

The Pensacola Journal

DAILY, WEEKLY, SUNDAY, BY JOURNAL PUBLISHING COMPANY.

FRANK L. MAYES, President.

MEMBER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: One Week, Daily and Sunday... $1.15

Office—Journal Building, Corner DeLuna and Intendencia.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Pensacola, Florida, under Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Phones: Editorial Rooms, 28; Business Office, 1500.

MONDAY, JULY 20, 1914.

The Double-Barreled Haiti Domingo Row.

The action of the administration in ordering war vessels and marines to rendezvous at Guantanamo with a view to a movement against Hayti and San Domingo indicates that a determined effort, backed by the powers, will be made to restore peace in these turbulent republics.

VOX POPULI.

J. B. WIGGINS SAYS HE IS NOT GUILTY

Pine Barren, Fla., July 18, 1914. Editor Pensacola Journal.

Please allow me space in your paper to say a few words in my own behalf.

I intended not to make any statement through the papers at all, but as others are taking it upon themselves and trying to get their names before the public as well as myself.

I wish to state to my many friends that I am not guilty of the charge now held against me, and ask them all to believe nothing else.

This thing has been worked up through one or two men here, and men who are trying to make others swear their way.

There has been money offered, and every other thing one could do to try to down me. But I trust my friends will stand by me and when the time comes I shall be proven much cleaner than the ones who got this up.

Very truly yours, J. B. WIGGINS.

SHE IS A WISE WOMAN.

Who recognizes in the tell-tale symptoms such as backache, nervousness, dragging sensations, nervousness and irritability the true cause and relies on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to a healthy normal condition.

For forty years this root and herb remedy has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood such a test of time.

HARBOR AND MARINE NEWS

PASSED SAND KEY.

July 18.—At 4:30 p. m. steamer Harfleur; at 7 a. m. Dacia; at 9 a. m. Comus, all bound west; at 9 a. m. El Norte, bound east.

July 19.—At 7 a. m. Pola, at noon, Northwestern, both bound west.

VESSELS IN PORT.

Cayo Domingo, Br. 1713, Newman Cardenas, to the South Atlantic Steamship Co.

Frieda Leonhard, Ger. 1818, Lemke, Jacksonville, to the Gulf Transit Co.

Kalimba, Br. 3117, Bombay, to John A. Merritt & Co.

Charleston, Br. 1163, Vennin, Charleston, to M. A. Quina Export Co.

Penitence, Br. 2736, Rio Janeiro, to H. Baars Co.

Schooners.

C. W. Mills, Br. 372, Bush, Havana, to Stearns Lumber and Export Co.

Maud E. Krum, Am. 633, Erb, San Juan, to John A. Merritt & Co.

Goldfields, Am. 625, Erb, Agnadhilla, to Master.

Hieronymous, Am. 417, Sommerly, Bahia Blanca, to Stearns Lumber Co.

Barks.

Frederick, Dan. 254, Kirby, Fort de France, to H. Baars.

Money to loan in amounts of $500.00 and up, on real estate security in the city limits. Apply to Hooton & Watson, the leading Real Estate Agents.

Bull Moose Cannot Annul Primary Law

(Continued from First Page.)

the limits within which the elector's constitutional right of franchise is to be measured, and so long as that purpose is not unconstitutional in itself the elector's rights should be held, as intended by the constitution to be, subordinate to the purpose of the election because, in fact, his right of suffrage arises not wholly from his being a constitutional elector, but, instead, in part, from the law permitting, denial of his right to participate in a partisan election does not deny him any right legally or morally existing to him merely as an elector.

The recognition by the legislature of the existence and rights of a political party cannot divest an elector who has no political belief of any partisan rights. As the party exists for party purposes incidental to governmental benefit, the individual elector without the party cannot complain of being treated therefrom by his own failure to entertain a partisan belief. Political parties have existed as recognized and necessary instrumentalities of our government since the beginning of our history. They are mentioned in our constitutional debates. Our constitution was framed and adopted with knowledge of and with reference to them. We cannot reasonably conclude these mine in many of the largest producing states. Structural materials on the other hand exhibit marked gains almost without exception. Thus 1913 was the banner year for cement, which gains more than 11 per cent over 1912, and record outputs are also shown for lime, building sand and gravel, sand-lime brick, and glass sand.

