Exclusive Good Templars.

MR. EDITOR:—I am not a teetotaller, but have always been a temperance man, and have thought a great deal about the temperance reform, as a great and good work. In my way, at one time and another, I have done something in aid of the cause of redeeming fallen humanity from the thralls of the demon strong drink. I have watched with deep interest the progress of the Order of Good Templars in this city, have seen with pleasure their increase in numbers and in public favor, and until recently, I have been strongly tempted to join and become one of them, so strongly impressed have I been of the importance of their cause as a social reform movement. But now my enthusiasm on behalf of the Good Templars has received a severe check, and in an unpleasant and unexpected manner. I am told that it is an extremely exclusive body, in which the rules of caste and race are rigidly observed,—so rigidly indeed, that any person having a single drop of Hawaiian blood in their veins is denied admittance to the Lodge. This actually is the case, as I am credibly informed, at least in regard to one of the Lodges—the one that convenes at the lower end of King Street. A respectable woman, with her husband, who was an industrious mechanic, was denied admittance to that Lodge for no other reason than because her mother was an aboriginal Hawaiian, although her father was one of the "superior race." Can anything be more insanely ridiculous than this attempt, from such a source, and in such a cause,—in Hawaii nei, the kanaka's own country,—to set up distinction of caste and color! It is not only extremely silly, but it is insolent, and a direct insult by casting contempt, (or attempting to) upon many of the best people in the country, who have native families; besides being an indignity to the King and Government. And what becomes of the God-like charity, which it is declared, is one of the main principles of this Order? I had supposed from their professions, that for the sake of their noble cause they were only too ready to extend the hand of brotherhood to any and all of God's creatures. But it seems that their Temperance Paradise is limited to the accommodation of "blue bloods" only—no half-white need apply. Probably they expect to find similar rules of exclusiveness in the other world—but alas, the tables may be turned on them there.

No, Mr. Editor, I shall not join these exclusively "Good" Templars of Honolulu, at present.

COSMOPOLITE.

[From Semi-Weekly Advertiser, Nov. 5]

The Good Templars not Exclusive—A Reply to "Cosmopolite."

MR. EDITOR:—In your SEMI-WEEKLY COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER of October 31st, I find a communication signed "Cosmopolite," and headed "Exclusive Good Templars." As that communication contains some grave misstatements, I shall feel much obliged if you will allow me to reply to him through your columns.

"Cosmopolite," in speaking of the Order of Good Templars, says, "I am told that it is an extremely exclusive body, in which the rules of caste and race are rigidly observed, so rigidly indeed that any person having a single drop of Hawaiian blood in their veins, is denied admittance to the Lodge. This actually is the case, as I am credibly informed, at least in regard to one of the lodges,—the one that convenes at the lower end of King street," referring, Mr. Editor, to Ultima Thule Lodge, No. 1, I. O. G. T., as that is the only one in that place.

Now I am in a position to deny this statement as made above in toto. On the contrary, the only qualifications necessary for any person to possess in order to be eligible for membership in Ultima Thule Lodge, No. 1, I. O. G. T., are distinctly stated on the record of that Lodge,—that they shall be of a good moral character, and be able to understand the English language intelligibly. As proof positive of this being the law of that Lodge, I here state that there is now a member in good standing in that Lodge, who attends the meetings of it regularly, and shares alike with the white members in all the privileges of membership, a full blooded half-white, Miss Emma J. Mitchell, whose father is one of the oldest members in the Lodge and a white man, and whose mother was a full blooded Hawaiian.

Now, Mr. Editor, that these are facts, any member of that Lodge in good standing will inform you, or a visit to the Lodge room, and an inspection of the Lodge record and roll, will prove it beyond a doubt; and I shall be most happy to accompany any one wishing to satisfy himself to the Lodge room and exhibit the above proofs.

Again. "Cosmopolite" further states that, "A respectable woman with her husband, who is an industrious mechanic, were denied admittance to Ultima Thule Lodge No. 1, for no other reason than because her mother was an aboriginal Hawaiian, although her father was one of the superior race." In this statement there is one error, and also, an assertion, that cannot be proved by the facts of the case. The error is in saying, "with her husband." I most positively state that her husband did not apply at all. He was formerly a member of this Lodge, but took a clearance card some months since and has never made any application for readmission. The assertion is that she was refused admittance on account of her Hawaiian blood.

Now, Mr. Editor, how is "Cosmopolite," or any one else, even though a member of the Lodge, and present at the time, to know this, can he or they look into the hearts of those who blackballed this applicant, (supposing it to be known who they are, which is next to impossible, the ballot being secret) and read the reason of their so doing?

