PENSACOLIANS ATTEND ROBERTS-WIENAND WEDDING.

Mr. Walter Roberts has returned to the city from Mobile, where he went to attend the wedding of his brother, Captain E. J. Roberts. Of the marriage the Mobile Register says:
Dr. W. T. Tolliver Thompson, the new pastor of the Government Street Presbyterian church, performed his first marriage service since coming to Mobile when he tied the love knot making Miss Mildred Wienand, one of the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wienand, the wife of Captain E. J. Roberts, the wedding taking place at the home of the bride Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock.

The bride and groom's families including the out-of-town guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Nelson, of Chicago; Mr. Walter Roberts, of Pensacola, brother of the groom, and his sister, Mrs. Celesia Minnich of Fairhope; Mrs. Roberts, mother of the groom, also from Fairhope, and her daughter, Camilla Roberts, were those present at the ceremony, following which an informal wedding reception was held. The wedding was sweet in its simplicity and impressiveness, the house being decorated in a color tone of green and white with flowers and palms, making it a fitting bridal bower for the plighting of the troth. The wedding march was played by the bride's sisters, her twin, Luella Wienand, furnishing the violin accompaniment to the piano, played by Miss Lois Wienand.

Wearing a navy blue velour suit with hat to match, which was most becoming to her fair blonde coloring, Miss Wienand made a lovely bride, her shoes and gloves being in the brown shade and her wedding bouquet was fashioned of bride's roses.

Congratulations were offered the happy couple after their marriage and refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served the guests, the bride's cake being heart shaped and prettily decorated.

Captain Roberts and his bride left last night for New Orleans to spend a two weeks' honeymoon over there and upon their return will make their home at Fairhope, where a furnished home awaits them, and also an automobile, which was the groom's gift to his bride.

Captain Roberts, who for a number of years has been captain of the bay steamer Apollo, enjoys the company of many friends, and is sharing with his young wife the best wishes of these friends, who expressed their congratulations in some handsome wedding presents, nearly everything being in silver, which will add beauty to the comfortable furnishings of their east-shore home.

FACE DISFIGURED FOR TWO YEARS

Scaly Itchy Places Turned to Blisters. Cuticura Heals.

"Scaly, itchy places began on my face and then they turned to blisters. My skin was sore and red, and it burned and itched till I scratched so that my face was one solid eruption. I could not sleep, and my face was disfigured for two years. This trouble lasted nearly five years.

"I got a free sample of Cuticura. I used it with such good results that I purchased more. Three cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment healed." (Signed) Edward Oler, R. F. D. 4, Oldfort, Tenn., Mar. 11, 1919.

OLD LADIES OF WOMAN'S HOME DELIGHT LARGE AUDIENCE WITH UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT.

One of the loveliest and most unique entertainments given in the city in some time was that played by the old ladies of the Woman's Home in the high school auditorium last night to a large and appreciative audience. The nature of the entertainment, which consisted of tableaux scenes with a few other members to lend variety, came as complete surprise. The old ladies enthusiastically carried out their parts and the audience entered into the spirit with vim and enthusiasm.

A substantial sum was realized which will add materially to the building fund for the new old people's home.

Mrs. M. E. Batts made a short address in which she spoke of the great need for the new home. She expressed the appreciation felt for the efforts of the old ladies of the home, who have been so anxious to do a part and who have so eagerly embraced this opportunity to assist in raising the building fund for the home, and expressed thanks to all of those who have so ably supported the entertainment. Following her address, the hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," was sung by the old ladies in chorus.

The curtain first opened on a tableau scene showing Queen Victoria with her ladies in waiting and pages. The background for this scene was a rich and gorgeous one. Queen Victoria sat in stately grace upon a richly carved throne. Appropriate to her Highness' advanced years, she wore an elegant gown of black satin with white lace overskirt. Her black satin slippers were bejeweled and brilliant gems covered her fingers. Her royal head was crowned with a diamond tiara. A diamond necklace was clasped about her throat and a great diamond brooch adorned her bodice. Her ladies-in-waiting wore rich gowns of pink and white satin with heavy embroidery and scintillated with brilliant jewels. Her pages were dressed in handsome suits bearing the royal coat-of-arms. During this tableau, "God Save the Queen" was played by the orchestra.