Other mineral products for which 1913 was a record breaking year are bauxite and aluminum, sulphuric acid, feldspar, mica, pottery, and talc and soapstone, while substantial increases are reported for gypsum, phosphate rock, abrasives, barytes, slate and salt.

These production figures all express well maintained activity in mines, smelter, furnace, and mill and prove that the American people are utilizing more of the nation's great natural resources than ever before.

A few weeks later when figures are at hand for all of the mineral products, it is expected that 1913 will be found to have outperformed both 1912 and 1907 which have hitherto held the record.

Huerta is said to have slid off the waterwagon and hit the ground with a full sickening thud, just previous to his determination to quit the presidency. Old R. E. may have had something to do with his retirement after all.

COMISKEY IS SORE; PLANS WAR ON FEDS

Chicago, July 16.—Charles Comiskey is planning a private war on the Fed's. The grabbing of Hal Chase has conspired to make him sore at the outlaws. The plans are twofold. One indicates the purchase of a class AA club to compete for patronage, but this may fall through.

The other is Kid Gleason's ideal. "If Comiskey will say the word," declares the Kid, "I'll go out and grab enough hitters from the Fed's to make him a winning ball club."

That is, Gleason wants to start a big counter-raid. This, too, presents a difficulty, as it would undoubtedly be fought in the courts and would weaken the case of organized ball in its effort to hold its own contract players.

MEETING WILL LIKELY BE VERY LIVELY TODAY

Protests are expected to be aired by a number of citizens at the meeting of the board of city commissioners this afternoon at 4 o'clock, over the proposed sale of waterfront property to M. J. Elkan.

A week ago, notice was given the commissioners that at least fifty citizens were likely to be present today to make protest at the sale, and this is what is on the carpet for today.

The ordinance authorizing the sale of certain waterfront property to M. J. Elkan, has passed its second reading, and was offered on third reading last Monday when Prof. H. C. Armstrong appeared and asked that it go over until a later date, personally voicing his own protest and adding that the movement to turn loose the property was not a popular one.

The commissioners readily gave their assent for a postponement of the ordinance on third reading, and agreed to listen to any and all protests voiced. The mayor stated that the ordinance if passed at any time was subject to referendum, but that did not suit the gentleman objecting personally at the time, and his wish that the measure be not read for the third time was granted.

Statement from Prof. Armstrong handed the following written statement to the Journal.

"Last Monday an ordinance entitled, 'An Ordinance to sell to M. J. Elkan lots six, seven and ten, and portions of lots eight and nine, block thirty-four, waterfront,' was up for final passage, and at my earnest representation and request its final consideration was postponed until the session of the commissioners this (Monday) afternoon.

"This involves the outright sale of nearly five lots. This means a piece of land, 125 feet square, with the best possible location for a small city wharf or a site for an important industry.

"The price to be paid is quite inconsiderable, but the price is a matter of the smallest importance. The surrender of this property entirely into private hands, if we are thinking of Pensacola as a city that is to grow, is a serious question.

"The commissioners are holding the matter open to hear from citizens. If you are interested it is easier to stop the sale by coming to the city hall this afternoon to protest than to get a referendum vote on it."

The "Want Ad Way" page is one of the great features of this paper. Read it.

LITTLE HELL DOOMED; LITTLE HEAVEN SAFE

Harrington, Del. July 19.—Placed under the ban by church people, Little Heaven and Little Hell, two Delaware towns, soon will lose their appellations.

The church folk have decided the names are profane and have begun a movement to have the names changed to Dorsey Beach.

Although they do not appear in the list of postoffices, mail addressed either to Little Heaven or Little Hell is sure of reaching its destination.

SUFFRAGISTS STILL BOTHERING THE HOUSE RULES COMMITTEE

Washington, July 19.—Members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage are still continuing their efforts to persuade the house rules committee to meet and report out the Mristow-Mondell bill providing for the equal suffrage amendment.

