DAILY THOUGHT.

It was only a glad "good morning,"
As she passed along the way;
But it spread the morning's glory
Over the live-long day.

ENTERTAIN FOR MISS KOLKMEYER.
A pretty courtesy extended to Miss Ann B. Kolkmeier who has just returned to Pensacola after a stay in Chicago was that of last evening when Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Wasson informally entertained a few friends in her honor at their home in Fishersville. Games and music were enjoyed and a delicious menu course served. Guests who enjoyed this courtesy with Miss Kolkmeier were: Misses Madge A. Ryan, Lillian Nash, Matilde Altmeier of Chicago, and Messrs. John E. Mare, Frank Hollywood, S. K. Mare, S. Roman Aszman.

KIZER-GREEN MARRIAGE.
Mr. Morris Dean Kizer, of Des Moines, Iowa, and Miss Edith Lou Green, the attractive daughter of Mrs. A. Green of this city, were quietly united in marriage yesterday afternoon. Friends regret to learn that Mr. Kizer will take his bride to Des Moines to reside, leaving the first of this week.

ENTERTAIN IN HONOR OF MISS STOGGINS.
Miss Jesse Mae Stiggins of Panama City, Fla., who is visiting as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stiggins at their home 400 East Jackson street, was the honor guest Friday evening when they delightfully entertained about forty-two of her friends. The home was beautifully decorated with large yellow daisies, cut flowers and potted plants. Games of progressive hearts and peanuts were played and a delicious ice course served. Miss Stiggins after a delightful week's visit in the city expects to return to Panama City Tuesday morning.

SABADIE-WILCOX MARRIAGE TO BE CELEBRATED AT Y. W. C. A. TODAY.
A pretty romance involving principals from the old countries, will find its culmination today at high noon, when Miss Frances Marie Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilcox, of Florida, Ala., and a most winsome young girl of Scotch-Irish descent, becomes the bride of Mr. Joaquin Sabadie, a native of San Sebastian, Spain. Judge Henry Bellinger will perform the impressive ceremony in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A. home, on East Belmont street.
Another interesting incident in connection with this marriage is that it is the first to ever be celebrated in the Pensacola Y. W. C. A. home, and the Y. W. C. A. home mother, Miss Margaret Ray, and the girls have exerted every effort.

The parlor has been beautifully decorated with southern smilax, cut flowers and ferns in honor of the occasion and after the ceremony the bride and groom will be honored guests at a beautifully appointed luncheon served in the Y. W. C. A. dining room, which has also been lavishly decorated with ferns and flowers. There will be no attendants. The bride will wear a smart French tailored model of gray with accessories to match, a corsage bouquet of sweet peas and nasturtiums completing her costumes.

Ray and son, Newton, and Miss Minnie Rosenblum. Mr. Sabadie is of French and Spanish Basque descent and was educated at San Sebastian, Spain. He took the four years course in a French college in the French colony of that city. He is a brilliant and accomplished young musician and has studied under Don Bonifacio Echezerra, the noted violinist. He played with a symphony orchestra at the Grand Casino at San Sebastian for five seasons. From there he went to Paris, coming to the United States from Paris with a French opera. He played a season in New Orleans and has also played in Memphis, Mobile and other southern cities, also in Grand Opera in Atlanta. He has made his home in Pensacola since last May. Miss Wilcox arrived in Pensacola only a few months ago, making her home at the Y. W. C. A. Mr. and Mrs. Sabadie will for the present make their home in the city. During their stay here they have both won many friends who are showering them with congratulations and good wishes.

EWSHOT CAMP.

By Boyce Bowden.

At Ewshot Camp, in Hampshire, the birds are great and wide and they billow on like fairy seas toward the Surrey side,
And vision from the little hills may wander free and far,
At Ewshot Camp, in Hampshire, where the Maeriland are.
And there are hedges white with flowers and little jocund lanes,
Shrill with the tone of tender leaves and clean with summer rains,
And there are merry birds and bees and flowing, glowing skies,
Gay melodies to charm the ears and playthings for the eyes.

And yet, the English lands are fair and English flowers are sweet,
The threads of love from Maeriland are twined about our feet.
For all our hearts are in the South, however the course is set—
A man may kiss a winsome maid and count her stranger yet.
A man may walk through wonder-towns from London to Dundee,
Yet hold his town the fairer town, however small it be!
And he may take it as a creed and know it to be good,
This manly pride in things of home which makes for nationhood.
The pride which wells up from the heart and flows from hand to hand,
When Timaru meets Timaru in Ewshot or the Strand,
When half a score of simple words have snared the gipsy thought
And turned it southward to the Bluff or north to Devonport.

Mr. A. Gerstenzang, southern representative of the Great American Mills Company, of New York, which Mr. J. Kugelman, formerly of this city, is owner, will have samples of his complete line of hosiery and underwear on display at the San Carlos next week. The Great American Mills Company are direct shippers and represent some of the largest mills in this country. Mr. Gerstenzang will be glad to show his lines to any merchant on his arrival.

THE PILGRIM WAY.

But once I pass this way,
And then—no more
But once, and then the Silent Door
Swings on its hinges—
Opens—closes—
And no more
I pass this way,
So while I may,
With all my might,
I will essay.
Sweet comfort and delight
To all I meet upon the Pilgrim Way
For no man travels twice
The Great Highway
That climbs through Darkness up to light
Through light
Today.
