Republicans to Call National Convention.

The defeated and discredited republican party, having tried several experiments in the way of reorganization, has determined on a plan to call a national convention as a last resort to cement together the pieces of the fractured party.

It is said that the principal object in holding this convention will be to cut down the representation in republican conventions from the southern states. In addition to this an effort will be made to permit republicans from their own states to elect delegates to national conventions in their own way, so the choice of each state will be regulated according to the laws of the state.

The chief difficulty in the way of this plan is said to be in the fact that the national committee of the party is opposed to the plan and a call for a national convention must come from this committee. If the representation from the south is cut down it will have to be done by a convention specially called, as it is a matter of history, a nominating convention will never consent to a reduction of representation.

In view of the fact that the republicans carried only two small states in the last election, it is difficult to understand how it will help the party to reduce the number of negro delegates from the south or how it would have any bearing on the standing of the party should the south be deprived altogether of participation in republican national conventions.

As an organization, the republican party is in a bad way.

Instead of one, there are now four "first ladies of the land."

The District of Columbia.

The city of Washington or rather the District of Columbia has the commission form of government. There is no doubt that President Taft, in his praise of the government of the city, in his farwell address to the business and professional men of the city, was entirely right.

The district was formerly treated as a territory and had a governor and a legislature and many scandals prevailed. No scandal has been heard of since the government of the district was placed in the hands of a small commission. During this latter period the city has wonderfully developed in size and beauty and has become a model for other American cities.

Its public affairs seem to be conducted without corruption and graft and its municipal administration is a strong argument in favor of commission government.

A scientist has proclaimed that cheese causes appendicitis. There are a few brands which have been known to have more fatal results than that.

Women Demand Recall of a Judge.

Determined that any judge who places a light estimate on morality shall be punished, the women of San Francisco, lately armed with the ballot, have started a movement for the recall of a police judge named Weller.

It is said that Weller reduced the bond of a young man who had attacked a girl and made it so low that the man was enabled to run away. It is asserted that on previous occasions this judge had either placed bonds so low that the criminals escaped or he reduced the amounts fixed by other judges.

Whatever may be the outcome of this particular case, the effect will be Commissioners Will Be Nominated In a White Man's Primary.

There is no ground whatever for the assumption that the three commissioners to be elected under Pensacola's new commission charter will not be selected in a White Man's Primary.

As announced by The Journal last week, the commissioners will be nominated in a White Primary just as we have heretofore nominated our city officials.

The call for the Primary was issued several days ago, as required by law. It could not of course contemplate the changes in the charter that have since been agreed upon, because the committee did not know which charter was going to be adopted.

Since the adoption of the new charter, the city democratic executive committee will amend the call so as to provide for the nomination of three commissioners instead of four officers under the old charter.

After these three commissioners are nominated by majority vote in the White Primary, they will then—backed by the White Voters of Pensacola—be elected at the general city election in June.

That is really all there is to the subject.

for the good of the courts. It is said in San Francisco the judges have already become stirred up and have adopted resolutions to the effect that no judge shall reduce the amount of bail fixed by another judge.

Of course at this distance little or nothing is known of the merits of this particular case. Still it is obvious, however unfit this man may be, his offenses are such that it would be impossible to reach him with impeachment proceedings. But if he is unfit to hold a judicial position, as would appear on the face of the news reports, he is likely to be recalled and the vacancy thus created will be filled by a more suitable man.

And President Wilson proceeded forthwith to get busy.

For some people it seems perfectly natural to be artificial.

The average Mexican is in danger of getting his "vivas" mixed.

Pensacola, known everywhere, and growing greater every minute.

Tuesday was not the first time that Woodrow Wilson has been made president.

The "rube" team need not get too anxious for that challenge. It is coming in due time.

In Mexico there are not enough presidencies to go around. Too many statesmen want the job.

Neither Col. Roosevelt nor Castro took an especially prominent part in the inaugural parade.

West Floridians are unanimous in the belief that this is a great and glorious section of Florida.

Ex-President Taft lost no time in getting out of Washington. But he should not be censured for that.

In polite society it is said not to be the proper thing for a man to wink. Some men are afflicted that way.

That Texas woman who was robbed of $43,500 seems to have been about as careless with her coin as the average Texan is with his 44.

If you have the slightest doubt about Pensacola's greatness and attractiveness, just query Manager Joe Birmingham of the Cleveland Naps.

An eastern clergyman admonishes his flock: "Let your enemies kiss you." That practice has been in vogue from time immemorial among the women folks.

The Polk county edition of the Tampa Tribune was replete with interesting facts and figures concerning one of South Florida's most prosperous counties and reflected much credit upon that enterprising paper.

Most successful from every viewpoint is the Florida Chautauqua in session at DeFuniak Springs. Large and enthusiastic audiences have greeted the various entertainers each day since the opening and the citizens of that delightful little city are very greatly pleased with the prospects.

J. A. Crosby, who has for twenty-two years owned and edited the San Mateo Item, has disposed of his interests to Thos. W. and G. S. Davis, experienced newspaper men. In his retirement from the journalistic field Mr. Crosby carries with him the best wishes of the Florida press.

It is unfortunate that Tampa was not located over in Polk instead of Hillsborough county, and we are inclined to believe that the Tribune will soon advocate a measure of some description to bring about the removal of all of its goods, chattels and hereditaments to a real live progressive and productive section of the state.

Didn't Hold It. "See here, Jorkins, didn't you say that it was optional with you to marry Miss Smithers?" "No, I didn't. I merely mentioned that I had the refusal of her hand."