Several scores of suffrage advocates under the auspices of the union, and led by Miss Alice Paul and Miss Lucy Burns, visited the capital a few days ago and urged on the committee their desire that a special meeting be called at once to consider the suffrage resolution.

The women were met by the Republican and Progressive members of the committee, who declared they were in favor of reporting the suffrage bill favorably. The Democratic members

"No Mosquito Remedy Can Compare With Sweet Dreams," Says Multitude

No Mosquito remedy can compare with "Sweet Dreams." Without Sweet Dreams we couldn't exist, and "Sweet Dreams" is the only really good mosquito remedy that we have ever used. It is just a few expressions from the multitude of Sweet Dreams users, that come daily to our notice.

Sweet Dreams wins the instant favor of every user and meets entirely the exacting demands of the public. Insist on Sweet Dreams, the good sort.

For your convenience every drug and grocery store stock Sweet Dreams. Large bottles 15c. Sold everywhere. For sale by Balkcom Drug Co., Pensacola Feed Co., Marine Grocery Co., J. M. Nowell & Son, John Menace, W. L. Meyer, F. H. Mann, Mrs. Braswell. (Adv.)

MEETING WILL LIKELY BE VERY LIVELY TODAY

Protests are expected to be aired by a number of citizens at the meeting of the board of city commissioners this afternoon at 4 o'clock, over the proposed sale of waterfront property to M. J. Elkan.

A week ago, notice was given the commissioners that at least fifty citizens were likely to be present today to make protest at the sale, and this is what is on the carpet for today.

The ordinance authorizing the sale of certain waterfront property to M. J. Elkan, has passed its second reading, and was offered on third reading last Monday when Prof. H. C. Armstrong appeared and asked that it go over until a later date, personally voicing his own protest and adding that the movement to turn loose the property was not a popular one.

The commissioners readily gave their assent for a postponement of the ordinance on third reading, and agreed to listen to any and all protests voiced. The mayor stated that the ordinance if passed at any time was subject to referendum, but that did not suit the gentleman objecting personally at the time, and his wish that the measure be not read for the third time was granted.

Statement from Prof. Armstrong handed the following written statement to the Journal.

"Last Monday an ordinance entitled, 'An Ordinance to sell to M. J. Elkan lots six, seven and ten, and portions of lots eight and nine, block thirty-four, waterfront,' was up for final passage, and at my earnest representation and request its final consideration was postponed until the session of the commissioners this (Monday) afternoon.

"This involves the outright sale of nearly five lots. This means a piece of land, 125 feet square, with the best possible location for a small city wharf or a site for an important industry.

"The price to be paid is quite inconsiderable, but the price is a matter of the smallest importance. The surrender of this property entirely into private hands, if we are thinking of Pensacola as a city that is to grow, is a serious question.

"The commissioners are holding the matter open to hear from citizens. If you are interested it is easier to stop the sale by coming to the city hall this afternoon to protest than to get a referendum vote on it."

The "Want Ad Way" page is one of the great features of this paper. Read it.

LITTLE HELL DOOMED; LITTLE HEAVEN SAFE

Harrington, Del. July 19.—Placed under the ban by church people, Little Heaven and Little Hell, two Delaware towns, soon will lose their appellations.

The church folk have decided the names are profane and have begun a movement to have the names changed to Dorsey Beach.

Although they do not appear in the list of postoffices, mail addressed either to Little Heaven or Little Hell is sure of reaching its destination.

SUFFRAGISTS STILL BOTHERING THE HOUSE RULES COMMITTEE

Washington, July 19.—Members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage are still continuing their efforts to persuade the house rules committee to meet and report out the Mristow-Mondell bill providing for the equal suffrage amendment.

Several scores of suffrage advocates under the auspices of the union, and led by Miss Alice Paul and Miss Lucy Burns, visited the capital a few days ago and urged on the committee their desire that a special meeting be called at once to consider the suffrage resolution.

The women were met by the Republican and Progressive members of the committee, who declared they were in favor of reporting the suffrage bill favorably. The Democratic members

MEETING WILL LIKELY BE VERY LIVELY TODAY

Protests are expected to be aired by a number of citizens at the meeting of the board of city commissioners this afternoon at 4 o'clock, over the proposed sale of waterfront property to M. J. Elkan.

