THE OLD GARDEN.
Shy buds unfolded hidden sweets
Along each box-bound way
Where reckless, spendthrift thrushes flung
Their golden notes away;
While, warily, from tree to tree
The gossip breezes crept,
Till, drunk with pungent fragrances,
Beneath a bough they slept.

Where fleet the truant sunbeams chased
About the fountain's ring,
The old stone faun smiled drowsily,
We knew—we spied on him!—
And when strange footfalls, light and clear,
Came dancing through the grass
To read-blown melody—'twas Pan—
We saw his shadow pass.

I wonder if love wakens there,
As bravely as of old,
If in the peached ally still
The same sweet tales are told—
And if, within an unknown land,
Another heart may stir,
To quick remembrance at the breath
Of sun-warmed lavender?

Sure Way to Regain Robust Bloom of Youth

A smooth, velvety-soft skin, with a delicate peach-like bloom, is one of the Creator's most exquisite works. When the first blush of youth is over, this beautiful tint and satiny lustre are rarely seen. How to restore them—that's the question. Famous beauty experts abroad long have known that ordinary mercurized wax works wonders in this direction. It actually gives a new surface to the skin, restoring that marvelous girlish color and softness in a remarkable manner. An ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will convert a faded, worn-out, discolored, freckled or pimply complexion into one of captivating loveliness in less than two weeks.

No special skill is necessary in applying mercurized wax. It being smeared on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.—Adv.

RODGERS-SLITER.

Pink and white was the color motif chosen for the pretty wedding of Miss Agnes C. Sliter whose marriage to Mr. Frank Hudson Rodgers was solemnized last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Smith in Fisheryville. Reverend Father Fullerton performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

Before the entrance of the bridal party Mrs. Sylvester Greenwood of Texarkana, Texas, softly sang, "O Promise Me." Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mrs. E. R. Cunningham. Quantities of great pink and white chrysanthemums with feathery ferns banked the living room where the nuptial vows were taken and were effectively used in the dining room where a buffet supper was served.

The bride was unusually attractive in a chic fall travelling suit of navy blue Silvertone with hat and boots to match. She carried a large shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Her attendants were Misses Ailsie Russell and her sister, Miss Josephine Smith who carried arm bouquets of pink chrysanthemums. Mr. W. A. Marshall was best man and Mr. Arthur Johnson served as groomsmen.

After the reception as congratulations and best wishes were showered on the bride and groom Mrs. Greenwood sang, "The End of a Perfect Day," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Cunningham.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers left last night for Kingstree, S. C., where they will make their home on the old Rodgers plantation.

EASIER NOW THAN WATER

It is easier to break up a cold or check a cough now than it will be later. Persistent bronchial coughs that "hang on" all winter pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. L. W. Day, 65 Campbell Av., E., Detroit, Mich., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieves one of bronchitis very quickly. I hope never to have it again." This reliable old family medicine for the relief of coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, etc., contains no opiates. Children like it. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

MARRIAGE OF MISS VERA GREEN TO LOUIS DUNCAN.

The First Baptist church was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings in its history last evening when Miss Vera Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Green plighted her troth to Mr. Louis Duncan of Muscogee, Oklahoma. Reverend J. A. Ansley officiating.

Great banks of deep red Richmond roses against palms, ferns and festoons of Southern smilax in graceful designs, filled the church with their fragrance. Palms and roses covered the altar where the nuptial vows were taken and burning tapers shed their soft radiance over the bridal party.

A host of relatives and friends filled the church. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. J. Wallace Lamar played a violin solo, "Salut d'Amour" by Elgar. Mrs. Willie Leonard sweetly sang, "O, Promise Me." The bridal party entered at the appointed hour to the strains of Longhorns' wedding march played by Miss Charlie Belle Laney. The bride, who entered with her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin, charmingly becomingly draped for her slender, youthful figure. The long, flowing sleeves were of tulle and an elaborate design in crystal beads adorned the bodice. A long court train of heavy satin hanging from the shoulders lent dignity and grace to her costume. She was enveloped in the filmy folds of a long, tulle veil, trimmed with point lace and arranged cap effect, most becoming to her sweet, girlish face. Her veil was caught with graceful sprays of orange blossoms and she wore white satin slippers with crystal bead design. She carried a great shower bouquet of brides roses.

Miss Edna Finch, her maid-of-honor, was charming in a girlish gown of white georgette crepe, elaborately beaded in pearls. Miss Genevieve Carter who served as bridesmaid, wore a handsome dress of white satin with pleated ruffles of silk net edged with silver. Mrs. J. E. Davis Yonge and Mrs. Terrell Covington of Greenville, S. C., sisters of the bride, were matrons-of-honor. Mrs. Yonge wore an exquisite white lace dress over white georgette crepe, with draped skirt. Mrs. Covington's gown was a lovely model fashioned of white georgette, prettily draped with designs of pearl beads.

ROYALTY TO VISIT IN PENSACOLA FRIDAY NIGHT.

Pensacola society is quite a-flutter with the anticipated visit of royalty in he city tomorrow night. It is reported that Queen Victoria with her ladies in waiting and complete royal retinue will be here, accompanied by Empress Eugenia of France and her attendants.

These historical characters who have been resurrected are bringing all their accoutrements of royalty with them. Queen Victoria's visit is said to bring a bit of Fairyland with it, so magnificent and brilliant are the costumes worn by the ladies and their attendants. They will be dressed in the period of their time, the picturesqueness of which they have not designed to discard in preference for the styles of today.

A glittering mass of jewels and an array of dazzling and rich costumes worn by the ladies will have a background of the flags of England and France with the popular music of those nations played.

Representative of two of our great allies in the world war, these two notables will be received in Pensacola with enthusiasm, no doubt.

They will be at the high school auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock. Those desiring to take part in welcoming them may obtain special tickets at Balkom's drug store or from any member of the building committee for the old people's home.

The old ladies of the Woman's Home are planning enthusiastically for the success of the evening. This is a chance for them to help toward the building fund of their new home which they are so eager for, and it is hoped that Pensacolians will not disappoint them. They are being assisted by their matron, Mrs. Howard, and by Mrs. A. O. DeWeese, chairman of the building committee. Will you go?

Too Ill to Work
Scores of Women

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example
Joplin, Missouri.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it really would do as it was advertised and it sure did, and more. I was weak and could not do much work, had bearing down pains and had to go to bed. I learned about the Vegetable Compound from my mother and my husband told me to get it. After taking one bottle I was able to be on my feet most of the time and do my work again. I have a baby eleven months old and I have done all my own work, even the washing and ironing since she was three weeks old. I certainly recommend your great medicine to everyone who complains of female trouble and I am more than willing for you to use my testimonial."
—Mrs. TIMOTHY GRANEY, 426 Connor Ave., Joplin, Mo.

And Another
Chicago, Illinois.—"I suffered for four years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to use this letter."
—Mrs. I. OVENSTEIN, 902 S. Marshfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill.
