FRIDAY WAS DAY OF WORK IN THE HOUSE

NUMEROUS MEASURES OF GENERAL INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE WERE UP AND MANY ACTED ON.

(BY JOHN C. TRICE.) Tallahassee, May 31.—The Friday afternoon session of the house was as full of work as the morning session, with the result that a large number of bills were passed, besides a large amount of other work being gotten out of the way.

The first bill taken up was a senate bill regulating the compensation of county solicitors, fixing the monthly stipend at $3.00 per day and a fee of $5.00 to felony and $3.00 in misdemeanor cases in counties of less than 90,000 population, where there is less than two circuit judges. It passed. Mr. Wicker called up senate bill 420, amendatory of Florida drainage district act. It provides for the levying and collecting of tolls on the drainage canals in the Everglades district. It passed.

Mr. Williams, of Polk, called up senate bill 763, providing a pension for A. J. Poland, of his county. The bill was said to be recommended by the pension board as a meritorious one, but could not be put on the rolls by them for lack of certain proof. It passed, 43 to 8.

Mr. Miller called up senate bill 25, authorizing corporations in this state to issue two classes of stock. It was amended by Mr. Epperson, of Levy county, so as to protect the holders of common stock, and then passed.

Mr. Roebucks good gasoline bill came back from the senate with several amendments, which he asked the house to concur in. The request was granted. This bill requires the inspection of gasoline and prescribe the manner of doing so.

The senate amendments to the house bill relative to the state fire insurance department were read and concurred in by the house.

House bill 191, came back from the senate with a substitute amendment striking out everything after the enacting clause and proposing an entirely new bill. The speaker asked whose bill it was, and on being told it was Mr. Wilder's bill, from the speaker's stand, "Mr. Wilder moves that the senate amendment be adopted. All those in favor of adopting the senate amendment will say I, those opposed will say no." Two members voted "I" and the "amendment" was declared "adopted." The bill relates to taking acknowledgements in foreign countries.

Mr. Lewis' marriage license law was returned from the senate with an iron clad amendment making it necessary for the contracting parties to have the written consent of both parents, sworn to before an officer, before the county judge may issue a license, if they, the contracting parties, be under 21 years of age. Mr. Lewis moved that the amendment be concurred in and the house agreed.

The senate bill authorizing the secretary of state to furnish certain law books without cost, to law department of the University of Florida, was taken up and passed.

Senator Oliver's concurrent resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee of one from the senate and one from the house to secure a donation of land on the proper location for a monument to mark the site of the old town of St. Joseph was passed. The committee is directed to make its report and recommendations to the legislature to meet in 1921.

The Singletary bill was returned to the house with a notice that the senate had refused to concur in the house substitute amendments. The house refused to recede from it amendment, and the matter was left there. The motion to refuse to recede included in it a request for the appointment of a conference committee on the part of the house, but the committee was not announced during the afternoon.

Senate bill 243, relative to the publication of certain school books for use in the public schools of Florida, was called up by Mr. Lewis. It was passed, 43 to 1.

reconsider the vote by which the house passed the general appropriation bill yesterday afternoon. The motion was not insisted upon, and upon the statement that the attorney general had decided that the bill as passed was all right from a constitutional point of view, the motion was laid on the table.

The appropriation bill for the hospital at Chattahoochee, the boys reformatory school at Marianna and the girls reformatory school at Ocala, carrying close onto one and a quarter million dollars, was called up by Mr. Bryan, of Osceola, and was under consideration when the house recessed until 9 o'clock tonight.

At the beginning of the house session in the morning, Mr. Epperson, of Levy county, offered a resolution providing for a memorial service to be held in the hall of the house of representatives for the purpose of commemorating the soldiers of the late war who gave up their lives in defense of their country. Mr. Lewis, of Jackson, moved that the hour named in the resolution, five o'clock, be made to read 3:30. This was agreed to and the resolution unanimously adopted.

Mr. McLeran, of Suwannee county, got the house to adopt a concurrent resolution offered by himself, permitting the secretary of state to use $200 for hiring some one to assist him in preparing the session laws for the printer and reading proof on same.

Mr. Surrency, of Nassau county, called up a house bill, introduced by himself for the relief of W. H. Garland, of this county. After it was discovered that the bill was for back pension money other than that allowed by the board of pensions, the bill was indefinitely postponed by a vote of 27 to 21.
