

POMONA NEWS.

H. A. Perry attended the Masonic Grand Lodge in Jacksonville last week.

Mrs. Harriet Hunt spent several days in Jacksonville recently.

All are pleased to have Mr. Olmstead with us again after a long season spent with his daughters in Boston, Mass. Mr. Olmstead who arrived last Thursday is a guest at the Middleton House, and will probably remain in Pomona until May.

Miss Louise Bray of Nashua was a week-end guest of Mrs. Peck and Mrs. C. C. Middleton.

Much sympathy is extended Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hayes and family in the loss of the little two year old boy, recently. The funeral service at the cemetery was in charge of Rev. David Hatch, and was attended by many friends.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Palmer last week, leaving a baby girl.

The first "silver Tea" of the season was held at the home of Mrs. Peck and Mrs. C. C. Middleton last Wednesday afternoon, and altho the weather was not pleasant, there was a good attendance. For refreshments, cake, hot chocolate and bonbons were served.

Rev. and Mrs. David P. Hatch were dinner guests at the Drake home Tuesday, where Mr. and Mrs. George Marston of Hampton, N. H. are spending the winter.

The annual meeting of the church was held recently at which important business was transacted and new officers elected for the year.

W. H. Williams and Mrs. W. S. Middleton were in Palatka Saturday. Mrs. Grace Cook, Miss Bessie Wyeth, Mrs. R. C. Drisko, Mrs. Peck and Mrs. C. C. Middleton were among Pomonaites who spent the day in Palatka Monday.

The family of Shepard is enjoying a beautiful new car, an Oakland Sensible six, recently purchased in Palatka.

SAN MATEO.

Miss Helen de Montmolin of Palatka was a week-end guest of Miss Josephine Knight.

Mr. G. F. Purser has returned from a business trip to New York.

Mrs. Benj. McReynolds and son and Mr. George McReynolds of Kentucky are among the new arrivals.

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Solana of St. Augustine spent Sunday here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Solana. Miss Hovis Ellis of Macon, Ga., is at the Idlewild for a short visit with her aunt, Mrs. Clements.

Miss McLaughlin of Palatka was a guest of Miss Jane Lyle for the week-end.

E. R. Thompson returned last week from Tampa but left again on Sunday for an indefinite stay in West Florida.

The monthly business meeting of the V. I. A. will be held at the Hall on Tuesday, Feb. 1st at three p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McReynolds, Jr. have rented apartments in Palatka where Mr. McReynolds has a position with the Peninsular Oil Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Coe, Mrs. Frank Bugbee of Hastings with guests from Ohio motored here on Sunday to call on friends and to show the visitors some real orange groves.

Mrs. J. C. Haskell of Columbia, S. C. arrived yesterday and will be with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Halsted, at The Oaks, for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McReynolds have gone to Crescent City where they will remain for two months, or until the fruit from their grove in Huntington has been shipped.

This afternoon the Ladies Aid Society is giving a Fagot Party at Lyle Farm; hostesses Misses Lyle and Fisher. Each lady will be given a small bundle of fagots in which is hidden a story or joke to be read while the fagots burn in open fire. Mrs. L. B. Bailey with her violin will add to the pleasure of the afternoon, and a silver offering will undoubtedly swell the exchequer of the society.

News has been received here of the death of Mr. Nelson Bailey, on the 9th of this month, at the home of his son Elmer E. Bailey in Alhambra, Cal. Mr. Bailey was one of the early settlers of San Mateo, having come here with three brothers and their families about fifty years ago. He was an orange grower and merchant here, owning the property now belonging to T. L. Ramsey. After the freeze of 1895, when his grove, like all the rest, was frozen to the ground, Mr. Bailey with his son and family moved to California. Mr. Bailey attained the age of ninety-two years.

Those who have worked so untrudgingly in arranging the series of Community Entertainments were gratified at the success of the first of the series, given last Friday evening.

The large flags of the Allies hung above the platform gave the church a festive appearance, and the audience of about a hundred people (the seating capacity of the church) gave evidence of the interest taken by our towns people and visitors.

The program was as follows:

Invocation by the pastor, Dr. Axtell; Singing of the Marseillaise and God Save the King by the audience, led by the choir; Garibaldi Hymn sung by Miss Josephine Knight. Then followed the evening of the evening, a lecture by Mr. Lewis A. Smith of Palatka on "The War Zone As I Recently Saw It."

A large map made by Mr. Smith aided in giving a clear idea of his journey from Brussels to Ostend, down thru the French war zone to St. Mihiel, and on to Italy, a journey replete with interest.

The program closed with singing of the Star Spangled Banner, after which many of the audience availed themselves of the opportunity to meet and to thank Mr. Smith for the great pleasure given us.

Attractive folders—songs of the Allies, used in the singing were retained by the audience as souvenirs.

Ecuador.

It was one hundred years ago that Ecuador liberated itself from Spanish rule. To commemorate the anniversary, Ecuador has issued a series with nineteen denominations—one centavo to one sucre—each bearing a portrait of some man who won renown in Ecuador's history. The dates 1820 and 1920 are a part of the design. Greatly to the surprise of collectors, no 20-centavo denomination appeared as part of the set, for Ecuador's sets for forty years have included one of that value. Inquiry brought the disclosure that 62,000 copies of a 20-centavo were printed, but the value description, veinte, meaning "twenty," was through an error spelled veinte instead. The postal authorities destroyed the entire lot, and a 20-centavo will appear as soon as a new plate has been made.—Youth's Companion.

Few Japanese Marry for Love.

The Orient and the Occident are nowhere farther apart than in their views and customs as to the mating of men and women, according to Juliet Street in McClure's. In Japan marriages for love rarely occur, though it is said that the tendency of young people to marry to suit themselves is growing. Young Japanese girls often look with envy upon women of other nations where marriage for love is the general rule. Probably they suppose such matches are invariably happy; that the love is always real love, and that it endures forever. No doubt the Occidental system, viewed from afar looks as rosy to a Japanese girl as their system looks appalling to an American girl.

Not in His Calendar.

Little Dickie is an Episcopalian, and therefore accustomed to celebrating many church holidays. The other day he stood looking at the signs in the window of a closed drug store. He was thirsty, very thirsty, and longed for Monday to come when he might invest in something cool. Laboriously he spelled out the sign. "N-u-t S-u-n-d-a-y." His countenance assumed a look of disgust.

"Well," he ejaculated, "I've heard o' Ash Wednesday, Shrove Tuesday and Good Friday, but to have the drug store closed 'cause it's Nut Sunday is a new one on me. There's no collic for that day in the church book."

Remorseful Ghost.

A pathetic story is told of the ghost of Bisham abbey. It is said that the wife of Sir Thomas Hobby was un-naturally severe with her son, who, it seems, had a peculiar aversion to writing, and in his obstinacy would wilfully blot his copybooks. One day his mother, enraged at his perverseness, lost her self-control and beat the poor boy so unmercifully that he died from his injuries. Since then one of the bedrooms in the abbey has been haunted by the specter of the cruel woman, who glides through the chamber in the act of washing the bloodstains from her hands.

It is stated that some years ago, when an old window shutter of the sixteenth century was removed, "a packet of antique copybooks of that period was discovered pushed into the wall between the joists of the skirting, and several of these books, on which young Hobby's name was written, were covered with blots."
