PROPERTY OF THE STATE.
 In spite of every effort on the part of the Federation of Labor, the government at Washington and the secret service throughout the country, members of the I. W. W. and the so-called soviet, still continue to threaten this country with their plots and counter plots.

It is not remarkable that the men and the women who have sought refuge in this country for reasons at variance with the real principles of democracy should seek to corrupt our government or to overthrow law and order. But it is strange to all right-thinking people that the men and women born under the Stars and Stripes, having imbibed from American ancestry the creed of freedom, should mistake anarchy for liberty, and should so far forget the principles of American independence as to TALK BOL-SHEVISM.

Thoughts are things; words are weapons. Talk Bolshevism and you are guilty of anarchy. Throughout the country people have been shocked at the reports from Russia that women have become the property of the state. But what do they expect of a country without a government, when license is law and brute strength wears a crown?

The following is a verbatim translation of laws which men who have returned from Russia have brought back with them; the testimony is too authoritative to be disputed. These laws are what we are to expect in the United States, should the so-called soviet government raise its banners here.

"All women between the ages of 16 and 35, whether married or single, are to become the property of the state, immediately.

"Each woman will receive 250 roubles per month for her services and will be available for four hours out of each 24.

"No man will be permitted to remain with a woman longer than two hours.

"In cases of prospective childbirth, women will be released from service three months before confinement and for one month after. At the age of three months the child will be turned over to a home provided by the state in which it will be cared for by experienced nurses and reared as the state desires.

"Married women who are within the age limit will not be exempt from service and their husbands will be permitted to visit them once a week."

There are many other provisions of which I cannot write, and which the Russian officer refused to interpret.

And America is permitting these beasts to educate our people into the acceptance of Russian Bolshevism in place of our own free government. To hell with those who would foul our language with such monstrosities! Down with them and all their ilk! End parlor socialism and all who practice it. It is time that our people awake to the results that are sure to follow the befooling of our fair land by this serpent of Bolshevism.

WAR COMPENSATION ACT.
 The United States government, in connection with discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, has just instituted an important step towards solving the problem of the returned soldiers and sailors.

The able-bodied man returning from the front will soon find his niche in the world, but the man who returns without that same high health with which he enlisted, without that same keen zest for living, due to physical disability induced by the war, will find it far from an easy matter to fit himself again to civil life.

All persons discharged from the military or naval forces who have been incapacitated by the war may make application for compensation under the war risk bureau act.

"All persons discharged from the military or naval forces residing in and about Pensacola can now receive medical attention and medical examination for the filing of applications for compensation. The United States public health service, the medical advisors to the bureau of war risk insurance, has established offices in Pensacola, and Dr. Mallory Kennedy, whose address is 311 Blount building, is the local government examiner. All persons desiring to obtain insurance or filing application for compensation under the bureau of war risk act, must furnish a medical certificate of their present physical condition. These persons, by applying to Dr. Kennedy, may be examined and all necessary papers filled out free of charge. Such persons will also receive at the expense of the government, medical relief, or be sent to a government hospital or institution, should this be necessary.

"The headquarters for the 5th district, which comprises the states of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Tennessee, have been established in Atlanta. Persons desiring further information should write to Dr. J. A. Watkins, 5th floor, Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Atlanta, Ga."

BOSTON VS HOME CONTRACTORS.

Sir: I note in your paper of the 21st inst. an article in the new dry dock, stating that the Boston contractors were placing a time limit on acceptance of bid intimating that they would have to raise same.

I realize the article may have been intended to stimulate the sale of stock but wish to point out that there are men right here in Pensacola, able and competent in all ways to bid on and construct this dock, and who could probably build it several thousand dollars cheaper than the Boston outfit, not having to figure against that corporation's heavy overhead.

It might be of some advantage to Pensacola to keep that profit at home. I should appreciate the opportunity very much to bid on the construction of this dock. At any rate, there is no justification in the material market conditions to warrant a raise in bids at this time, as materials used are either stationary or slowly declining.

Very sincerely,
 C. A. MORINE.

WEST FLORIDA ON WAR PATH.

The federal railroad administration will spend $135,000 to advertise Florida, according to announcement made at an important meeting of representatives of the state chamber of commerce and other civic bodies held in Jacksonville recently.

This was no doubt meant for the whole state, but we note with a considerable surprise that West Florida cities were only represented by one and that in person by Mayor McCord, of the capital city.

This may be from lack of interest of our section, but the chamber of commerce of this city is very indignant over the fact that no notice of this important meeting was given to this organization nor was an invitation extended to be present.