SAID OF FLORIDA AND FLORIDIANS

Endorsement of the Press—With remarkable unanimity the newspapers of the state have endorsed the candidacy of Frank L. Mayes, editor of The Pensacola Journal, for the position of collector of the port of Pensacola. Mr. Mayes is doubly entitled to the office. First, because he is particularly efficient, and second because he did more than any other one man for Woodrow Wilson, our new president. Here's hoping that Brother Mayes will not only get the place, but that he will hold it so long that he will realize double the present fees from the progressiveness of the port.—Tallahassee True Democrat.

A Different Proposition—Speaking of "trusts," the Miami Daily Metropolis says: "The merchant trusts his buyer, the buyer trusts the manufacturer, the manufacturer trusts the man who sells him raw material. The consumer trusts the shopkeeper. The family trusts the cook. Husbands trust their wives. Children trust their parents." The Metropolis doesn't say anything about "the wife trusts the husband." Don't this go in Miami, George?—DeLand News.

Where Every Prospect Pleases—The editor of the True Democrat knows that the west coast of Florida has many advantages over the east coast, in climate, beauty and tourist advantages, and this is the reason we are so anxious for its development. Speed the building of a great railroad that will hug the west coast as closely as does Mr. Flagler's line over on the east coast.—Tallahassee True Democrat.

Better Deal Next Time—The Star is sorry to see that the appropriation for the Tampa harbor has been cut from $200,000 to $100,000. Tampa bay is one of the great harbors of the world, and Ocala is greatly concerned in its improvement. We must all hope and work for a better deal next time.—Ocala Star.

Eyes on Joe's Job—Among the first wise and gracious and timely official acts of President Wilson will probably be an ukase which will put Joe Lee, up at Jacksonville, out of commission as collector of internal revenue for Florida. Joe is a sensible colored person and he is doubtless resigned to the inevitable.—Lakeland Telegram.

"A young lady, after searching the card catalogue, went to the desk and said: 'Can you tell me where I can find the details of the Jewish rebellion of A. D. 50?'"

"Consult Josephus, miss," the attendant answered. "Oh, thank you," said the young lady, and, turning to a little old man who was approaching, she began: "I have a question for you, Mr. Josephus?"—Detroit Free Press.

HIGH PRAISE FOR PENSACOLA

COL. ROBERT M'NAMEE, WELL KNOWN FLORIDIAN, SAYS THE CITY HAS BEEN TRANSFORMED AND WE HAVE BEST HOTEL IN STATE.

Hon. Robert McNamee, former speaker of the Florida house of representatives, for years one of the state's most prominent attorneys, and now general manager of Claude L'Enfer's Dixie, was in Pensacola yesterday, enroute home from Atlanta.

Col. McNamee had not been in Pensacola for six years and, to use his own words, he found what appeared to him, "a new city."

"I would hardly have known Pensacola," said Col. McNamee to a Journal representative. "It is a transformed city. Your street paving is the best I have ever seen and I am astonished and impressed with this wood block paving. The wood blocks make a beautiful pavement and, from all appearances, a very lasting one. The noiseless feature of this pavement is one of its greatest advantages."

He was also greatly impressed with the San Carlos hotel. "I have been all over the state," said he, "and this is the best hotel in Florida."

Col. McNamee says the intention is to widen the scope of Dixie and ultimately to make a daily state paper of it. He believes another evening paper in Jacksonville, properly edited and managed, would prove an immediate success. He left last night for home.

BLUFF SPRINGS.

Bluff Springs, Fla., March 5.—Bluff Springs seems to be getting an infusion of spring blood in her veins, judging from appearances.

The W. O. W. have purchased the old Walker hotel and have about completed an entire renovation of the building. They now have a large and well arranged lodge room upstairs, and a hall with seating capacity for a large audience below. The whole building will be fitted with an up-to-date lighting system, and will soon be ready for occupancy.

Rev. W. M. Cox, presiding elder of the Pine Barren circuit of the Methodist church, met with the church members here at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A good-sized and appreciative audience listened to his sermon, the theme of which was the efficacy and need of prayer and sincere faith. He handled the subject in a simple, interesting and convincing manner, and so plainly were the great truths told that even a child might understand.

The members of the Baptist church here have in contemplation the painting of their church building, as have the Methodists. The Methodist church will begin having a new roof put on,

BIG AUDIENCES AT CHAUTAUQUA

DEFUNIACK SPRINGS IS ENJOYING LARGEST GATHERINGS IN YEARS AND ATTRACTIONS ARE BEST TALENT ON CHAUTAUQUA PLATFORM.

DeFuniak Springs, March 5.—Large audiences are attending all exercises at the Florida Chautauqua at DeFuniak Springs, Florida. Miss Julia Traylor has received her share of praise from young and old. Her rendition of "What a Two Month Old Baby Knows" and a "Child's Bear Story" have brought forth much favorable comment. Miss Traylor especially excels in child impersonation, and her rendition of the lighter vein made her justly popular.

The course of Shakespearean lectures by Dr. Bryon W. King are so far the great hit of the session. An average of seven hundred have attended these morning hours. Hamlet has been the theme, which has been handled in a masterful manner. Dr. King is a great actor as well as an impersonator and can portray both comedy and tragedy. It is difficult to say whether he excelled in Hamlet's soliloquy or in the Grave Digger's scene.

The Ida V. Kinley Musical Company is at the Chautauqua. The music on the bells was encored again and again, and the talking songs and comic productions of Mrs. Kinley have brought forth the largest audiences. All in all the Chautauqua is most prosperous. The attendance is the best in years.
