celebration, the children forming in the long, wide hall in the school building, and marching into the yard where a throne covered with vines and roses had been erected. Here little Annie Pooley was crowned Queen of the May, her maids being Bertha Lischoff and Lucy Anson. During the coronation, pretty songs were sung, and afterwards twenty-one little girls danced the May pole dance in the school yard, looking very sweet and winsome in their pretty white gowns and gay ribbons. The queen and her little maids were also prettily dressed in white.

Refreshments were served afterwards in the hall—ice cream, cake and candies.

SUFFRAGETS SEARCH GOTHAM FOR HANDSOME MEN TO POSE WITH BEAUTIFUL WOMEN IN BIG PARADE; ARE HAVING POOR SUCCESS

New York, April 30.—Men, tall and handsome, are being sought by the suffragets in New York. For on May 2 a great beauty pageant is to be held at the Metropolitan opera house. Three hundred of the most beautiful women in America will take part in it. Forty-nine out of this number will represent the forty-nine states of the Union. Finding the forty-nine men tall enough, handsome enough and muscled enough to don classic draperies and appear well with the women is proving a big task.

An ardent search for these men is being made. Every suffragette who has a good-looking beau, brother or husband has been asked to assist in the hunt. Qualifications for the ideal man as specified by the suffrage committee include: A noble brow, broad shoulders, full chest, erect carriage, must be more than six feet in height. Must be a believer in "votes for women."

Among the beautiful women already chosen for the pageant are Mrs. Gibson, Miss Inez Milholland, Mrs. Florence Fleming Noyes, Mrs. Arthur Scribner, Miss Sarah Traux and Mrs. A. P. Townsend.

Mrs. Noyes, who arranged the barefoot classic dances for the tableaux given in connection with the Washington suffrage parade, will have charge of the dances for the Metropolitan meeting. Miss Margaret Tuttle, daughter of Mrs. Howard Mansfield, has arranged the wordless play, which represents "Woman's Search for Freedom Through the Ages."

figures being beautifully executed, and the little girls who took part receiving much praise for the pleasure they gave.

The Queen of May was dainty little Virginia McIver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. McIver, and the small king who crowned her, Master William Breen, who placed a chaplet of pink roses on her pretty head.

Both king and queen wore purple robes, and the little girls who danced about the Maypole, scattered rose petals before their queen, as she made her royal progress to the throne where she was crowned by the king.

Those who took part in the May pole dance were Jessie Hall, Hazel Shackelford, Dove White, Hilda Bingham, Margaret McIver, Carra Louise Phillips, Margaret Morgan, Helen Upp, Marguerita Maves, Margie Ingram, Myrtle Jeter, Aline Bonacker.

Among the amusements enjoyed by the children were a three-legged race, potato race, and sack race.

BEFORE AND AFTER MARRIAGE

Advice Given Mother in Regard to Young Daughter, Proves Valuable to the Daughter Even After Marriage.

Pollock, Tex.—"When I was a girl, about 14 years of age," writes Mrs. Winnie Delaney, of this town, "I was in awfully bad health. I tried different treatments, but they did me no good.

A friend advised my mother to give me Cardui, the woman's tonic. She gave me one bottle, and it straightened me out all right.

I did not have any more trouble until after I was married. I had several bad spells then, but I began taking Cardui again, and my health started to improving right away.

I can safely recommend Cardui to all women sufferers, as I think it is the greatest woman's medicine on earth.

You may publish this letter if you wish."

Cardui is good for young girls, as well as older women, because it contains pure, harmless, vegetable ingredients, which act gently, yet surely, on the delicate womanly organs. It is a tonic prepared exclusively for women.

For more than 50 years, Cardui has been in widely extended use, by women of all ages, and has given entire satisfaction, as a remedy for rebuilding womanly health and strength.

You can rely on Cardui. It will do for you, what it has done for thousands of others. It will help you.

Begin to take Cardui, today.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Honey Recipes.

Honey and Almond Cake—Put in saucepan over fire one-half pound honey, two tablespoons butter; when butter is melted and at boiling point turn into a basin to cool. When cold stir in one-half pound flour, two ounces blanched and chopped almonds, grated rind of one-half lemon, one scant teaspoon cloves.

Dissolve one teaspoon soda in a little water and stir into the mixture at the last.

Cover with a cloth and stand in a cool place. In the morning lay the paste on board, sprinkle with flour, roll out one-half inch thick, cut into 1 1/2 inch squares, put a split almond in each corner, a piece of candied citron in center of each cake, lay on a buttered paper (which has been placed on a baking tin), cover with white paper, bake in moderate oven. When cold, keep in a tin.