A week ago, notice was given the commissioners that at least fifty citizens were likely to be present today to make protest at the sale, and this is what is on the carpet for today.

The ordinance authorizing the sale of certain waterfront property to M. J. Elkan, has passed its second reading, and was offered on third reading last Monday when Prof. H. C. Armstrong appeared and asked that it go over until a later date, personally voicing his own protest and adding that the movement to turn loose the property was not a popular one.

The commissioners readily gave their assent for a postponement of the ordinance on third reading, and agreed to listen to any and all protests voiced. The mayor stated that the ordinance if passed at any time was subject to referendum, but that did not suit the gentleman objecting personally at the time, and his wish that the measure be not read for the third time was granted.

Statement from Prof. Armstrong handed the following written statement to the Journal.

"Last Monday an ordinance entitled, 'An Ordinance to sell to M. J. Elkan lots six, seven and ten, and portions of lots eight and nine, block thirty-four, waterfront,' was up for final passage, and at my earnest representation and request its final consideration was postponed until the session of the commissioners this (Monday) afternoon.

"This involves the outright sale of nearly five lots. This means a piece of land, 125 feet square, with the best possible location for a small city wharf or a site for an important industry.

"The price to be paid is quite inconsiderable, but the price is a matter of the smallest importance. The surrender of this property entirely into private hands, if we are thinking of Pensacola as a city that is to grow, is a serious question.

"The commissioners are holding the matter open to hear from citizens. If you are interested it is easier to stop the sale by coming to the city hall this afternoon to protest than to get a referendum vote on it."

The "Want Ad Way" page is one of the great features of this paper. Read it.

LITTLE HELL DOOMED; LITTLE HEAVEN SAFE

Harrington, Del. July 19.—Placed under the ban by church people, Little Heaven and Little Hell, two Delaware towns, soon will lose their appellations.

The church folk have decided the names are profane and have begun a movement to have the names changed to Dorsey Beach.

Although they do not appear in the list of postoffices, mail addressed either to Little Heaven or Little Hell is sure of reaching its destination.

SUFFRAGISTS STILL BOTHERING THE HOUSE RULES COMMITTEE

Washington, July 19.—Members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage are still continuing their efforts to persuade the house rules committee to meet and report out the Mristow-Mondell bill providing for the equal suffrage amendment.

Several scores of suffrage advocates under the auspices of the union, and led by Miss Alice Paul and Miss Lucy Burns, visited the capital a few days ago and urged on the committee their desire that a special meeting be called at once to consider the suffrage resolution.

The women were met by the Republican and Progressive members of the committee, who declared they were in favor of reporting the suffrage bill favorably. The Democratic members

MEETING WILL LIKELY BE VERY LIVELY TODAY

Protests are expected to be aired by a number of citizens at the meeting of the board of city commissioners this afternoon at 4 o'clock, over the proposed sale of waterfront property to M. J. Elkan.

A week ago, notice was given the commissioners that at least fifty citizens were likely to be present today to make protest at the sale, and this is what is on the carpet for today.

The ordinance authorizing the sale of certain waterfront property to M. J. Elkan, has passed its second reading, and was offered on third reading last Monday when Prof. H. C. Armstrong appeared and asked that it go over until a later date, personally voicing his own protest and adding that the movement to turn loose the property was not a popular one.

The commissioners readily gave their assent for a postponement of the ordinance on third reading, and agreed to listen to any and all protests voiced. The mayor stated that the ordinance if passed at any time was subject to referendum, but that did not suit the gentleman objecting personally at the time, and his wish that the measure be not read for the third time was granted.

Statement from Prof. Armstrong handed the following written statement to the Journal.

"Last Monday an ordinance entitled, 'An Ordinance to sell to M. J. Elkan lots six, seven and ten, and portions of lots eight and nine, block thirty-four, waterfront,' was up for final passage, and at my earnest representation and request its final consideration was postponed until the session of the commissioners this (Monday) afternoon.

"This involves the outright sale of nearly five lots. This means a piece of land, 125 feet square, with the best possible location for a small city wharf or a site for an important industry.

