The new administration will at once provide warmer weather.

The Cabinet will now stand and sing the first two verses of "Lead Kindly Minds."

It works in journalism, also, Mr. Ford. The way to stop 'er is to shut off the gas.

In Ireland it is becoming a capital crime to possess a gun, or ammunition, or a brogue.

The one remaining liberty in this land of the free is the privilege of cussing Congress.

As we understand it, England and France would fatten the Turkey in order to lessen the Greece.

Dry enforcement will never be efficient until agents are permitted to keep all they seize.

We got a restaurant egg the other day that was a contemporary of the lay of the last minstrel.

Milk without cows? Beautiful thought. Now let some scientist show us a way to get beef without cows.

Heinie is informed that the 50 per cent discount now prevalent applies to new business, not to old accounts.

Sovietism makes little headway among the Swiss. They realize that tourists belong to the capitalist class.

If government would put into the Leviathan the money spent on her, she would sink in a few years and save further expense.

The politician who once appealed to the plain people must learn to appeal to the charming, the chic, the swell and the beautiful.

One suspects that a great many people subscribe for the Dearborn Independent in the effort to find something to sue Ford about.

When idealism was in power, the nations promised to love one another. And now they appear to have changed the word to shove.

 GOOD MORNING JUDGE

In the police court yesterday James Robinson, negro, was convicted of careless driving a wagon and fined ten dollars and made to pay five dollars damages for an injury to Mr. Wayne. Robinson ran into the vehicle that John de Wayne was riding in and threw him out onto the ground spraining his wrist.

A charge of gambling was lodged against several negroes, employees of the Wilson Cypress Mill, but on account of insufficient evidence these charges were dismissed. It has been reported to the police that the negroes employed at the mill make a habit of spending the greater part of their noon hour "rolling de bones" out on River street and Chief Livingston is determined to break up this practice.

Henry Carraway, also of the "darker persuasion" had a razor and four dollars in his shoe last night when he was arrested on Twelfth and Dannon streets and lodged in jail, charged with being a suspicious character.

Henry told a good story stating that he was out of work and was headed south looking for something to do. That he had come in on the late train and was hunting a lodging house when arrested. Henry produced a shaving mug and brush to go with his razor and said that since he did not always have fifteen cents to pay for a shave he just carried his accoutrements with him. He said he was a fireman and had gotten fired from his job with the C. & W. C. railroad in Augusta and that he was a long way from home. Judge Phillips informed him that there were no vacant jobs in Palatka and that his best course of action would be to hunt a job elsewhere, and be out of this city by noon today. He assured the judge he would and left in a hurry headed out of town.

It will probably be a great source of comfort to the citizens of Palatka to know that extra men have been added to the force of night watchmen of the police department and that in the future every possible means will be used to bring the parties who have been guilty of breaking and entering numerous homes in this vicinity to justice. Chief of Police Livingston has instructed these men to arrest every person whom they find loitering in town unless it is known that they live in the particular part of town where they are found or have business there.

If it's from the News' Job Room it's good printing.

COMMUNITY SING BECOMING A POPULAR INSTITUTION

More than usual interest is being shown in the institute for the training of song leaders, which is being conducted by Palatka Community Service, under the direction of Emerson Stone. Last evening the class met in its first session. Some 26 of the people of the city enrolled in the course. Other names will be added to these this evening when the class meets in the first regular session. The work of instruction will begin at once, and according to a statement made by Mr. Stone yesterday, in two weeks Palatka will have a corps of capable song leaders of her own.

All people who are interested in community music are invited to attend the meeting of the class this evening. Those in charge wish to be understood that this meeting will not be a community sing. It will be held in the high school auditorium at 7:30 this afternoon.
