TO A DOG.

By John Jay Chapman.
 Past happiness dissolves. It fades away.
 Ghostlike, in that dim attic of the mind
 To which the dreams of childhood are consigned.
 Here, withered garlands hang in slow decay.
 And trophies glimmer in the dying ray
 Of stars that once with heavenly glory shined.
 But you, old friend, are you still left behind
 To tell the nearness of life's yesterday?
 Ah, boon companion of my vanished boy,
 For you he lives; in every sylvan walk
 He waits; and you expect him everywhere.
 How would you stir, what cries, what bounds of joy,
 If but his voice were heard in casual talk,
 If but his footsteps sounded on the stair!

DAILY THOUGHT.

It really is foolish to complain what the other man has brought about. Most people agree with Emerson's saying: "No man can be cheated out of an honorable career in life unless he cheats himself." Believe in yourself and your capabilities, and you will not be cheated.

WORTH MORE THAN ALL MONEY ON EARTH

Mrs. Raspberry Able to Do Housework First Time in Four Years — Gains Thirty-Five Pounds.

"I had rather see my wife well and happy like she is since taking Tanlac, than to have all the money in the world," declared Henry Raspberry, of 1812 Campbell street, Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Raspberry, who has recently been employed as a foreman by the Armour Packing Co., was formerly in the service of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad.

"Before my wife took Tanlac," continued Mr. Raspberry, "she had rheumatism in her limbs so bad she could not even dress herself. I would have to help her out of bed in the mornings and put her clothes on for her. Her stomach was in such a bad condition that she could hardly digest anything. The gas on her stomach would cause intense pains in her side and such awful spells of palpitation of the heart that she could hardly stand it. She was extremely nervous, her breath was short and very offensive, and she had fallen off in weight until she was hardly more than a frame.

"At the time she began taking Tanlac she only weighed eighty-seven pounds and had not been able to do any of her housework in four years. But she now weighs one hundred and twenty-two pounds—has actually gained thirty-five pounds—and is as healthy and active as she was thirty years ago. The rheumatic pains have all left her and she can do all her housework and look after the family without the least trouble. She can eat meats, pickle, all kinds of vegetables and anything else she wants and never have a sign of indigestion. She is not the least nervous any more, sleeps like a child every night and is as well as she ever was. I can't find words to express my thankfulness for what Tanlac has done for her. It is nothing short of wonderful."
 Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

LIST OF THE MEN BEING RE-EDUCATED IS A REVELATION

Washington, May 22.—A good many of the disabled soldiers now being vocationally reeducated by the federal board are taking courses of training somewhat out of the ordinary, and the list of those who are undergoing re-education April first reveals some interesting side-lights on the desires and ambitions of the young men of the country.

Two are studying air-brake operation; three are taking bee culture; nine have entered barber colleges. It would not be supposed that boiler-making was the sort of light work the disabled man would select but three students have elected that. Twenty-six are taking carpentry and two biology. Dentistry is fairly popular, there being 31 students in that, while two are studying "edge trimming," and 11 of them are studying embalming. Forestry has attracted 18, while two are taking special courses in geometry, jewelry and watch repairing have attracted 26, and 13 are embarking upon the uncertainty of journalism. Owing to impaired hearing on account of the tremendous din of artillery fire, 23 men are studying lip reading. One is taking massage and 26 have gone in for occupational welding. Three men are studying vocal music, two are studying violin and 14 various other instruments. Eleven are students of theology; five window trimming, and seven are preparing to be veterinary surgeons. Landscape gardening is being taken by nine; sign painting by 12, and pharmacy by 24.

Pensacola-Mobile Waterways Data Preliminary to Another Survey Being Gathered by Engineers

In accordance with a statement made to the Journal a short time ago by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, to the effect that an inland waterway connecting Pensacola with Mobile and providing a channel nine feet in depth by 100 feet wide, was an assured fact for this section, a letter from the district engineer's office, in Montgomery, received by the press and other interested in the city yesterday is seeking data looking to that end.

The letter, which comes from W. D. A. Anderson, colonel of engineers, contains information of great interest here. It follows:

"The river and harbor act, March 2, 1918, directs a preliminary survey as follows:
 "Pensacola bay, Florida, to Mobile bay, Ala., with a view to providing a channel waterway of greater dimensions than recommended by the chief of engineers in report published in house document No. 610, 63rd congress, 2nd session."

"The route being considered runs, approximately parallel to the gulf shore line, through Big Lagoon, Perdido bay, Portage creek, and Bon Secours river." The report, quoted above (intra-coastal waterway, St. George sound to Rio Grande) recommended a canal 5 feet by 65 feet. Consideration is now to be given to channels 7 feet by 75 feet and 9 feet by 100 feet. The latest estimates of cost (subject to increase on revision) are $613,355 for the 7 foot canal and $955,955 for the 9 foot canal.

"The most important question is whether prospective commerce will warrant the expenditure at the present time for construction of this canal. I should be glad to receive from you all the definite information that you can obtain as to the commercial use that would be made of such a canal, if constructed.
 "Of special value in considering the question would be definite engagements by responsible parties that they would establish a definitely described service if such channel should be provided. The proposed points of call and the character, draft, and capacity of boats should be stated, such as barge, tug, launch, steamer, etc.

"It is proposed to submit such information as an appendix to the report on this survey that is to be submitted in July of this year."
