RIGID CENSORSHIP IS INSTALLED AT HERMOSILLA

Hermosilla, Mex., March 6.—A rigid censorship was installed here today by the Sonora state government which yesterday waved the banner of state rights in the face of the Huerta government. Officials of the new regime today seized the railway station and telegraph offices of the Southern Pacific of Mexico and placed all outgoing news under the ban. The censorship also applies to the commercial wires.

The railroad operator at Carbo, a nearby station, was told that if he allowed any more news to be transmitted he would be shot and that if he held of the threat to shoot him, he would be shot.

All train service except that conducted by the state authorities is annulled.

During the night volunteers arrived in great numbers in answer to the appeal of the state congress for men to combat any intrusion of Huerta troops.

SAYS GENERAL FELIX DIAZ IS POLISHED MAN

VISITOR TO PENSACOLA KNOWS HIM WELL AND DOES NOT THINK HE WAS AWARE OF THE PLOT TO MURDER MADERO.

"While I would not care to discuss or comment on the political situation in Mexico just at this time," said John J. Elsert, commissioner in charge of the Mexico exhibit car, which will be in the city for several days, "I have no objection to saying something about the personal side of Gen. Felix Diaz.

"I have followed the Mexican war news especially close as I only recently left the City of Mexico, where I was a guest of the American club, wrecked during the terrible ten-day bombardment in the capital, but I have never yet seen anything regarding the personality of Gen. Diaz, the man, who overthrew the Madero administration.

"I will tell you all I know about Gen. Diaz," said Mr. Elsert to a representative of The Journal at the San Carlos. "Gen. Diaz would never be taken for a Mexican. He looks more like an American athlete. He is a mite over six feet in height and there is nothing about him that would indicate that he was of Aztec origin.

"Gen. Diaz is a polished, educated, cultured gentleman and a man whom no one knowing him would for a minute suspect of having had anything to do with the conspiracy, if it was a conspiracy, to kill Madero and Suarez.

"Felix Diaz obtained his education in the military college of Mexico and abroad. He speaks English, French and Spanish fluently and German fairly well.

"He served in the federal army of Mexico under his uncle, former President Porfirio Diaz, and at the time President Diaz was forced to leave the country, held the title of brigadier general. At that time he had personal knowledge of the secret service department of the government. He was serving in this capacity when the penitentiary in Mexico City was built and had much to do in suggestions about the construction of the prison.

"After Madero came into power Gen. Diaz resigned from the government service and went to Spain, where he remained until a short time before he started his ill-fated revolution at Vera Cruz."

A TRIPLE ALLIANCE IS INFORMALLY FORMED

New York, March 6.—A triple alliance of Venezuela, Colombia and Nicaragua is said by South American consular agents here to have been formed informally by these governments to prevent any return of the deposed President Castro to Venezuela. Francisco Escobar, consul general of Colombia, said today that his government had three naval vessels patrolling the Colombian coast, which had been instructed to thwart any landing of a Castro force.

General Castro, who arrived in New York last night from Washington, where he witnessed the inauguration ceremonies, laughed at these reports, reiterating his denial of any intention of engaging in fomenting revolutions in Venezuela or Nicaragua. He said he would depart shortly to rejoin his family in Europe. He contracted a severe cold upon returning from his recent trip to Cuba, and expects to remain quietly at his hotel here for several days.

A salute of 21 guns fired from the ramparts of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul at 8 o'clock this morning ushered in the ceremonies in the capital and from that time on constantly growing crowds thronged the gaily decorated streets.

The feature of the day was the imperial procession to the Kazan cathedral, where the emperor and empress were greeted by the metropolitan, bearing the cross and vessel of holy water. Pops rang out from all the church bells in the city as the imperial party entered.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT'S CHIEF CLERK RESIGNS

Washington, March 6.—Charles G. Thompson, chief clerk of the postoffice department, who did much of the executive work of organizing the parcel post, resigned today to become general purchasing agent of the United States Express Company. Charles A. Lutz, chief examiner of carriers' accounts for the Interstate Commerce Commission, resigned to become comptroller of the same company. Their employment is part of a plan, it was said, for a general reorganization of the executive staff of the express company. Other companies are said to be planning similar changes to meet the new requirements which will be imposed as a result of the Interstate Commerce Commission's recent investigation of their rates and practices.

STOMACH MISERY JUST VANISHES

TIME IT! NO INDIGESTION, GAS OR SOURNESS FIVE MINUTES AFTER TAKING "PAPE'S DIAPESIN."

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapessin costs only fifty cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases. Then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diapessin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion. (Adv.)

Will Develop Resources of Southern States

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Baltimore, March 6.—Resolutions authorizing the appointment of a finance committee and committee on agriculture and developing the agricultural, commercial and industrial resources of the southern states, were adopted at a meeting of the executive committee of the southern settlement and development organization here today. Both committees will be appointed by Chairman S. Davies Warfield, of Baltimore.

The organization was founded in Baltimore a year ago and has made rapid strides in the work of studying the resources and potentialities of the southern states. It has directed public attention in this country and abroad to the opportunities in the South and in making an endeavor to attract capitalists, investors, desirable immigrants, experienced farmers, and agricultural laborers.

Mr. Warfield reviewed the history of the organization and explained its objects, the principal one of which, he said, was to secure desirable immigration for colonization of vast areas of unoccupied land in the South. He said it was hoped to get co-operation of the state government, the railroads serving the territory and commercial organizations.