That she was blackballed I admit, but as it appears that those who have Hawaiian blood in their veins are admitted as members, as proven by the actual presence in the Lodge of one half-white now a member, and by the law in regard to qualifications necessary for membership; how can "Cosmopolite," or any one else, say that that was reason she was rejected. He, or his informant, may be under the impression that that was the reason, but they cannot know it.

In every secret order it requires but very few black balls to reject an applicant, (in this Order of Good Templars it requires five black balls) and even taking "Cosmopolite's" ground that she was rejected on account of Hawaiian blood, which I do not believe, is it just to condemn the whole Lodge of nearly one hundred members, for the action of a few, or to declare, (as "Cosmopolite" does) that the whole order preach, but do not practice charity?

A few words more and I am done. The qualification requiring an intelligible understanding of the English language, was made on account of the work of the Lodge being conducted in English, and to avoid having to interpret everything. In Queen Emma Lodge No. 2, the language used in the work is the Hawaiian, its members being composed of Hawaiians, half-white, and several whites, whose relatives being there, and they also understanding the language, preferred joining that Lodge. The members of Queen Emma No. 2 visit Ultima Thule No. 1, and vice versa, and I have yet to hear of the first instance of a want of attention, or an intentional slight, thrown upon a visitor in either Lodge.

Lastly, Mr. Editor, I would ask if "Cosmopolite" is not a member of the Order, (of which fact I must say I have my doubts) how comes he to be so well informed of the working, and business transactions of an Order claiming to hold their meetings in secret session.

And now Mr. Editor, please excuse the length of this communication, but I know what an amount of good the Lodge, and the Order have done myself, and others, and I love it too well to allow such an attack to pass unnoticed, when I had the means of refuting it, and I could not well do so in fewer words.

Yours respectfully,
W. M. WALLACE.
Secretary of
Ultima Thule Lodge, No. 1, I. O. G. T.

[In inserting the foregoing, we embrace the opportunity of observing that it is in extremely bad taste, when one writes an article for publication in a newspaper, to show it around publicly before sending it to the Editor. The above letter appears to have been considerably published before it was printed, for we heard of its contents fully a day before the mss. reached us. As to the matter controversy, we presume that "Cosmopolite" will answer for himself.—ED. P. C. A.]

[From Semi-Weekly Advertiser, Nov. 7.]

"Cosmopolite" Responds.

MR. EDITOR—Allow me a little of your space by way of a rejoinder to the "Secretary of Ultima Thule Lodge No. 1, I. O. G. T.," whose wordy reply to my letter appears in Tuesday's Semi-Weekly. I could have wished, for the credit of that particular Lodge and of the Good Templar organization generally, that a less windy and more temperate advocate had come forward. He begins by denying, "in toto," that persons are refused admittance into his Lodge because they have native blood in their veins, and in proof indelicately parades before the public the name of a certain young lady, whom he styles "a full blooded half-white"—a new species of the genus homo, to which I confess myself a stranger—and who he says is now a member in good standing. I have been told some of the circumstances which caused finally a relaxation of the rule—not of the Lodge, but of some of its members—whereby she was admitted. But let that pass. The voluble Secretary tells us a good many things that we did not know before, among which is the fact that "in every secret society" (of course he must belong to them all) "it requires but very few black balls to reject an applicant," and that his Lodge claims to hold their meetings in secret session. The meetings may be secret, but a good deal of what is said and done in those meetings is notoriously no secret whatever. That is my experience in regard to his Lodge. But he tells us also that there is a law of his Lodge distinctly stating that the only qualifications necessary for any person to possess in order to be eligible for membership in "Ultima Thule Lodge, No. 1, I. O. G. T.," (how he delights to dwell on the aristocratic, high-toned title) are that they shall be of good moral character, and be able to understand the English language intelligibly. Now as the Secretary insists that the lady whose case was first referred to, was not rejected because she was a half-caste, and as I know that she understands English as well as the Secretary, all his long tirade of words can amount only to this—a base insinuation against her good moral character. That is all that I can make out of his piling up of talk, and I must suppose that he is prepared to back up the statement. To conclude, I repeat that I am sorry the Lodge of which this person signs himself the Secretary had not a more discreet advocate to put forward; and that he has failed to convince me that a low-bred pride of race does not exist in its membership sufficient to exclude worthy persons of any known shade of native Hawaiian blood.

The worthy Secretary, in a manner quite worthy of himself, insinuates that I am a Good Templar. I am neither that, nor a "full blooded half-white," but am quite willing to inform him that I am a "full blooded" Hawaiian, one whose principles are those of a