The chamber of commerce will hold a special session this week to discuss the matter, and much interesting facts will be presented showing that there is a concerted effort somewhere to promote one section of the state to the detriment of the other. We are loath to raise this question and it is very much regretted that this spirit of sectionalism should continue to crop out and that all the good things coming to Florida should be continuously hogged by our more hustling neighbors.

In the matter of this federal appropriation, however, we expect to demand that our just proportion be allotted to us, just as much as our allotments were made in the five Liberty Loans. We recall with pride the fact that this western part of the state had subscribed her quota long before the balance of the state in that respect, and the balance will certainly be given due publicity to the powers that be in Washington.

We are entitled to fair consideration and fair treatment and we most assuredly expect to get it. South and East Florida have accused West Florida of being unprogressive and of holding back the balance of the state, but just such tactics as those shown in the above mentioned meeting, continue to breed that of which we are accused.

West Florida must wake up to her immense possibilities and they will have to be developed. Every county should maintain a chamber of commerce, some active and progressive organization that will take advantage of all opportunities to promote the entire section in which they live and do business. Publicity is a profession and one that brings greater results than any other line of endeavor that man may undertake. The world wants to be shown where to go and live and it behooves West Florida to get busy and tell it to them. Take, for instance, the question of good permanent roads; north of us are two of the richest states in the south. Those people all have automobiles and money to spend. They want to travel; they can go to our state lines and then what? Why the famous sand beds from there lift the first of July or some other terrible condition.

LUMBERMEN DONATE $25,000 FOR BOY'S INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Through the activity of J. Ray Arnold, owner of the Edge-Dowling Lumber Co. of Groveland, Florida, $25,000 has been contributed by the lumbermen of Florida and other states for a "Lumbermen's Boys' Dormitory" for the Montverde Industrial school in Lake county, twenty-four miles west of Orlando, on Lake Apopka, Florida's second-largest lake. The handsome building will be immediately erected opposite the Odell Hall for Girls, where Florida editors were entertained last week.

Additional campus and farm lands, totaling 160 acres of the greatest varieties of soil, including the richest muck land of Florida, have been acquired by purchase and by gifts from citizens who desire to benefit this, the only white industrial school in Florida, which extends a helping hand to worthy boys and girls of limited means who seek a higher plane of life and usefulness. It was founded only seven years ago, and has been unable at any time to build fast enough to take care of the students making application for admission. The $25,000 dormitory will help to solve that problem.

A campaign for $25,000 additional for general purposes has practically reached a successful conclusion. A promised industrial building delayed by war, will, it is hoped, soon materialize.

F. C. Grable, of Huntington, West Virginia, today gave $1,000 cash to beautify the campus and complete Grable Circle.

Two entire private libraries and cabinets were contributed recently by Orlando ladies Miss Flora E. Brown and Mrs. Inez F. Bellows.

A silo and dairy barn are to be added immediately to the farm, on which are two large flowing wells.

A neighboring farmer last year cleared $72,000 on vegetables, besides fall crops and fruits, proving the productivity of our lands.

Twice have the boys of the Montverde Industrial school won the state record for the largest corn yield per acre, 105 and 118 bushels respectively. Unfortunately, the latter was not properly reported.

STATUS WAR TIME PROHIBITION IS VERY UNCERTAIN

Washington, June 27.—Despite multitude of rumors and reports as to what President Wilson intends to do on annulling war time prohibition so far as it affects wines and beer after July 1, apparently there is no one in Washington who knows the president's mind and there is no agreement among train administration officials as to the likelihood of his action.

Those who hold that the president will take an action declare he is without power to do so until the final termination of the state of war.

Prohibition is made effective by the law "until the termination of the war and thereafter until the president shall have declared demobilization completed" and therefore, the administration's legal advisers hold that prohibition cannot be annulled without congressional action until the treaty of peace has been ratified.

Some officials and members of congress contend, however, that by "termination of the war," congress meant the ending of hostilities and that the president has full power to end war time prohibition after July 1, by declaring demobilization completed.

Although enforcement legislation cannot be passed by congress and approved by the president before war time prohibition becomes effective the department of justice will undertake to enforce the prohibition law.

OVER $65,000 IS FOUND IN BACK YARD TREASURY EMPLOYEE

Washington, June 27.—Secret service agents of the treasury department are said to have struck a veritable gold mine here in prospecting in the back yard of Charles H. Turnbull, a trusted employe in the mace rating room of the treasury department and unearthed more than $65,000 in redeemable treasury notes buried in tin cans and other receptacles. Thousands of dollars in partly mutilated notes also were reported by the agents to have been discovered hidden in the walls, under carpets, and in every conceivable manner, waiting to be rendered negotiable again by a process of piecing together.

Turnbull was charged with embezzlement of the notes in an indictment returned by the grand jury.