To make the organization a success, Mr. Warfield continued, not only a great deal of money was required, but men who have constructive genius. He estimated that $100,000 a year would be necessary to carry on the work planned.

A general discussion showed that the keenest interest in the movement had been aroused all over the South. It was agreed that a strong central organization to guide and control the work was required and ample assurances were made that the necessary funds would be forthcoming.

A committee was appointed to select a vice-president and general manager of the organization.

WAS BURNED TO DEATH WHILE ON WAY TO WAR

GEORGE CAPAIS, A PENSACOLA GREEK, DIED FROM EFFECTS OF INJURIES RECEIVED ABOARD STEAMER ENROUTE FROM PENNA. TO SALONICA TO JOIN ARMY.

Of the one hundred or more Greeks who left Pensacola to fight in the war with the Turks none of them have been killed in battle, but one of them died from the effects of burns received aboard a passenger steamer while enroute to Salonica. It was George Capais, who conducted a store at the corner of Coyle and Jackson streets. Capais was about twenty-two years old and was well-known in this city.

Capais, with a number of other Greeks boarded the steamer at Pensacola a short distance from Athens, and were traveling as second-class passengers. The steamer had about 100 demijohns of alcohol on deck and shortly after entering the Gulf of Lauris the rolling of the vessel caused a number of the demijohns to break and shortly afterwards the alcohol ignited in an unknown manner, the flames causing a panic among the second-class passengers.

Capais and five other Greeks left their room and attempted to pass through the blaze, but in doing so their clothing caught fire and they were so badly burned that all six of them died shortly afterwards.

The alcohol ignited about 4 o'clock in the morning, but was extinguished without doing much damage to the ship. Capais died about January 25 and news of the accident on the vessel and his death was received in Pensacola in letters from a relative and friends of the deceased.

Greeks Take a Fortress and 32,000 Troops

fore the Greek assaults and the attack on the principal fortifications was gradually pressed home. It was not known until this morning how many Turkish troops were in the city, estimates heretofore varying from 18,000 to 30,000 men. The population numbered 22,000, mostly Greeks. The fortifications, which had alone been considered strong, were antiquated and could not resist modern cannon.

Provisions throughout the siege had been plentiful, as Janina is a center of the grain trade.

Check is Found for $41,000 on an Elkhart Bank

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Chicago, March 6.—A small black purse containing a check for $41,000 on the State Bank of Elkhart, Ind., made payable to "H. L. Stevens" and signed "Mrs. Mabel Mills," was found on the sidewalk at North Clark street and Center avenue last night by Wm. J. Dibos, a saloonkeeper at 2109 North Halsted street.

While the find appeared on the surface to be genuine the police could not disregard the theory of a hoax. This theory was strengthened by the fact that Mrs. Mills had no account at the Elkhart bank; that she and Stevens apparently have had no business relations, and by the statement of E. W. Mills, Mrs. Mills' husband, at Kansas City, that it is "absolute nonsense."

The signature on the check was pronounced spurious at the Union Trust Company bank where Mrs. Mills' signature is on file.

Dibos turned the check over to the police. It is dated March 1, 1913, the date on which Mrs. Mills, now at Kansas City, claims to have lost or been in some manner deprived of $41,000 in thousand dollar bills.

Mrs. Mills had taken dinner with Mrs. H. L. Stevens, wife of the man whose name is the same as that appearing on the check found by the saloon man. She is supposed to have lost the money that evening after leaving the Stevens home, which is in the suburbs of Evanston, several miles north of the spot where the check was found.

In the purse also were a number of newspaper clippings recounting real estate offers, some of which had been checked off. Mrs. Mills is in the real estate business at San Antonio, Texas, her home.

Over the telephone Frank A. Sage, assistant cashier of the First State Bank of Elkhart, Ind., stated that Mrs. Mills has no account there.

Kansas City, March 6.—"That is absolute nonsense," said E. W. Mills, husband of Mrs. Mabel Mills, when informed that a check for $41,000 signed by his wife had been found on a street in Chicago. "Either the report is based on false information or the check is the work of a joker."

Wilson Receives Congratulations of Kings

to Secretary Bryan by Ambassador Jusserand, the dean of the corps. CABINET ENTHUSIASTIC. When the cabinet meeting broke up the members talked enthusiastically of their first official experience around the cabinet table.

"The thing that impressed me most," said Secretary Lane, "was the extreme modesty of the man at the head of the table. He listened with every consideration and decided without the slightest hesitation what should be done. He seems to have an administrative mind."

Col. E. M. House, of Austin, Texas, who is said to have brought the president's attention to some of the men he chose as advisers, chatted with the president and members of the cabinet after the session.

Secretary Tumulty, speaking for the president, announced that the cabinet had devoted its attention chiefly to the work of organization. He said that some of the assistant secretaries had been discussed.

Those callers who talked with the president about the plan of the house leaders, declared they believed he had not made up his mind but thought he considered currency legislation as well as anti-trust legislation two important subjects which should not be delayed. Some of them said, however, that Mr Wilson realized that in dealing with three such important subjects, the intricacies of the legislative situation was to be considered.

House leaders want to pass the tariff bills as quickly as possible, send them to the senate and then instead of talking up other legislation such as currency reform, have the house adjourn for periods of three days at a time. Their object in this, it was said, was to have the senate the only body doing business, so that the eyes of the nation could be focused upon it and attention would not be diverted to other subjects.

In the opinion of some house leaders this would enable President Wilson and the democrats in the senate through their own power and the force of public attention to get such tariff legislation as the democratic platform declared to be necessary.
