

The Rivals.

It is a long time since we have seen a story which has been so popular as the one which we publish to-day. It is a story of a king who was so kind and so good...

One Thing and Another.

The London underground railway covers 45,000,000 passengers annually, traversing a line of 11 miles or more, and stopping 21 times in the course of 55 minutes.

Variety.

A poor line of business.—A clothes line. Light employment.—Labouring under a weight. American "Settlers"—Gle and kind brandy cocktails.

The French Sardine Trade.

The French sardine trade has reached such dimensions that it is said to be worth £20,000,000 sterling in annually expended on cod and mackerel for bait in this fishery.

A Botanical Curiosity.

"A flowering fern," says the Geologist, "is acknowledged to be one of the curiosities of nature. Among botanists it has long been a disputed question whether such a natural phenomenon existed in the colony."

Angora Goat Fleeces.

We recently published an extract from a letter to the "Country Gentleman," showing that the fleece of the Angora goat in the Southern States was to be counted by ounces instead of pounds.

Religious Body Resolved.

A religious body having resolved to build a new church, the pastor went about begging most ardently, accepting not only the widow's but the children's mite.

That's What I've Been Telling Emily.

Canada's bright and sensible Governor-General, Lord Dufferin, has given the Dominion people a new-by-word, which has spread with electric rapidity from one end of Canada to the other.
