WILLIAMS-YON.

The following copied from the Daily Democrat of Tallahassee, will be of interest to the friends of Miss Carolyn Yon, who has often visited in Pensacola, as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Max de Larua.

A pretty home wedding of Monday was that of Miss Carolyn Yon and Mr. Leonard Maurice Williams, which took place at high noon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Laura D. Yon, the Rev. S. W. Lawler of Trinity Methodist church, performing the ceremony. The wedding was a very quiet one, only relatives and a few friends being present.

The lower rooms of the home were artistically decorated with southern smilax, narcissus and bridal wreath, a color scheme of green and white was carried out. Mrs. Tom F. Jones at the piano, accompaniment by Miss Onie Rita Moore, after which Mrs. Paul Carwell sang "At Dawning". The bridal party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. First came Miss Mabel Yon, sister of the bride and Pleas W. Lawson of Atlanta. Miss Yon was becomingly attired in a beaded georgette tulle, carrying a basket of pink honeysuckle. Next entered the bride and groom, who stood before an altar improvised of feathery fern arched with southern smilax. The intertwined arch was centered with a fluffy bow of white tulle and under the arch lay two white satin pillows. Here the happy young couple took the marriage vows, the ring ceremony being used.

The bride was lovely in a traveling suit of navy blue tricotine with accessories to match. Her flowers were brides roses and valley lilies. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. In the dining room the table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with the bride cake. A delicious ice course was served. Of many beautiful gifts of china, cut glass and silver none will be more highly prized than a handsome silver fork, given by the fifth grade pupils of the Leon school.

Mr. Williams, originally of Americus, Georgia, where he is prominently identified with the business interests of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left on the afternoon train for Pensacola, where they will spend a few days with relatives enroute to their home in Ellaville.

JERNIGAN-PORTER.

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized Thursday afternoon in Georgiana, Ala., when Miss Lucy Porter, daughter of Mrs. J. T. Porter, became the bride of Henry Edward Jernigan, at the home of the bride.

The home was beautifully decorated in ferns, white roses and spirea. White tapers burning in silver candle sticks made a soft glow over the bridal party.

At the appointed hour of 3 o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March with Miss Zola Wesley at the piano, accompanied by Miss Hallie Rhodes on the violin, the bridal party took their places at the improvised altar where the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. McGlaun, uncle of the bride, assisted by her brother, the Rev. H. C. Porter.

The ribbon bearers Masters Robert Lewis Jernigan and James Brunson, dressed in white satin suits stretched streamers of tulle to form an aisle for the bridal party. Little Newton Milligan served as ring bearer, in a dainty lingerie dress. Miss Jessie Porter, in a blue georgette dress and black picture hat, wearing a corsage bouquet of Henderson roses preceded the bride to the altar. The bride entered with her brother, R. W. Porter and they were met by the groom and his best man, Milton Jernigan. The bride was very attractive in a spring model of blue tricotine. Her flowers were Henderson roses and sweet peas.

After the ceremony an informal reception was given. The dining room with the bride's table was unusually beautiful with its bridal decorations of spirea and bows of tulle added a filmy touch to the complete effect.

Upon a tall stand on a highly polished table was an immense embossed wedding cake presided over by Mrs. W. G. Porter. Punch was served during the afternoon by Mrs. R. W. Porter and Miss Luna Mae Pulaski. Immediately afterward the young couple left for a short trip to points of interest in the East.

Among the out of town guests present at the wedding were: Rev. J. R. McGlaun, Havana; Mrs. W. G. Porter, Miss Neida Porter, Pensacola; Milton Jernigan, Andalusia; Miss Zola Wesley, Kinston, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Foster, Luverne, Ala.; Rev. H. C. Porter, Emory university, Atlanta; Rev. Henry Tate, Evergreen, Ala.; Mrs. N. W. Milligan and Newton Milligan, Jacksonville.
