MANY LOUISIANA MEN WOULD FIGHT MEXICANS

Baton Rouge, La., April 23 .- Adjutant General McNeese, of the Louisiana National Guard, has received more han 400 applications for commissions in the National guard since the Mexican crisis became acute. "They are all patriotic and want to fight but apparently not as privates," said the adjutant general.

The flag raising on the batleship New York.

Unusual significance attached to the flag raising on the battleship New York last week. The flag raising officially put the monster sea fighter into commission, although she had not had her efficiency tests. It is believed that had conditions grown more menacing in Mexico she have been hastened south at once.