Honey Lemonade—Make rich lemonade in the usual way, but sweeten with honey in place of sugar. Agreeable and stimulating.

Honey Cookies—Beat four ounces butter with a wooden spoon, add one-half pound sugar, one quart honey, juice of two lemons; mix, stir in sifted flour enough to roll out. Cut in round cakes, lay on buttered pan, bake in moderate oven.

The Table.

This is an excellent recipe for buns, cinnamon rolls and doughnuts—One cup mashed potatoes (left over from dinner can be used), one cup sugar, three-fourths cup butter, one cup yeast. Break two eggs into cup and fill with sweet milk. Mix potatoes, butter and sugar thoroughly, then add milk and eggs well beaten, and last the yeast. Work in well enough flour to make a soft dough. Mix in the evening and in the morning make into buns. Let rise and bake.

For cinnamon rolls, roll the dough out, spread with a mixture of sugar, butter and cinnamon, roll up and cut off to form the rolls. Be sure and pinch the end shut each time before cutting.

For doughnuts, roll out three-fourths of an inch thick, cut and let raise until light. Fry in hot lard.

Mock Lemon Pie—To one cup sour apple sauce add and pint water, add half cup sugar, bring to boil and thicken with one heaping teaspoon cornstarch dissolved in water. Remove from fire and add beaten yolks of two eggs and one tablespoon lemon extract. Fill rich pie crust and make a meringue of the whites of eggs.

MAN WHO SHOT ADRIAN ROACH IS ACQUITTED

ALBERT SIBBETT AND MRS. EDNA SENNOTT, CHARGED WITH BEING ACCESSORIES, WERE ALSO ACQUITTED BY JUSTICE OF PEACE JOHNSON.

At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon of T. H. Carvell, a railroad switchman, charged with assault with intent to murder by shooting Adrian Roach, a well-known young man of this city, on the night of April 4, Carvell was acquitted by Justice of the Peace Wm. L. Johnson. Albert Sibbett, also a railroad switchman, and Mrs. Edna Sennott, who were charged with being accessories to the shooting, were also acquitted.

The hearing consumed two days and was held in the court of record room on account of the large number of witnesses.

The prosecution was conducted by C. Moreno Jones, while R. Pope Reese was attorney for Carvell, Sibbett and Mrs. Sennott.

Carvell shot Roach in the right side and arm with a shotgun at the corner of Romana and DeVilliers street about 10 o'clock at night, where they met a short time after Roach had told Carvell on Coyle street, between Chipley and Garden streets, to quit paying attention to Mrs. Edna Sennott, over whom the trouble between the two men occurred.

Sibbett was charged with being an accessory to the shooting from the fact that Carvell secured the shotgun from his home on Coyle street a few minutes before Roach was shot.

Carvell testified yesterday that when he arrived at the corner of Romana and DeVilliers streets, Roach stepped from behind a pole and made a demonstration as though he was going to pull a revolver from his hip pocket, but before he completed the attempt Carvell said he shot him. Carvell gave it to Peter Vasso, belonged to in the room occupied by Mrs. Sennott at the home of Sibbett.

Sibbett testified that he told Carvell not to take the gun, as he did not want him to harm anyone, but made no effort to take it from him. Sibbett said Carvell told him he would not injure anyone unless an attempt was made to hurt him.

Roach admitted that the revolver which Clyde Roach, his brother, gave to Theodore Fredrickson just after the shooting, and which was given in turn by Fredrickson to Joe Graham, who gave it to Peter Vasso, belonged to him, but it was not brought out in the hearing that Adrian Roach had the revolver on him when he was shot.

WOMAN KILLS SALON KEEPER'S SON IN CHICAGO

Chicago, May 1.—Clarence Murphy, 22-year-old son of a Gary, Ind., saloon keeper, was shot dead today in his father's place of business when he attempted to eject Mrs. Grace Smith, 35 years old. She fled to Chicago, where later she was arrested.

Arthur Grayson, 37 years old, was with the woman when she was taken into custody. They were taken back to Gary.

After a quarrel between Mrs. Smith and Henry Murphy, proprietor of the saloon, Clarence Murphy ordered Mrs. Smith out. When she stepped toward her to enforce the command, she drew a revolver and fired five shots.

"I meant to shoot old man Murphy and not his son," Mrs. Smith told the police.