"The price to be paid is quite inconsiderable, but the price is a matter of the smallest importance. The surrender of this property entirely into private hands, if we are thinking of Pensacola as a city that is to grow, is a serious question.

"The commissioners are holding the matter open to hear from citizens. If you are interested it is easier to stop the sale by coming to the city hall this afternoon to protest than to get a referendum vote on it."

The "Want Ad Way" page is one of the great features of this paper. Read it.

LITTLE HELL DOOMED; LITTLE HEAVEN SAFE

Harrington, Del. July 19.—Placed under the ban by church people, Little Heaven and Little Hell, two Delaware towns, soon will lose their appellations.

The church folk have decided the names are profane and have begun a movement to have the names changed to Dorsey Beach.

Although they do not appear in the list of postoffices, mail addressed either to Little Heaven or Little Hell is sure of reaching its destination.

SUFFRAGISTS STILL BOTHERING THE HOUSE RULES COMMITTEE

Washington, July 19.—Members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage are still continuing their efforts to persuade the house rules committee to meet and report out the Mristow-Mondell bill providing for the equal suffrage amendment.

Several scores of suffrage advocates under the auspices of the union, and led by Miss Alice Paul and Miss Lucy Burns, visited the capital a few days ago and urged on the committee their desire that a special meeting be called at once to consider the suffrage resolution.

The women were met by the Republican and Progressive members of the committee, who declared they were in favor of reporting the suffrage bill favorably. The Democratic members

MEETING WILL LIKELY BE VERY LIVELY TODAY

Protests are expected to be aired by a number of citizens at the meeting of the board of city commissioners this afternoon at 4 o'clock, over the proposed sale of waterfront property to M. J. Elkan.

A week ago, notice was given the commissioners that at least fifty citizens were likely to be present today to make protest at the sale, and this is what is on the carpet for today.

The ordinance authorizing the sale of certain waterfront property to M. J. Elkan, has passed its second reading, and was offered on third reading last Monday when Prof. H. C. Armstrong appeared and asked that it go over until a later date, personally voicing his own protest and adding that the movement to turn loose the property was not a popular one.

The commissioners readily gave their assent for a postponement of the ordinance on third reading, and agreed to listen to any and all protests voiced. The mayor stated that the ordinance if passed at any time was subject to referendum, but that did not suit the gentleman objecting personally at the time, and his wish that the measure be not read for the third time was granted.

Statement from Prof. Armstrong handed the following written statement to the Journal.

"Last Monday an ordinance entitled, 'An Ordinance to sell to M. J. Elkan lots six, seven and ten, and portions of lots eight and nine, block thirty-four, waterfront,' was up for final passage, and at my earnest representation and request its final consideration was postponed until the session of the commissioners this (Monday) afternoon.

"This involves the outright sale of nearly five lots. This means a piece of land, 125 feet square, with the best possible location for a small city wharf or a site for an important industry.

"The price to be paid is quite inconsiderable, but the price is a matter of the smallest importance. The surrender of this property entirely into private hands, if we are thinking of Pensacola as a city that is to grow, is a serious question.

"The commissioners are holding the matter open to hear from citizens. If you are interested it is easier to stop the sale by coming to the city hall this afternoon to protest than to get a referendum vote on it."

The "Want Ad Way" page is one of the great features of this paper. Read it.

LITTLE HELL DOOMED; LITTLE HEAVEN SAFE

Harrington, Del. July 19.—Placed under the ban by church people, Little Heaven and Little Hell, two Delaware towns, soon will lose their appellations.

The church folk have decided the names are profane and have begun a movement to have the names changed to Dorsey Beach.

Although they do not appear in the list of postoffices, mail addressed either to Little Heaven or Little Hell is sure of reaching its destination.

SUFFRAGISTS STILL BOTHERING THE HOUSE RULES COMMITTEE

Washington, July 19.—Members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage are still continuing their efforts to persuade the house rules committee to meet and report out the Mristow-Mondell bill providing for the equal suffrage amendment.

Several scores of suffrage advocates under the auspices of the union, and led by Miss Alice Paul and Miss Lucy Burns, visited the capital a few days ago and urged on the committee their desire that a special meeting be called at once to consider the suffrage resolution.

