(Another correspondent sends the news of the following regarding the death of Mr. Jacob Fordney Gable, one of the old settlers of that place.—Ed.)

The community was saddened again on Thursday, the 9th inst., by the death of Mr. Jacob Fordney Gable, a respected resident of many years, who passed away at 8:30 p.m. on that day of heart disease.

The funeral was held at his late home on Lancaster avenue at 2 p. m. Saturday. The services were in charge of Rev. R. C. Drisko of Pomona, who delivered an able sermon from the 23rd Psalm. A solo was finely sung by Mrs. J. D. Mitchell, entitled, "Oh to be There," by Gilbert. The commitment service at the grave closed very stylish and attractive.
