IRISH SOLDIERS ARE ILL-TREATED IN OWN COUNTRY

Dublin, July 15.—The returned Irish soldiers are organizing themselves and asserting their right to be heard. In Cork it was proposed by the local municipal music committee to appoint as professor of traditional Irish music a German musician. There was no personal objection to the professor except that he was a German, but the soldiers would not have it. Four hundred of them turned out in a body and prevented the appointment. The secretary defending their conduct in the press writes:

"We are faced with a grave trouble in the people who yesterday were badly misled by hopes of German victories and who have now taken a definite stand against us. Without friends on any side and left to our own resources we find that in our own country we are unwanted and insulted. Only recently a member of the Cork board of guardians proposed that no demobilized soldier or sailor get employment from that board. The Gaelic players have seen fit to ban us from their games. These and many similar incidents are not likely to improve our temper. To understand the feelings of our men these people should have a heart to heart talk with some of their countrymen who spent three or four years in German prison camps. This is not a time to set Irishmen flying at each others throats over a job for a German professor."

OPERA CHORUS STRIKES AND LEADER QUILTS
Berlin—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The principals, chorus and stage hands of the German opera house at Charlottenburg, after a five days strike, have forced the retirement of Otto Neumann Hofer, its director-general with whom the employees had been in conflict for several years. The forces of the opera house numbering five hundred, went on strike without warning. Socialist members of the Charlottenburg town council espoused the cause of the strikers and demanded that the board of directors remove Herr Hofer. Realizing the futility of further resistance, he resigned. It was charged that he consistently opposed all social reforms in favor of the employees and was unyielding in his discipline. The incident was one of the most sensational episodes in the history of German grand opera and the occurrence would have been impossible under the old political dispensation. New York, July 14.—The steamship Housatonic arrived here today from Bordeaux with 1,399 troops, mostly consuls.