The women were met by the Republican and Progressive members of the committee, who declared they were in favor of reporting the suffrage bill favorably. The Democratic members

MEETING WILL LIKELY BE VERY LIVELY TODAY

Protests are expected to be aired by a number of citizens at the meeting of the board of city commissioners this afternoon at 4 o'clock, over the proposed sale of waterfront property to M. J. Elkan.

A week ago, notice was given the commissioners that at least fifty citizens were likely to be present today to make protest at the sale, and this is what is on the carpet for today.

The ordinance authorizing the sale of certain waterfront property to M. J. Elkan, has passed its second reading, and was offered on third reading last Monday when Prof. H. C. Armstrong appeared and asked that it go over until a later date, personally voicing his own protest and adding that the movement to turn loose the property was not a popular one.

The commissioners readily gave their assent for a postponement of the ordinance on third reading, and agreed to listen to any and all protests voiced. The mayor stated that the ordinance if passed at any time was subject to referendum, but that did not suit the gentleman objecting personally at the time, and his wish that the measure be not read for the third time was granted.

Statement from Prof. Armstrong handed the following written statement to the Journal.

"Last Monday an ordinance entitled, 'An Ordinance to sell to M. J. Elkan lots six, seven and ten, and portions of lots eight and nine, block thirty-four, waterfront,' was up for final passage, and at my earnest representation and request its final consideration was postponed until the session of the commissioners this (Monday) afternoon.

"This involves the outright sale of nearly five lots. This means a piece of land, 125 feet square, with the best possible location for a small city wharf or a site for an important industry.

For the Accommodation of Ladies

The accounts of ladies are desired at this bank, and every convenience and facility is provided for lady patrons.

With a view to rendering special service, an attractive rest room has been provided.

Ladies, whether customers of the bank or not, are invited to use this room at any time; use our stationery, telephone, etc.

Information regarding banking operations will be cheerfully given, and any other service we can will be gladly rendered.

4% Compounded Quarterly Paid on Savings Accounts

The Banking, Savings & Trust Co.

Capital $100,000 Corner Palafox and Garden Streets Pensacola, Fla.

TAKE PRISONER ACROSS U. S. TO ANSWER CHARGE

SHERIFF FROM STATE OF WASHINGTON ARRIVES FOR D. BUSH, IN JAIL HERE, WHO IS WANTED UPON CHARGE OF FORGERY IN SEVERAL CASES.

D. C. Bush, alias D. C. Jordan, wanted at Wenatche, Chennault county, state of Washington, is in the Escambia county jail, and Sheriff Charles Kenyon of the Pacific coast state, reached Pensacola yesterday to take charge of his prisoner and return him to the scene of his alleged crime.

Several charges are pending against Bush in Wenatche, all for alleged forgeries. None of the amounts he is said to have secured are larger than $50, but while the warrant as recorded here cites but two offenses, Sheriff Kenyon stated that he understood there were many others not noted.

Sheriff Kenyon is after the proper requisition papers for Bush, and went to Tallahassee last night to personally secure these documents. There will be no resistance of the issue of the papers, and probably on Wednesday, Bush, accompanied by the sheriff from Washington, will leave Pensacola.

Bush, arrested under the name of D. C. Jordan, was charged with passing worthless checks. He was found in Blount, Miss., and his arrest was effected by Chief of Police Frank Sanders.

The publicity given the arrest, and the charge against him, was partly responsible for his being located by the Washington authorities.

Recognized From Photograph. A few days after he had been turned over to the county authorities, Sheriff Ellis received a telegram from a national detective agency with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., making inquiries about "Jordan," and asking furnished the agency in as short a time as possible, and shortly afterward a telegram arrived, reading, in part, as follows:

"Jordan has been identified by photo as D. C. Bush, wanted in Washington for forgery. Hold him until further advised," etc.

Bush was sentenced for a comparatively short term here, and his time expired on July 13. On that date Sheriff Ellis went to his cell, and the prisoner met the sheriff with a smile, believing that he was to be liberated. Instead, he was notified that a charge had been made against him of being a fugitive from justice, which step was taken to hold him until