

PEN-SA-CO-LA. (By Adrian E. Langford.)

When the south winds, with its steady breeze, Blows o'er the gulf's beach snowy sand, And brings good tidings to everyone...

Of other places I've always dreamed, Unknown and quaint to me, Where the rush of life is slowly dying...

THE STORY OF THE PEANUT SHELLS.

As everyone knows, C. W. Post of Battle Creek, Michigan, is not a maker of breakfast foods, but he is a strong individualist who believes that the trades-unions are a menace to the liberty of the country.

He employs no union labor, so they can not call out his men, and he defies their effort at boycotting his products. The latest means of "getting" Post is the widespread publication of the story that a car which was recently wrecked in transmission was found to be loaded with empty peanut shells, which were being shipped from the south to Post's establishment at Battle Creek.

This canard probably originated with President John Fitzgerald of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who, it is said, stated it publicly as truth. Post comes back and gives Fitzgerald the lie direct. He denounces Fitzgerald's statement as a deliberate falsehood, an underhanded and cowardly attempt to injure his business, having not the slightest basis in fact.

I am going to drink two cups of Post every morning, this time on, and put myself on a diet of Grape-Nuts. Bully for Post!—Editorial in The American Journal of Clinical Medicine.

FURNISHING FREE HOSPITAL

BUILDING IS NOW READY AND SOME OF THE BEDS AND ACCESSORIES HAVE BEEN DONATED.

Many inquiries have been made in reference to the Mission hospital and home and many have desired to have a part in the furnishing of it.

The home is situated on the corner of Strong and Reus streets. The front part of the building will be used expressly for this department of the work.

The private room equipment will cost $32.50 and in addition there will be two children's cribs costing $15 each.

The most important room in the building is the operating room, to furnish this will cost $201. A grand opportunity is thus offered to some charitable person to do a gracious act for the benefit of Pensacola and the people by donating the necessary equipment for the first free hospital.

Those wishing to do something for the home or hospital will please advise with Mrs. T. V. Kessler, the chairman of the ladies board of managers, or with Rev. R. W. Simpson, the director of the Mission. The former can be reached by phone 142 and the latter by phone 146, and both will be pleased to call and make any explanation required.

INSPECTOR OF FEED IS BUSY

J. HAMPTON JONES, LOOKING AFTER IMPURE FEEDSTUFFS FOR STOCK, SAYS VISIT HERE WAS NOT WITHOUT RESULT.

J. Hampton Jones, state inspector of stock feeds, who has been in the city for the past three days, last night stated that his visit here had not been without result. He said that he had found oats purchased in all the good faith in the world by the dealer, to contain more barley than is allowed by law, and one dealer to whom Inspector Jones spoke to, according to report, that he would get his legal firm to make a test of the inspector's opinion if necessary.

Opportunities For the Young Man Who Will Stay With the Farm

By Peter Stanley.

Half a century ago to be a "planter" was the highest pride of a Southern gentleman and the fondest hope of his ambitious posterity, because the planter was universally recognized as having both brains and wealth.

But one day the Southern farmer awoke and found— Well, the tale has been too often told to be interesting to repeat, so the farmer began pushing his sons out into the professional life, to the cities and towns, so as to preserve that grand old aristocracy of the family name.

With improved farm machinery, lands properly cleared of stumps and roots and with heavy stock—the land these Southern farmers are beginning to put on their farms, indeed we are better off without the slave. We are teaching our boys the practical lessons of real farming.

"Florida the Marvelous" BY Governor Albert W. Gilchrist

The Chicago Examiner of February 6, 1910, published, with numerous striking illustrations, a beautiful article from the pen of Governor Albert W. Gilchrist, under the heading "Florida, the Marvelous."

Florida extends through 420 miles north and south, being bounded on the east by the Atlantic Ocean and the greater portion of it on the west by the Gulf of Mexico. Its soil and climate render it friendly to the production of corn, oats and other cereals, long and short cotton and all kinds of vegetables, tropical and semi-tropical fruits.

Much attention is being given in many of the Western states to irrigation. There is no part of Florida in which good artesian water cannot be found. These wells vary in depth from about sixty to 400 feet. Through its rivers and lakes, Florida is undoubtedly the best watered state in all the union.

In some of the northern countries in particular, pecan nuts are being grown extensively, in one county there being as many as 5,000 acres planted in such. Early vegetables are growing extensively for northern markets, the soil in most cases producing 250 to 500 crates; from 150 to 200 bushels of sweet potatoes most anywhere in the state.

How many tired fathers and mothers in this town enter this race every night carrying a baby? And they wonder what the matter is. Chances are the child is starving—worms are eating all of its food. Most children have worms, yours needn't. White's Cream Vermifuge will get rid of the worms and strengthen the child.

EDUCATORS AT COTTONDALE

FAIR-SIZED CROWD GREETED SPEAKERS IN THE STATE EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

Cottondale, Fla., Feb. 12.—Notwithstanding that the meeting was held on very brief notice, a fair-sized audience greeted the speakers in the state educational campaign here Friday afternoon, and much good is anticipated as a result.

The party arrived from Panama City shortly before 11 o'clock, and proceeded immediately to the public school building, where they found the principal, Prof. Cooper, and his able assistants, Miss Olive Trammell and Miss Estelle Hart, busily engaged.

The next speaker was Dr. Edw. Conrad, president of the College for Women at Tallahassee, and one of the most competent educators of the state. Having devoted almost his entire life to the cause of education, he is eminently qualified to talk on matters pertaining to schools, which fact he has plainly demonstrated during this campaign.

These teams carry products to the city and return with a load of fertilizer. One hundred and forty hogs and pigs are now on hand to consume the unsalable portion of the crops. Nothing is allowed to go to waste, but an effort is made to turn everything into cash.

TRUCK FARMING MADE A SUCCESS

WHAT IS BEING DONE OVER IN DUVAL COUNTY—TWO BRIGHT YOUNG MEN, GEO. H. BROWN AND BROTHER, CULTIVATING SEVENTEEN ACRES.

One of the most successful truck growers near Jacksonville is George H. Brown & Bro. Their truck farm is located three miles northwest of the city, and adjacent to the Moncrief race track.

The cabbage grown on three acres of their land, much of which has already been marketed, will yield the growers about $1,200. In addition, several acres are devoted to the growing of turnips, lettuce, cauliflower, radishes, carrots, onions and beets.

MR. WIGGINS IS IMPROVING

REPORTED BY CITIZEN OF PINE BARREN, WHO REACHED CITY LAST NIGHT, THAT HE IS SOME BETTER.

S. R. Stanton, from Pine Barren, who came from that place last evening, brought the cheerful news that the condition of C. L. Wiggins had improved considerably during Saturday, and the hope was expressed that he would make a rally and get better, although there is not much chance for such a turn, according to the specialist in attendance.