Between this and the next tableau a reading, "The Broken Heart," was given by Mrs. J. H. Peshon.

The next scene showed Empress Eugenie of France surrounded by some of her ladies. The empress, in a handsome gown of white silk lace over pink satin resplendent with jewels and with her coiffure done high, made a lovely picture against the rich background. She sat in a graceful attitude of attention on her throne as the stirring strains of the "Marsailles" came from the orchestra.

A humorous reading, "How to Cure the Toothache," was given by Mrs. M. W. White.

As the first strains of the "Star Spangled Banner" were struck by the orchestra, the curtain went up showing Betsy Ross earnestly engaged in the making of the first United States flag. She wore the homespun dress made in the becoming style of that period, and dainty white fichu and cap. Unfurling and falling from her lap were the stripes and stars of the flag which she had almost completed. After the rousing cheers greeting this picture, "The Shiverie" was given by Mrs. Johnnie Campbell.

"Martha Washington's Tea Table" was next shown. Grouped around a table, prettily appointed for the serving of tea were several ladies wearing the picturesque costumes of the days of '76. As the tea was poured and drunk and they sat engaged in conversation, the orchestra played "Hail, Columbia, Happy Land."

Following this scene was a recitation, "Bid Me Not, Dear Mother," by Mrs. J. H. Peshon. A tableaux, "Mother of the Confederacy," against a background of Confederate flags and insignias, elicited hearty applause. The mother of the Confederacy, dressed in gray with a dainty white cap, was busily knitting. "Dixie" was played by the orchestra.

"Rock of Ages" was shown when the curtain rose again, almost a perfect reproduction of the famous painting by that name. During the time that this was shown, "Rock of Ages" was softly played by the orchestra.

The Statue of Liberty was the last and one of the loveliest of the tableaux shown. The curtain closed just as the last notes of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," were played.

The program closed with "Home, Sweet Home," sung by the old ladies, with the audience joining in.

Aside from the program one of the interesting features of the evening was the address made by Dr. Louis deM. Blocker, president of the Chamber of Commerce. He gave an excellent talk and urged that the campaign be kept up until $25,000 is raised. He said he knew the needs of the home and would aid in an active campaign next month.

Dr. W. E. McIlwaine presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers, which were sent by Mrs. J. C. Green.

At the close of the evening, a pretty courtesy, coming as a surprise to the old ladies who took part in the play, was shown them when each one was presented with a box of candy, these having been given through the courtesy of the following Pensacolians: Hamilton Russell, Sol Cahn, Balkcom

The tickets were received at the door by Mrs. Lee MacDonnell, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Melton. Music was furnished by the high school quartette and orchestra.

Old ladies taking part in the play were Mrs. S. E. Lewis, who took the part of Queen Victoria; Mrs. Jennie Campbell, who acted as Empress Eugenie; Mrs. J. H. Peshon, Mrs. M. W. White, Miss Eva MacMahon, who was "Rock of Ages"; Mrs. S. A. Holden, "Mother of the Confederacy;" Mrs. Fannie Johnson, Betsy Ross, Mrs. Nancy Knight, Mrs. Mary Lynch, Statue of Liberty, Eunice, the little daughter of Mrs. E. Howard, acted as one of the pages.

The splendid program was originated and arranged by Mrs. E. Howard, matron of the home, to whom much of the credit for its success is due. The entertainment was given under the direction of Mrs. M. E. Batts, ably assisted by Mrs. A. H. Green, first vice-chairman of the building committee for the new home, and the sub-committee on entertainment composed of Mrs. A. O. DeWeese, Miss Nell Burrow, Mrs. Clarence Frenkel and the following members of the building committee: Mrs. Lee MacDonnell, chairman; Mrs. A. H. Green, first vice-chairman; Mrs. H. E. Melton, second vice-chairman; Mrs. H. S.

The Best Cough Medicine.
"I have found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best medicine for coughs and colds I have ever used," writes Mrs. Walter Oram, Frankfort, N. Y. "I never tire of recommending it to my friends. Last winter when my son Carl, nine years of age, had an attack of croup I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it relieved him immediately. I always keep it in the house and whenever we have used it the results have been satisfactory."—Adv.
