples. In less than twenty pages, with his consummate power of condensing; of focusing; with his positive genius for generalization, Larned gleans the volumes of the scientist, the ethnologist, the philologist for a century past, and places before his reader all that is needful for him to know of mankind up to the dawn of History. This wonderful introduction is alone worth volumes of ordinary history. It is as fascinating as it is instructive—and the reader having once embarked on the voyage with Larned, cannot lay the volumes aside till he has reached his own times—his own people—and his own world as it is in this new 20th century—most marvelous of all that have gone before!

The Dawn Begins to Gray Imperceptibly! Man discovers that indiscriminate slaughter is waste. He has subdued all the animals of forest and plain—and now begins to tame those that will yield him milk, that will labor in captivity, that will breed and yield him flesh and fleece and skin. His appetites are insatiable. Unlike the animals—want in man begets want—desire produces new desire—always a little different; a little better; a little higher. He follows the changing seasons with

The Pallor of the Gray Dawn Trembles With a Blush! For the first time in the migratory soons of his existence he stops—he feeds his flocks—he plants—he builds a hut with roof and walls—and mankind has a Home! Comes increased leisure for study—for thought—for observation. His brain takes on new convolutions—the old ones deepen. For protection—for companionship—for exchange of speech—of ideas—man becomes gregarious. He and his kind dwell together; they become a tribe; they found a community—a town. But still fresh wants arise—new desires spring up. They cannot longer be gratified by mere conquest of Nature. A new era begins—man's two-fold conquest of man—

Fiery Blood Disorders Checked

The Sources of Disease are Cleaned and Blood Purified

Those who have used S. S. S. marvel at the way it checks blood diseases. See a man today with his skin all broken out; see him again in a week or two after using S. S. S. and he is a wonder to behold, all cleared up, skin healthy, eyes bright, a big smile replaces the frown. What is S. S. S. that can accomplish such wonderful results? First of all it is a natural medicine. Like milk, eggs and other foods that can not be imitated, S. S. S. bears it to Nature for its power to overcome disease just as food prevents emaciation. S. S. S. is not a combination of prescription drugs. It is a preparation direct from medicinal plants that retain all the virile potency of what we need, what we must have in the blood to counteract those destructive tendencies that assail us throughout life. If it were not for our natural secretions to sustain us, aided by such known helps as S. S. S. there would be small chance of any of us surviving childhood.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today from any druggist but be careful to avoid the substitutes peddled off on the unwary. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 58 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and for private medical advice, write briefly, your symptoms to their medical department. They will take excellent care of you.

rest of the announced route, and returned to the San Carlos where Priscus left the throne and retired until 5 o'clock tonight, when, at the armory hall, his identity will be revealed.

AN INTERESTING SIGHT

Following the entry of the king into the hotel, the troops and marines and bluejackets were marched to points westward on Garden street, the artillery men occupying the grass plot at the Spring street intersection, the marines next to them, and the bluejackets the grass plot in the center of Garden street, between Palafox and Baylen streets. At these stations arms were stacked, and the enlisted men of the army and navy were provided with refreshments in the building just across the street from the San Carlos.

The guns were stacked up just as on the drill grounds, while sentries paced to an afro, guarding them. This proved just as interesting a sight to hundreds of people as could have been evolved from the entire day's events.

MILTON'S REPRESENTATION

"Milton's all right," was the comment of many as the fine new and bright appearing auto fire truck, on which sat the dozen or so Santa Rosa boys, passed in review. "The home of the peccan," was an announcement placarded plainly over the fire truck. The boys who sat proudly on the vehicle looked just as happy as they could be, and when they were cheered, the "chauffeur" replied happily by sounding the truck's wild-cat horn.

THE VET. FIREMAN.

Another of the many interesting features in line was the red-shirted veteran firemen, who, headed by Frank Carroll, mounted, they traveled over the entire route, at the head of the old Washington Hose Company's truck which had been gaily decorated for the auspicious occasion. There were a

ITALIAN BARK AT QUARANTINE

THE MARIA, SIXTY-FOUR DAYS OUT FROM GENOA, WAS TOWED UP LATE SUNDAY NIGHT—THREE SAILING SHIPS ENTER.

With the arrival of the Italian bark Maria, sixty-four days out from Genoa, some little anxiety which had been manifested over the long stay of the vessel named was appeased. The skipper, Captain Albina, reported that some bad weather was encountered, but otherwise things over the entire length of the voyage went satisfactorily. Showing up off the bar the bark was taken in tow and brought up to the shipping area. After being boarded by the port physician, however, the vessel was ordered to quarantine, but it was expected pratique will be given at an early hour today and the Maria come over to the city.

With the Maria's arrival, it makes three sailing ships for the past couple of days, and more are expected. Old baymen anticipate a repetition shortly of times years ago, which they like to talk about, when the harbor was dotted with vessels of this type, and when work was lively and good workmen at a decided premium. Bark in Trouble. The Norwegian bark Collingwood, en route from Frederikstad for Pensacola, was lately reported putting into an English port for repairs having encountered very boisterous weather.

ECZEMA ALL OVER BABY'S HEAD

Would Scratch. Very Cross and Fretful. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Weeks Head Sound and Well.

Route No. 1, Box 18, Canton, N. C.—"My baby had eczema on his head awful bad. It commenced by breaking out in pimples and soon became a solid eruption all over the top of his head. He would scratch in spite of everything that could be done and was very cross and fretful. "I tried many other remedies but nothing seemed to help in the least. A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me and induced me to try them. I commenced washing the scalp with the Cuticura Soap and then rubbing on the Cuticura Ointment and in two weeks time his head was sound and well." (Signed) Mrs. Margaret Cordell, July 30, 1914. Delicate skins become irritated and severe eruptions develop. Then treatment after treatment is tried and found wanting until life becomes a nightmare of torture and discomfort, imposing a fearful handicap in the race for business or social advancement. Yet this physical and mental suffering might have been avoided by use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Sample Each Free by Mail With 32-p. Skin Book on request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Sold throughout the world.
